

Dakota County Herald

JOHN H. BEAM, Publisher. Subscription Price, $1.25 Per Year. A weekly newspaper published at Dakota City, Nebraska.

Official Paper of Dakota County.

This paper has enlisted with the government in the cause of America for the period of the war.

Political Announcement.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of State Representative, subject to the decision of the voters at the coming primary, August 20, 1918.

WALTER SANDQUIST, Walthill, Nebr.

Political Announcement.

To the republican voters of this—the Sixth Senatorial district—I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the republican nomination of State Senator at the primary to be held August 20th, 1918, subject to the will of the republican voters.

E. C. HOUSTON, Tekamah, Neb.

Republicans Meet in Convention

The republicans of Dakota county met in delegate convention at the court house Saturday afternoon and selected the following delegates to attend the state convention which met at Lincoln Tuesday.

Delegates—R. E. Evans, Jas. M. King, C. H. Maxwell, C. J. O'Connor, H. W. Mueker and George Wilkins.

Alternates—W. H. Ryan, George Cain, Will Rockwell, Thos. Long, J. S. Bacon and A. Ira Davis.

Resolutions were adopted by the convention heartily endorsing the candidacy of Hon. R. E. Evans for congress from this district, and also the patriotism shown by the republican party in the vigorous start it has taken in the prosecution of the war to a victorious end.

The following county central committee was chosen:

- Sidney T. Frum, chairman. J. J. Eimers, secretary. Omadi—R. B. Small. Dakota—Hermann Biermann. St. John's—Hans Knadsen. Covington—H. O. Dorn. Pigeon Creek—Sam Knox. Hubbard—Roy Armour. Emerson—John Bonderson. Summit—F. L. Bowie.

E. C. Houston of Tekamah, candidate for state senator, Walter Sandquist of Walthill, candidate for representative, Swan Olesen of Walthill, candidate for senator, and R. E. Evans of this place, for congress, all made stirring speeches, which even brought hand claps from the democrats present.

County Agent's Field Notes

C. R. Young, County Agent

At the last Farm Bureau board meeting it was decided to run the Agricultural Auto tour on August 14th. The exact schedule and route will appear later, however it is planned to cover the south side of the county. Last year we ran our first, and because of harvesting, but 23 autos made the trip with us. Several speakers are being engaged to talk subjects of interest at each stop on the way. Apicnic dinner will be held and an address made during the noon hour. This tour will be made of interest to men, women and children. Plan to be present. Watch for the schedule. The women are getting along in the best possible manner with their petitions for the woman County Agent. They hope to complete the canvass this week.

A recent letter from Prof. E. H. Hoppert, of the State University, warns us of a grafter who claims to be a tree surgeon and plant pathologist. This man was recently counted from his endeavors among the people of Thurston county.

WALTER E. MILLER

Republican Candidate for County Treasurer, Dakota County.

Born and raised in Dakota County, Primaries August 20, 1918.

CORRESPONDENCE

HUBBARD

Chris Rasmussen and Fred Nelson shipped a car of hogs to Sioux City last week.

Len Harris and son Glen motored to Sioux City Sunday.

Chas. Heikes and family were Sunday guests in the Fred Bartelhome.

Flyo-Curo will keep your stock free from flies. Try H. Geo. Timlin.

Chris Smith and wife were here the first of the week visiting with friends.

Katie Long is attending summer school at Moringside.

Margaret Hartnett was a city shopper Monday.

Tom Hartnett motored to the city Saturday.

Jesse Graves and family drove to Emerson Sunday.

Mike Smith and family drove to Camp Dodge, Iowa, last week to visit their son Joe, who is in training at that place.

We have a few oil cook stoves left which we will close out at bargain prices. Geo. Timlin.

H. Hansen and wife visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Jensen near Naucha Monday.

Wm. Goertz and family motored to Sioux City Tuesday.

L. Sorensen visited friends in Homer Sunday.

Mrs. P. Johnson celebrated her birthday Sunday by inviting in several friends.

Harry Johnson enjoyed a visit over Sunday from his cousin from Salix, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. August Adresen are enjoying a visit from relatives from Orchard, Neb.

Take every Monday off. Use a Multi Motor Maytag washer, they take all the dirt out of the clothes and all the hard work out of wash day. Geo. Timlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Goertz enjoyed a visit with friends Sunday.

Mrs. Ellen Dugran was a city shopper last Friday.

Mrs. Bert Dyer was taken to the hospital in Sioux City last Thursday for an operation.

Rev. Anderson of Sioux City conducted services in the Lutheran church here Sunday. He will hold services here again on Sunday, August 11th. All are invited to come.

L. Larsen and wife and Mrs. Louis Mogensen motored to Sioux City on Sunday.

The Frederiksen girls came down from Viborg, S. D., last week.

John Green drove to Sioux City on Tuesday.

Geo. Timlin attended the Chautauqua at Homer Tuesday evening.

Charlie Dodge and wife returned last week from a several months' tour of South Dakota and Wyoming.

Art Anderson and Leonard Priest of Martinsburg, were in town Monday.

HOMER.

Miss Lois Anderson of Crystal Lake is a guest at the Walter Smith home.

Mrs. Keckler of McLean, Neb., is visiting friends here and attending Chautauqua this week.

Majon Will R. Ream arrived here from San Diego, Cal., Wednesday on a five days' furlough to visit relatives and friends. He is on his way to France.

Mrs. Barnhart of Watersburg is a guest of her mother, Mrs. Knox.

Axel Christensen and family arrived Tuesday from Jay Em, Wyo., after proving up on their homestead there.

Will Kuhl got a new threshing outfit last week and initiated it at the Louis Rockwell place.

Tony Larsen came home Monday for a visit with relatives and old friends.

Sherman McKinley and family of South Sioux City, were Homer visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Chas. Rockwell and Mrs. Clyde Myers of Emerson, are guests of the home of their parents, John Church and wife.

Miss Anna Peterson, who had been working in a store in Sioux City, returned to her home Monday on account of a sore hand.

Beck Nelson got a new separator and is using it with a tractor.

The numbers so far on the Chautauqua program have been better than last year, and the coming numbers look good to us, especially Wm. Sterling Battis. We were always an admirer of Dickens, which he presents.

Miss Cora Sorensen was a Sioux City visitor Wednesday.

Helen Bolster visited at the Peter Sorensen home Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Lon McInnes suffered with an attack of tonsillitis last week.

Miss Ethel Berger returned Friday from York, Neb., where she had attended summer school.

We are indebted to Joe McMinnum for a fine fresh fish which we very much enjoyed last week. They don't often come our way.

Frank Smith was a South Sioux visitor last week.

Born to Louis Miller and wife, near the Foltz home, July 26, twin girls. The mother is in a serious condition.

Geo. Thacker was taken to Sioux City to Hillside Sanitarium for treatment for paralysis.

Wm. Greweck and wife were Sioux City shoppers Saturday.

Bud McKinley and family autoed up from Rosalie Sunday and attended the Tim Mansfield funeral.

Frank Combs of South Sioux City, attended the Mansfield funeral here Sunday.

Tim Mansfield, who spent most of his life in Homer, died at St. Joseph hospital, Sioux City, Friday morning of a complication of diseases. He was buried Saturday in the Omaha Valley cemetery. Services were held in the M. E. church, Rev. Bjeth of Winnebago officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Hush of Sioux City, came over Sunday for the Mansfield funeral.

Miss Gertrude McKinley and Mr. Graham were guests in the B. McKinley home Sunday.

Miss Nadine Shephardson, who was to teach the 3rd and 4th grades in the Homer schools, resigned and has accepted a more lucrative position in the Superior, Neb., schools, where she has the 8th grade.

JACKSON

William J. Frankho, who is now stationed at the State Farm at Lincoln, Neb., is expected to be here on the C. J. Goodfellow home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. O'Connell, of the guests in the W. Hansen home Sunday.

J. A. ... of Bloomfield, Neb., are guests in the T. J. Hartnett home.

Walter Welsh of Allen is spending the week in the Wm. Smith home.

During the electrical storm here last Friday night lightning struck the Mrs. Thos. McKeeter and so damaging it considerably.

Catherine and Anna Daley are visiting in the Dougherty home at New-castle.

Mrs. Wm. F. Hickey and children returned the last of the week from a visit with relatives at Ponia, Ia.

Frank O'Neill returned to Chicago Monday night after a two weeks' vacation with his folks.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howe underwent an operation at the hospital last Saturday.

Jas. P. Goodfellow is visiting in Dubuque, Iowa.

Vera Baker and little brother of St. Peter, Minn., arrived here last week to spend their vacation in the home of their grandparents, John Baker and wife.

The Standard Chautauqua system began a week's engagement here on Tuesday.

Francis Sawyer departed the last of the week for Manson, Iowa, to visit in the Wm. Foley home.

The Misses Sara and Connie Cavanaugh of Nebraska City, arrived here last week to spend their vacation in the Collins and Dugan homes.

Jas. Sutherland on Monday purchased the livery barn and stock from W. P. Wall and son.

The Misses Phoebe Barber and Trava Foster departed last week for Belden to visit the former's relatives there.

Merrit Adresen and family have moved to Ponca. Mr. McNulty, cashier of the Bank of Dakota County, expects to move his family here into the house vacated by Mr. Adresen as soon as some improvements can be made.

Nono Kinney of Bloomfield, Neb., is a guest in the Wm. Riley home.

Mrs. Flynn received a letter from her son James, who was in training at Camp Funston, that he was transferred to Florida. He stated he had been out at the rifle range the past week, 8 miles from the barracks, had a nice little hike carrying 60 pounds. He had been inoculated three times and vaccinated, so thought he was pretty well protected from fever. G. J. Ryan and Joe Smith, who were also there, were among the company that were sent to Camp Dodge, Iowa. The boys also took the examination for overseas.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Word comes that Ringling Brothers' mammoth circus is to exhibit afternoon and night at Sioux City on Monday, August 12th.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders in introducing the newest and greatest features the famous showmen this season announce the most remarkable program of their career. There is a brand new spectacle of gigantic proportions entitled "In days of Old." Produced on the biggest stage ever built, it tells the story of the golden age of Ivanhoe, Robin Hood and King Arthur. An entire train load of scenery is carried. The cast numbers 1,250 actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-ten program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback; herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in tests of amazing strength; slides for life from top-to-top to the ground by men suspended by the hair, and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatest stars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,000 splendid animals and, to introduce the parade, an all new street parade three miles long.

Always the leaders