Sioux City Journal, 11: Mrs. A. L. Fletcher, of South Sioux City, who underwent an operation at St. Vincent's hospital Thursday evening was improved yesterday. The Sioux City high school scrubs yesterday threw off the "jinx" which has followed the team all season and took the South Sioux City high school team in camp with a 13 to 7 score. The game was devoid of penalties and rough playing except when Sioux City was penalized in the first quarter for offside. The local scrubs, although starting in with a crippled lineup, had the edge on their neighbors in both weight and height. In the first quarter Haskins, Sioux City's left half, fumbled to Gasser, South Sioux City's right half, who carried the ball from the 40-yard line across the goal line. Lopp kicked goal. The second quarter showed no advantage for either side. The game picked up in the second half when Knott received a forward pass on the 30-yard line and crossed the line. Younger missed the goal. Sioux City again scored in the last quarter when Hogan received a pass from Nugent on South Sioux City's 40-yard line. Younger Kicked goal. Much fumbling prevented the locals from rolling up a larger score. Hogan, Nugent and Younger played the stellar roles for Sioux City high, while Gasser and Lopp did much in helping their team in holding Coach Long's youngsters. The lineup:

SCHOOL NOTES.

By Clarence Linton.

George and Effie Sharp enrolled in the fifth grade last week.

Viola Fueston, of Seward, Neb., visited her friends in the intermediate grades Thursday.

The sixth grade are memorizing "The Landing of the Pilgrims," for their language work.

The primary department is studying the Pilgrims for their language work. They are also greatly interested in some new folk songs and games.

The first year class in English has just completed the study of "The Merchant of Venice," and is now beginning the study of "Silas Marner."

George Lahrs was absent from school Monday on account of the snow.

Willie Powell returned to school Monday.

The following program was given in the high school Friday: "Life of Harold Bell Wright,"—Anna Evans. Current Events.—Harry Ebel. Life of O. Henry.—Ben Leech. October and June.—Dottie Cain. Witches' Loaves.—Marie Lischke.

The senior class has just finished their work in twelfth grade grammar and are taking up geography for the remaining weeks of the semester.

Miss Shreiner attended the Omaha teachers' meeting Thursday and Friday. She reports a most excellent program and will pass on to the other teachers some of those things at our next teachers' meeting.

The teaching corps wishes to express its appreciation of the cooperation of parents and children in making the school parade a success. Every pupil marched and did his best to make it worth while.

We greatly appreciate the loyal support of the community for our foot ball game with South Sioux City.

It is possible that a game will be played with a "pick up" team from Sioux City high school this Friday if the snow goes off sufficiently.

We are wishing for good weather and trying to get into the best condition for the Thanksgiving game with Walthill.

Looking Backward.

Sioux City Journal, Nov. 10, 1896: Frank Buckwalter, a commission man of Homer, Neb., was in the city yesterday. Mr. Buckwalter said that along the wagon road leading from Homer to Sioux City thousands of bushels of corn were stored in the cribs, and great piles were left in the fields, there being no place to crib it. He said not nearly all of the crop, which is the finest in the history of Dakota county, had as yet been gathered from the fields.

Government Crop Report

A summary of preliminary estimates of crop production for the state of Nebraska as compiled by the Bureau of Crop Estimates U. S. Department of Agriculture, is as follows:

Corn—Estimate this year, 194,000,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 213,000,000 bushels.

Wheat—October estimate, 66,237,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 72,154,000 bushels.

Oats—October estimate, 79,662,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 90,400,000 bushels.

Barley—October estimate, 2,940,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 3,255,000 bushels.

Potatoes—Estimate this year, 8,100,000 bushels; production last year (final estimate), 11,550,000 bushels.

Hay—September estimate, 3,703,000 tons; production last year (final estimate), 4,290,000 tons.

Apples—Estimate this year, 570,000 barrels; production last year (final estimate), 1,267,000 barrels.

Prices—The first price given below is the average on November 1 this year, and the second, the average on November 1 last year.

Wheat, 160 and 84 cents per bushel. Corn, 79 and 53. Oats, 42 and 29. Potatoes, 123 and 40. Hay, $6.00 and $5.90 per ton. Eggs, 28 and 23 cents per dozen.

GENERAL REVIEW OF CROP CONDITIONS IN STATE NOVEMBER 1

The yields of corn range from very poor in some of the southern counties to an excellent crop in many of the eastern and northeastern counties. It happens that the greatest drought damage occurred in the winter wheat belt where the acreage of corn is not as large or important. Corn is far from normal but is a good average crop for the state. The quality is generally excellent as there was only a very slight damage from frost and the weather has been most ideal for proper drying.

Winter wheat and oats weigh out well, the average weight per bushel being higher than usual. Spring wheat and barley are somewhat light in average weight per bushel due to damage from rust and drought.

The yields of potatoes in the eastern part of the state are generally disappointing except the earliest planted fields. In the western commercial sections, the yields exceeded expectations. The average yield for the state is less than 75 per cent of a normal crop.

The total production of apples is considerably less than a half crop. Many of the farm orchards are so badly infested with fungous diseases and insects that a marketable product cannot be produced. The commercial orchards generally produce a very high class of fruit but as yet this industry is quite limited.
