R. Olofson and Miss Marguerite Harrison were married at Dakota City, Neb. The groom is Emerson's young jeweler and one of the active business men of the town. He has been in town about two years and his faculty for gaining acquaintances is such that the whole town knows him as "Len." The bride is a Sioux City girl, the eldest daughter of R. M. Harrison of that place, and has often visited here. People like her best who know her best, and Emerson is looking forward with pleasure to the time when she will make this her home. The bride and groom left after the wedding for a short trip to St. Paul, Minn., and will be home the latter part of this week. They will start house keeping in the Phillips house.

Allen News: W. J. Armour of Sioux City, was in Allen on business Tuesday....Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warner left Saturday evening for McGregor, Minn., where they were called by the death of the former's mother. They returned home Wednesday evening....This community was saddened last Monday morning at the news of the death of Mrs. Walter Lyle after a suffering of long duration. Cora Estella Hall was born July 22, 1851, in Jones county, Iowa, and died June 11, 1917, at Allen, Neb., at the age of 65 years, 10 months and 19 days. She was married to Walter Lyle on September 7, 1896, in Chicago. During the following year they came to Nebraska and lived in this community until a few years ago when they went to Minnesota. Mr. and Mrs. Lyle were pioneers in the hotel industry in both Waterbury and Allen and Mrs. Lyle formed many strong and lasting friendships during that time. Having suffered from the affliction which caused her death, it was deemed wise to consult a specialist and she was taken to Sioux City, Iowa. It being of a very serious nature, and no hope for complete recovery, she was later brought to Allen to the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. P. Gaughran, where she might spend the remainder of her life with loved ones, who most tenderly cared for her in her suffering hours. Those who who remain to mourn her loss, most of whom were present at the last, are: her husband, and children; J. O., of Russell, Minnesota; Mrs. P. P. Gaughran, of Allen, Nebraska; Bert F. of Tracy, Minnesota; Leo N., of Dickinson, N. D.; Mrs. George A. Nordyke, of Sioux City, Iowa; Tom W., of Tracy, Minnesota; Earl W., of Sioux City, Iowa; and William A., of Hartington, Nebraska. Also four sisters and one brother. Some weeks before her death she expressed the wish that she might keep the promise made to her mother and prepare to meet her Master and Savior. According to her wish she was received into the Lutheran church of this city into whose fellowship she was most cordially received. Soon afterward she was told of the seriousness of her affliction. No one will ever know the suffering of the closing days, but her call to the better life relieved her of the pains of that which is mortal. Into His hands we commend her spirit, and express our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family in their sorrow and commend them to the faith in which their mother left them.

"NEBRASKA"

Nebraska, O Nebraska, Thee we obey! Jewelled with the Night, Nebraska, Diademed with Day! Nebraska, O Nebraska, Land with promise blest, Brightest of the stars emblazoned, Queen of the West!

Here the splendors of the prairies Greet the splendors of the skies, And the green of Earth immingles With the blue of Paradise! Here the dance of dewy cornfields Flashes welcome to the sun, And the singing winds make music When the toll of day is done!

Nebraska, O Nebraska, Mother of States! Golden hope shall greet, Nebraska, All who seek thy gates! Nebraska, O Nebraska, Home shall be thy sod While thy prairies yield in fruitage Bounty of God!

M. E. Church Notes.

F. J. AUCOCK, Pastor. The special service and social held last Wednesday was a success. A good number assembled and entered heartily in the devotional service. The address of the Rev. Williams, of Wakefield, was greatly enjoyed. After that the social gathering of the members and friends of the church was entered into with a good spirit. The refreshments were provided by the pastor and his wife.

The Ladies' Aid meets Friday with Mrs. R. E. Evans. The fourth—and last—quarterly conference will probably be held on July 3. This is not only the last conference of the year but also the last at which Dr. Hosman will preside. His six years administration of the Norfolk district has been eminently successful. He has lifted it from a lowly position until it now ranks as one of the efficient districts of Methodism. It would be a nice thing if every official member at least, make an effort to meet him at the quarterly conference. Further announcement of this will be given next week.

The pastor is arranging to take his vacation the last two Sundays in July and the first in August.

Baseball and the War

The Nebraska State Journal has again arranged to publish full box scores on all National, American and Western league games throughout the season. Yet for those readers who maintain that base ball will wane in interest because of the war, The Journal will provide all of the war news it is compatible with public policy to print. Journal readers will receive the latest possible news as furnished by the Associated press, supplemented by special correspondence from Washington and wherever Nebraska troops may be sent. The price of a three months' subscription to The Journal is $1 daily or $1.25 with the big Sunday Journal.

Farm Notes.

Issued by the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

SODIUM FLUORIDE FOR LICE
Farmers' Bulletin No. 801, recently issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, recommends the use of sodium fluoride for the treatment of chicken lice. When used in powder form, it is sprinkled into the feathers, about the fluff, underneath the wings, on the neck, and on the under part of the body. It may also be used as a dip, in which case one ounce of the commercial powder is dissolved in one gallon of water. The entire body of the fowl, excepting the head, is immersed in this solution. One pound will treat 100 fowls, its cost being 40 to 50 cents a pound. Heretofore, sodium fluoride has been used effectively in eradicating cockroaches, and it was only recently accepted as good treatment for the eradication of the chicken louse. It is very effective, as it is said to kill one of the seven species of lice which infest chickens.

THIRD ORCHARD SPRAY
Orchardists who have not yet applied the third spray of the year, "the three weeks' spray," which is usually applied three weeks after the petals have fallen, are advised to do so at once by horticulture specialists at the University Farm. This spray is designed to control scab, blotch, and codling moth, and it is essential that every bit of exposed leaf and fruit surface be thoroughly covered with a thin film spray mixture. This mixture consists of 1 1/2 gallons of lime sulphur and 2 to 2 1/2 pounds of arsenate of lead paste (or 1 to 1 1/2 pounds of arsenate of lead powder) in 50 gallons of water. Further information will be sent upon application to the Department of Horticulture, University Farm, Lincoln, Nebraska.

POTATO INSECTS AND DISEASES
Many inquiries regarding the control of potato insects and diseases are being received from all parts of the state at the University Farm. For the control of early blight, the use of Bordeaux mixture is recommended. This is made by dissolving 4 to 5 pounds of bluestone (copper sulphate) in a gallon of water and diluting to make 25 gallons. This is thoroughly mixed with another solution made by dissolving 5 pounds of slaked stone lime in 25 gallons of water, thus making 50 gallons of Bordeaux mixture.

Paris green (1 pound to 50 gallons of Bordeaux mixture or water) is recommended for the control of leaf eating insects. Further information relative to spraying potatoes will be found in Emergency Bulletin No. 10, which will be sent free upon request to the Extension Service, University Farm, Lincoln.

WOOL BRINGS HIGH PRICES
About 12,000 pounds of wool were sold by Gage county farmers at a recent cooperative wool sale conducted in that county under the direction of the county agricultural agent, L. Boyd Rist. The average price received for the wool was 51 cents a pound, some farmers receiving as high as 55 cents. Buyers from Philadelphia, St. Joseph, Kansas City, and Omaha attended the sale. The sale is regarded as unusually satisfactory, and its success is credited to the County Farm Bureau which directs county agent work.

PICKLED PORK
Since becoming a luxury, many persons will make more use of pickled pork, a staple food in the past. When this pork is sufficiently freshened, dipped in corn meal, and fried at a moderate heat until it is crisp, it makes an excellent dish. It should not be greasy and should be served with plenty of fresh or canned vegetables.

HOMEMADE DRYING APPARATUS
Complete information regarding the making and operation of apparatus to dry fruits and vegetables with an electric fan or gasoline driven fan will be found in Emergency Bulletin No. 13, just issued by the College of Agriculture Extension Service. This bulletin will be sent free upon application to the Extension Service, University farm, Lincoln.

Boy Scout Liberty Bond Campaign

The Boy Scouts undertook the biggest job they have yet attempted when they answered President Wilson's call to sell Liberty bonds. Owing to some having joined the Army and others being engaged in farm work the Scout Master was only able to use six scouts each day. The campaign lasted three days, and the result is sufficient evidence of the industry of the boys and of the efficiency of the scout organization. The report is tabulated as follows:
