Soldiers' Letters

From Howard Rockwell. Ft. MacArthur, San Pedro, Cal

June 28, 1917. Dear Mother and Father: I arrived here yesterday without accident. Like it fine here and in regard to climate this beats them all. We came through Los Angeles and was surprised to see as large a city as it has grown to be. It has nearly 600, 000 population and some dandy buildings.

The fort is located about 28 miles from Los Angeles right by San Pedro. You know San Pedro is where Scott was for quite a while.

San Pedro has about 35,000, but belongs to the city of Los Angeles. This fort isn't completed yet but they have in some guns anyway A few of them shoot 24 miles and the rest shoot about 18 miles. The biggest ones are 57 feet long and of the disappearing type and is sure some gun.

Every thing is nice here and I think it would be nice to stay here after they get things fixed up. I think I will be back in southern California after the war is over. Be sure and address all letters to Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, Cal. How is every thing at home.

hope you are all feeling fine. Best regards to all and tell the rest of the boys there that I may see them in France. Best wisbes and write soon. Your son, Howard Rockwell.

From Chester Antrim. Ft. Winfield Scott, Cal., June 30, '17 Dear Sister Alta: Received your letter and was glad to hear from you. That was a fine picture of George and Buster, and I was glad to get it, but I didn't see any of the rest of you. Why didn't you send some of you all.

I got a letter from Frankie Forrest this morning and it was a nice one, too. I like to hear from little Sioux City. boys like Frank and George because they say such comical things.

Say, I played the dickens with myself the other day while we were standing in ranks. I had been sick large gash in my chin and darn near last week. bit the end of my tongue off. I can't Grace Wilkins was a caller in the any thing much since.

FARMER FEED EXPERTS.

[National Crop Improvement Service.]

A farmer who has devoted his lifetime to the study of feeding generally has more success through his common sense methods than any scientific analysis can supply. If such a feeder could have on hand all of the ingredients (most by-products of cereal manufacture), which according to the market at the time would be more economical, he could, through his experience, be very successful in mixing his feeds. But the difficulty with the average man is to maintain an economical ration from the products of his own farm. He may be an expert, if he chooses to study out a new ration every time John Ryan autoed to Elk Point, the market changes, but he generally D. one day last week, where he prefers to let someone who makes a business of mixing feeds do it for him. No doubt the majority of users of mixed feeds begin to buy it because of a shortage of forage and grain crops on the farm.

If such a man will keep books he will find that as a usual thing the use of mixed stock feed is a mere matter of arithmetic whether he could buy the ingredients cheaper than he could buy them in a so-called "balanced" ration.

MUST TASTE GOOD.

A dairy ration must, of all things, be palatable so that a cow will eat it. It must be bulky and coarse so as to avoid indigestion and sickness. It must contain a variety of foods so that the cow will not tire of it or get off her feed. It must contain enough Wynot, Neb., Saturday evening, real protein-all protein is not alike. where he spent over Sunday in the It must contain the right amount and kinds of mineral substances necessary to life, health and milk secretion. It must be highly digestible. Many feeds are only about fifty to sixty per cent digestible and the work of excreting so much waste matter is costly in that it uses up the energy of the food to do it.

SUCCESSFUL FEEDING.

It is most significant and probably he best argument for mixed feeds A number from here are planning when it is considered that a large skilled men in America have discarded their own mixed feeds and rations because they have found a satisfactory brand of feed which will make as much milk at less cost and no trouble and, above all, keeps cows

Many agricultural schools and experiment stations use and have used them for the same reason.

You can verify this by writing to any experiment station and they will give you the names of mixed brands which are best adapted to your pur-

C. H. Packard, of Delavan, Wisconsin, a progressive and practical dairy-Dr. C. R. Watkins and wife have man, was not satisfied with his ration returned from Cedar Falls, Ia., of home-grown feed. Although he where the doctor was called by the mixed his ration with brains and it seemed to be theoretically correct, he thought he would try out his own mixture in comparison with a first class dairy feed. Much to his surprise he found that he could save about five lbs. of grain per cow per day and nearly 5 cents per cow. He figured his own grain at prices much below the wholesale market and bought his

with his own farm roughage. EXPENSIVE PASTURE.

[National Crop Impe When you stop to consider that an acre of pasture will feed a cow, but that that same acre will raise ten tons of silage during the time the cow is feeding on it, it would seem that a grass cafeteria would be the most expensive way to feed your stock.

MORE FEED, MORE MILK. [National Crop Improvement Service.] Cows of a decided dairy type will return the greatest profit when fed to their full capacity.-Nebraska Experiment Station. [National Crop Improvement Service.] Ordinarily, silage will correct the tendency to costiveness. When it is not sufficiently effective for this purpose, add enough old process oil meal to keep the droppings moderately soft, but not necessarily loose. Usually all that is needed is to increase the allowance of concentrates. There are always two sides to every question. If the government insists on more bran in flour, bossy will have to turn to still more artificial bran.

Wheat bran is a dear feed. Barley and rye by-products are more economical. Poverty holds a mortgage on the Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal beafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thruthe blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. we will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine.
