SCHOOL NOTES.

By Clarence Linton.
The regular work was held in the high school last Friday instead of the usual literary program.

Marguerite Schriever was excused Friday morning to write on state examination subjects at the court house.

The eleventh grade is now taking up a general review of their year's work in plane geometry preparatory to taking the state examination in the subject in January.

The eleventh and twelfth grades have just finished a study of Cooper and have each written a review of a book read. Bryant's poems are now being studied.

The first geometry class is having a difficult time to understand that if a frog is on a log and jumps half the distance of the log the first jump, and half the remaining distance each successive jump, it can never get off the log.

Miss Shreiner gave an interesting report of the Omaha teachers' meeting at the regular meeting of the teachers Tuesday morning.

There are a few cases of irregular attendance in the high school. This is a serious handicap to the students and often results in failure to make passing grades. A student cannot be absent two days out of each week and be successful in his work without an exceptional amount of home study.

The teaching corps wishes again to invite the cooperation of parents in all matters pertaining to the school. We are your servants. Why not give us your confidence and let us know your problems and grievances? A school cannot do its best work if its short-comings are the talk of the community and no effort is made to cooperate with the teaching force. Please call at the school personally or call by telephone and every courtesy will be shown you.

Volley ball has been the game of absorbing interest during the past week. We expect some very good sport during the winter between the high school classes and possibly outside teams.

Foot ball practice was resumed Monday. A practice game will be played Friday with a scrub team from Sioux City high school. We are making every effort to get into condition for the Thanksgiving game.

The Youth's Companion Calendar for 1917.

The publishers of The Youth's Companion are presenting, as always at this season, to every subscriber whose subscription is paid for 1917, a calendar for the new year. It is decidedly unusual, and strikingly artistic. The colors are well chosen and richly blended. It was made primarily, however, for actual use, and is well named the Practical Home Calendar.

Lutheran Church Notes

DAKOTA CITY-SALEM

The Salem Ladies' Aid meet this Thursday with Mrs. Edwin Morgan, at 2 p. m.

The Immanuel Ladies' Aid will meet this next Wednesday evening at the home of the Misses Lapsley.

Do you think the church is sociable, or don't you? Some people think the churches, any of them, is cold and indifferent to strangers. Some people are so distant in their nature you can't warm up to them at all, and it is human nature to think the other fellow is the queer man; we are all so used to ourselves, you see.

Paul says: "I know nothing against myself," and then, honest man that he was, he added, "but I am not thereby justified." He recognized that after all there were some faults in himself. Few of us ought to blame the other fellow with everything.

The Aid societies are largely social societies, that is their purpose in a large measure. Did it ever strike you that the men ought to have some sort of social society in the church? There are lots of churches that have them. No, they are not called Men's Aid societies, but they aid a wonderful lot, not financially, O, no, but in a get-together-way, just socially—and general interest. These are called Brotherhoods. It would do as much among the men as the Aid among the women.

Did you ever try to so arrange your work that you could get to church every Sunday for a quarter? Just try it once and see what comes of it. Consider first that there is not more than two hours asked of you at the "House of the Assembly." Two hours of the twenty-four for worship and study of God's Word. And remember that is only one day of the week. Further, isn't it true that is all the time the Word of God gets from many and all the worship many do all the week, and when you do not "praise the Lord in the assembly of the upright and in the congregation," you have lost the opportunity of the whole week and all the good attendant upon such worship. There is nothing that can take the place of church attendance in your life, and you cannot afford, as you value your soul and hope for eternal life, to neglect this very thing. It is largely a matter of arranging your work. Many times it is not a matter of work at all, but it is that extra sleep on Sunday morning. That puts you back all the morning and you do not get around to the services. Then you blame the work, when it is your own self, that nap. Be honest with your self. Let the God of heaven and earth take care of your stuff while you go to the house of worship. His promises are that he will aid thereunto, and the history of the case bears it out.

We are certainly gratified at the large number of boys there were at the church services last Sunday. We had a message for them, we were full of it, and the young men were interested in the theme all the way through. We spoke on the work of the ministry for them. This is the first of a number of such sermons we have outlined to preach. Last Sunday we looked at it from an angle such as many boys view it and question it. The parents should have been at the church too, last Sunday morning to see what a fine showing their boys and girls really did make and to hear what kind of inspiration and exhortation the pastor was giving their sons when he spoke especially to them. The pastor appreciates the confidence of the parents in trusting it all to him, when you think whatever he says to them will be all right, we will not abuse this confidence and privilege, but we would appreciate your presence.

We were pleased with the good number of visitors, Sunday night, from our sister church. Thank you, friends. There ought to be a good feeling of cordiality between the churches as was manifest in your presence with us. We know from experience that when a warm spirit prevails between the churches in a town, they all prosper better.

Our ladies are surprised and greatly pleased at the success of their sale and supper last Friday afternoon and evening. Their thanks are to their friends who gave them such kindly patronage. They now have a heart to go ahead to fix up the room and make it still more presentable and inviting.

The pastor spent Saturday afternoon at the county Sunday school convention. Miss Brown explained the new work of the Beginners department and Mr. Kimberley conducted Sunday school round table. That is all the report we can make of the convention.

REV. C. R. LOWE.

M. E. Church Notes.

The pastor will preach at both services on Sunday next. Subjects, at 11 a. m., "Unfamiliar Aspects of a Familiar Command." At 8 p. m., "Contented Life."

An official board meeting will be held on Monday next at 8 p. m. The place of meeting will be announced Sunday. Some matters of great importance to the church will be on the agenda. Every official member should make an effort to be present.

James Alloway, sr., and wife and Will Leamer and wife, were dinner guests at the E. S. Redden home Sunday.

County Judge S. W. McKinley and family and Miss Gertrude McKinley autoed down from South Sioux Sunday and spent the afternoon at the B. McKinley home.

Miss Dorothy Smith returned to Montecello, Ia., Friday, after a six weeks' visit with relatives in Homer.

Mrs. B. McKinley visited relatives in South Sioux the week-end.

Rev. Pendell returned Wednesday of last week from a visit to his son in Morningside, Ia.

Ed Harris informs us that the report of his marriage to his cousin, Miss Johanna Harris, was a false report from start to finish.

Miss Clara Larsen was an incoming passenger from the north Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Tom Murphy was a Walthill passenger Friday.

Mrs. Don Hall and baby arrived from Minnesota Monday to visit her parents, Bud Orr and wife. They are moving to Sioux City where they will reside in the future.

Mrs. Ella Bruce and children, Gladys and Art, returned from Wyoming Tuesday and will have rooms with Mrs. Sadie Richards.

Mrs. L. R. Smith was a Sioux City visitor the last of the week.

About twenty friends of Miss Daisy Thacker surprised her Tuesday evening, March 21, and helped her celebrate her 18th birthday. A fine lunch was served at a late hour and her guests dispersed with many good wishes for many returns.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Pearl McCrutchan, of Mona, Wyo., a daughter.

Hans Anderson and Warren Kinneer are working on the Probst building to get M. Mason's room ready for the removal of his drug store and the transfer of the post office by the 1st of December.

Mrs. John H. Ream, Mrs. Mary McBeath and Mrs. Geo. McBeath were among the visitors from Dakota City at the Sunday school convention.

The Sunday school convention which was held here Saturday and Sunday was well attended at every meeting and a good deal of interest manifested. Part of the meetings were in the Lutheran church, the rest in the M. E. church. The pictures of life in China were very interesting, showing how christianity has improved that benighted country.
