"In Old Kentucky"

Coming to Auditorium, Sioux City, 4 days during the fair starting Thursday September 27, 1917, 8:00 p.m. daily.

This entertaining and always welcome stage offering comes along as regularly as tax-day. This drama of the early frontier, written by Charles F. Dazey, holds the affections of the play-going public of America to a remarkable degree. Since it was written, tastes in things theatrical have changed and changed again, but without marring the marvelous drawing power of this drama of wholesome Kentucky life. "In Old Kentucky" is one of those rare plays that seem to improve with age. It has made its success without the help from this star or the other. Theatrical fashions may have changed since the original production of "In Old Kentucky," but the interest in the story is still keen and the features, including the swing across the chiasm, the horse race and the amusing pranks, the band music, the songs and dances of the pioneers, still delight the theater-goer. The stage settings are always picturesque, and the company always exceptionally good. With the club and the lot of money entertainment, season after season, "In Old Kentucky" always does that holds its own in the affections of the public. Better plays and more conservative just better; this company plays to excited houses everywhere.

Nineteen Dakota County Boys Leave for the War

The Red Cross society tendered the boys a reception at the court house Tuesday evening. Roy, F. J. Auecock gave them a touching address, after which ice cream and cake were served by the ladies.

About 300 people went to see the boys off at the train Wednesday morning and bid them goodbye and God speed. The Red Cross society presented each of the boys with a "comfort kit."

The boys who went were: Otto E. Dahms, Thorvald Anderson, Chas. E. Morris, Martin S. Mason, Henry Dewain Loomis, James H. Mitchell, Peter C. Mortenson, Emil T. Anderson, Fred J. Lutheran Church Notes

DAKOTA CITY-SALEM
REV. C. R. LOWE.

The Salem ladies will meet on Thursday afternoon, 2 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Wilber Allen at Homer. The serving committee is Mrs. Roy Armour, Mrs. Merril Hilleman, Mrs. Jasper Lake, and Mrs. Wilber Allen. Every body is invited to this meeting. And let the preacher tell you this, there is "good time" going to waste at these affairs. Just listen to this:

Lots of people think a Missionary meeting is a slow place to go, not very interesting and a lot of such stuff. But they continue to be held and there is pleasure there. How you would enjoy seeing your wife or your neighbor's wife dressed in all the finery of the Hindu. That is what we saw at Mrs. Geo. Bates' last Thursday. And if you had heard the talking and seen the people you wouldn't have thought it a dry meeting but as lively as a political caucus among the men. And then when that was over the folks got out into the back yard and what a "wienie roast" we had. About that time some of the men came filtering in, not to the meeting, Oh no, only for the wienie and mothers, but take it from me they were at the wienie roast with a vengeance, and also that they were glad to be there.

The trouble you know is that we are well-fed slaves, exactly, but not so busy raising corn for the soldiers that we don't have time to enjoy life at all. There are a lot of things that money can't buy and lots of things only money can get. You can take your choice, but remember what money can't buy is the best things of life and the happiest things. Don't be a servant of your work. Good pleasure is lying around loose, take time to pick some of it up as you go, for you are going this way but once.

Agnd meets October 10 to 14. In the meanwhile we wish to have our benevolences all paid and to that end the pastor will see personally or by letter those who are yet in arrears.

The Salem evangelist member canvass will be made on the first Sunday in October, the 7th. At this time our members and contributing friends will be expected to see the canvassers. Make this an easy proposition for yourself and them. You expect to do your part and so be it that day to receive them. If you have to arrange affairs to be home that day, please do so, remembering they have arranged to do so. They can do this work for the church. Remember it is the work of the church, and your own church, and that you want it to grow and in good in the community. The budget and every member canvass is an excellent contribution.
