

Patriotic Songs, for Community Singing

Tenting on The Old Camp Ground

We're tenting tonight on the old Camp ground,
Give us a song to cheer
Our weary hearts, a song of home
And friends we love so dear.

CHORUS
Many are the hearts that are weary tonight,
Wishing for the war to cease,
Many are the hearts that are looking for the right,
To see the dawn of peace.

2, 3—Tenting tonight, Tenting tonight, Tenting on the old camp ground.
4—Dying tonight, Dying tonight, Dying on the old camp ground.

We've been tenting tonight on the old Camp ground,
Thinking of days gone by,
Of the loved ones at home that gave us the hand,
And the tear that said "Goodbye."

We are tired of war on the old Camp ground,
Many are dead and gone,
Of the brave and true who've left their homes,
Others been wounded long.

We've been fighting today on the old Camp ground,
Many are lying near;
Some are dead, and some are dying,
Many are in tears.

Don't Bite the Hand That's Feeding You

Last night, as I lay a sleeping,
A wonderful dream came to me,
I saw Uncle Sammy weeping
For his children from over the sea;
They had come to him, friendless and starving,
When from tyrant's oppression they fled,
But now they abuse and revile him,
Till at last in just anger he said:

CHORUS
"If you don't like your Uncle Sammy,
Then go back to your home o'er the sea,
To the land from where you came,
Whatever be its name;
But don't be ungrateful to me.
If you don't like the stars in Old Glory,
If you don't like the Red, White, and Blue,
Then don't act like the cur in the story,
Don't bite the hand that's feeding you."

You recall the day you landed,
How I welcomed you to my shore,
When you came here empty handed,
And allegiance forever you swore;
I gathered you close to my bosom,
Of food and of clothes you got both,
So, when in trouble, I need you,
You will have to remember your oath.—Chorus.

Over There

Johnnie get your gun, get your gun, get your gun,
Take it on the run, on the run, on the run;
Hear them calling you and me,
Ev'ry son of liberty.

Hurry right away, no delay, go today,
Make your daddy glad, to have had such a lad,
Tell your sweet-heart not to pine,
To be proud her boy is in line.

CHORUS
Over there, over there,
Send the word, send the word over there,
Yanks Yanks
That the boys are coming, the boys are coming,
The drums rum-tumming ev'ry where,
So prepare, say a pray'r,
Send the word, send the word to beware,
We'll be over, we're coming over,
And we won't come back till it's over over there.

Johnnie get your gun, get your gun, get your gun,
Johnnie show the Hun, you're a son of a gun,
Hoist the flag and let her fly,
Like true heroes do or die,
Pack your little kit, show your grit, do your bit,
Soldiers to the ranks from the towns and the tanks,
Make your mother proud of you,
And to liberty be true.—Chorus.

There's a Long, Long Trail

Nights are growing very lonely,
Days are very long;
I'm a-growing weary only
List'ning for your song.
Old remembrances are thronging
Thro' my memory
Till it seems the world is full of dreams,
Just to call you back to me.

CHORUS
There's a long, long trail a-winding
In the land of my dreams,
Where the night-in-gales are singing
And a white moon beams;
There's a long, long night of waiting
Until my dreams all come true;
Till the day when I'll be going down
That long, long trail with you.

All night long I hear you calling,
Calling sweet and low;
Seem to hear your foot-steps falling,
Ev'ry where I go.
Tho' the road between us stretches
Many a weary mile
I forget that you're not with me yet,
When I think I see you smile.—Chorus.

Battle Hymn of the Republic

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;
He is tramping out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;
He hath loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword;
His truth is marching on.

CHORUS

Glory! Glory! Hallelujah! Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah! His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews
and damps;
I can read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring
lamps;
His day is marching on.—Chorus.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel;
"As ye deal with my contemners, so with you my grace
shall deal;
Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel;
Since God is marching on."—Chorus.

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat;
Oh, be swift, my soul, to answer Him! be jubilant, my feet!
Our God is marching on.—Chorus.

In the beauty of the lillies, Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me.
As He died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.—Chorus.

America, the Beautiful

(Tune, "Materna.")

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain.
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

O beautiful for pilgrim feet
Whose stern impassioned stress,
A thoroughfare for freedom beat
Across the wilderness.
America! America!
God mend thine ev'ry flaw,
Confirm thy soul in self-control,
Thy liberty is law.

O beautiful for glorious tale
Of liberating strife,
When valiantly for man's avail
Men lavishly precious life.
America! America!
May God thy gold refine
Till all success be nobleness
And ev'ry man divine.

O beautiful for patriot's dream
That sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam
Undimmed by human tears,
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea.

Onward, Christian Soldiers

Onward, Christian soldiers, Marching as to war,
With the cross of Jesus going on before!
Christ the royal Master, Leads against the foe:
Forward into battle See His banners go.

CHORUS

Onward Christian soldiers, Marching as to war,
With the cross of Jesus going on before.

Like a mighty army moves the Church of God;
Brothers, we are treading where the saints have trod;
We are not divided, All one body we,
One in hope, in doctrine, One in Charity.

Crowns and thorns may perish, Kingdoms rise and wane,
But the Church of Jesus Constant will remain;
Gates of hell can never Gainst that Church prevail;
We have Christ's own promise, and that cannot fail.

Onward, then, ye people, Join our happy throng,
Blend with ours your voices in the triumph-song:
Glory, laud, and honor Unto Christ the King!
This thro' countless ages Men and angels sing.

ALFALFA GREATEST AND CHEAPEST FEED

Contains More Protein Than Any Other Plant—Yields Most to Acre

FEED VALUES COMPARED

Furnishes Principal Ingredient of Milk, Beef, Pork—How It Should be Fed

(Prepared Especially for this Newspaper by the Editors of the NATIONAL ALFALFA JOURNAL.)

READ THE FIGURES! Why Alfalfa Excels as a Feed, Yet Is Cheap.

An acre will yield 1½ tons of timothy hay. Of this 46 per cent is digestible nutrient. That is 1,380 pounds. An acre will yield 2 tons of clover hay. Of this, 46 per cent is digestible nutrient. That is 1,840 pounds. An acre will produce 60 bushels of shelled corn. Of this 80 per cent is digestible nutrient. That is 2,688 pounds. An acre will produce 12 tons of corn ensilage. Of this 16 per cent is digestible nutrient. That is 3,840 pounds.

But Alfalfa—Well, Read On:
While an acre will, on three cuttings, easily produce 4 tons of alfalfa. Of this 53 per cent is digestible nutrient. That is 4,240 pounds—or 10 per cent more than the best of the others.

But alfalfa has over three times as much protein—muscle building, beef building, pork building, milk making material—as ensilage and over 2½ times as much as corn. An acre of it has as much protein as a $40 ton of bran. And on top of it all is this fact: alfalfa can be produced as cheaply as an acre of corn.

What are the outstanding things about alfalfa, the characteristics that make it so much sought after by farmers?

1. There is its feed value, which may be summed up in the five word expression: "It is rich in proteins."
 2. There is its great productivity. Alfalfa is the only plant grown outside of the tropical or semi-tropical that produces three big crops a year.
- When a farmer can have a protein feed and great abundance in one combination he has pretty nearly struck a feed "bonanza." And yet that is just what he has in alfalfa. Last winter when dairymen and beef producers were paying $40 a ton for bran and as high as $60 a ton for oilmeal—both protein feeds—many of them chopped off short on this drain on their pocketbooks and fed more alfalfa hay. They found results, in gallons of milk and in pounds of beef produced, came just as rapidly.

Protein is the principal ingredient of muscle, tissues, blood, nerves, parts of bones and of the internal organs. It is the "lean" of meat, and hence its importance in the makeup of meat animals—beef and pork—is readily understood. Protein is the thing that makes milk and butter and cream so nourishing. Without protein milk would lack the greater part of that which makes it almost a "perfect food" in itself.

How It Gets the Protein.
The protein itself, when subjected to a little examination, proves to be largely made up of nitrogen. Nitrogen is part of the air, and millions of cubic feet of it exist in the free state on every farm. But human beings and dairy cows and steers and pigs would die for the want of the protein—the nitrogen—that they all must have, if they tried to assimilate that nitrogen from the air.

Here is where what are known as the leguminous plants—sometimes called the clovers—come in. Those bacteria we read about in a previous article inhabit the roots of all the leguminous plants. And they have the knack of grabbing off this nitrogen from the air and of passing it on up through the roots and stems of the plants. There, with the aid of sunshine and water, the plant builds the nitrogen into leaves and more stems, and puts it together in such a way as to appeal to the taste and to agree with the digestive organs of the dairy cow, the beef steer and the thrifty pig. It is no longer nitrogen, it is now protein, and as such is appropriated for the particular protein wants of the respective animal which eats it. Of all the plants which have this quality of producing protein from the free nitrogen of the air, alfalfa is at once the heaviest producer in bulk. It possesses the largest percentage of protein content. That is the reason alfalfa is known as the Queen of all plants.

Alfalfa Pasture For Pigs.

The pig is given his alfalfa feed in the simplest way, the primitive way of the pasture. Sometimes even in the spring, quite frequently during the summer and very generally in the fall one will see herds of pigs, in sections where alfalfa is raised, grazing on the alfalfa. Pigs gain rapidly on alfalfa pasture. The reason they are not turned on it earlier generally is that the farmer cuts one or two crops before allowing the pigs to run on it. The pigs do not hurt the plants, provided they are taken off in time for the alfalfa to acquire a little growth for winter protection.

Cattle and horses must be let loose on alfalfa pasture only with the utmost caution. Alfalfa is liable to bloat these animals, especially when it is wet. It is sometimes all right to turn stock onto an alfalfa field for brief periods. But the best way to feed it is as hay.

It is Easier to Connect You Than to Report "The Line is Busy"

The busier people are, the busier are their telephones. In these extraordinary times it is only natural that telephone lines should frequently be reported busy.

The telephone operator knows that a number reported busy will be asked for again. Thus, it is easier and quicker for her to complete a call at once than to tell you she cannot do so because the line is busy.

The telephone operator has an unusual responsibility these war-time days and appreciates consideration shown her earnest effort.
