M. E. Church Notes

Rev. S. A. Draise, Pastor
The Sunday school and morning service was conducted without the pastor last Sunday. Everybody says it went along fine. The addresses by the minute men, R. E. Evans and C. R. Young, were excellent and very appropriate. The pastor certainly appreciates the assistance and splendid co-operation of these and other men in carrying forward the program of the church. They are also willing to help one of the other churches.
A team of Dakota City minute men conduct services at South Sioux City M. E. church next Sunday evening.
The pastor held both morning and evening services at Homer last Sunday.
Centenary reports coming in from neighboring towns show quotas nearly doubled and still going up.
Sunday school next Sunday at 10 o'clock; preaching at 11 o'clock.

Lutheran Church Notes

By Rev. C. R. Lowe.

This week the pastor is absent at conference at Omaha, and a special meeting of Synod at Fremont. For the first time the North and South Platte conference have met together. It is a good thing, it is especially convenient when it meets in a central location.

The business before the special meeting of Synod is the matter of the removal of Midland College from Atchison, Kansas, to Fremont, Nebr. Our Nebraska synod is magnanimously in favor of this move. Of course, being Nebraskans, we might be expected to boost for Fremont when the question comes up. But there are other than sentimental motives. Here is the history of the matter in part and some reasons for the move. It will interest you because it is your institution.

The general Synod that met at Omaha thirty years ago located Midland at Atchison because at that time it was the best place to put it. No one doubts the wisdom of their choice. But a good many things have developed in the course of 30 years.

At that time the Kansas Synod was the larger and most promising Synod, and Atchison held out inducements. At that time the Nebraska synod was quite small and there was no German Nebraska synod at all. But all that is changed now. Nebraska synod is larger than is the Kansas synod, the German Nebraska synod has come into existence and reaches far down into Kansas, and that synod is no larger now than it was thirty years ago. Nebraska has doubled her synod in the last ten years. And in addition to this the Rocky Mountain synod has gone out from the Nebraska synod.

Our church fathers could not see the development of the Lutheran church in this territory. So far as the relative value of the cities are concerned the favor is much with Fremont. Atchison is a third Roman Catholic and one third negro. Fremont is white and predominately Protestant. Railroad facilities are about the same, but tending to favor Fremont. In the matter of building and equipment things are about even.

But the real thing that matters is this, what is the service of Midland to our church and what is the outlook for the college. We will give you what information we have at hand and you can draw your own conclusions. There have been 1208 college students.

399 from Atchison—148 children of professors and others directly connected with the institution.
277 from Kansas.
255 from Nebraska.
129 from other states.

In the academy there have been 1526 students, divided in nearly the same proportion. From this it appears that the Lutheran church has served Atchison almost as much as it has served the church.

As to the outlook we have this to say: In a radius of 50 miles of Atchison there are eight Lutheran churches; within a hundred miles there are 38. Within the same distances of Fremont there are 136 and 269 Lutheran churches, respectively. Most of the students at an institution comes from within this distance. Atchison has less churches now than it had thirty years ago.

The students of Midland will tell you this, too. Atchison doesn't care for the college save that they want to keep the institution.
Just now Atchison is making a heavy bid to keep the college. They are offering to buy scholarships, these, of course, will go to Atchison high school students, but that will not serve the matter in settled again, Atchison will settle down to their old way of treating the college, which isn't much. We've been there eight years and know what that means. Atchison as a town is no school town, Fremont is.

Midland at Fremont will serve us more than Midland at Atchison. We are unqualifiedly in favor of Fremont.

DAKOTA CITY SCHOOL NOTES

Marguerite Shreiner, Principal
The basket social held Wednesday evening at the school house was a splendid success financially—$86.05 being turned over to the Athletic fund.
The following was written by the boys—Last Friday our baseball team took another defeat at the hands of the Homer High school team, but we gave them a good run for their money—the game going eleven innings. The score was 8 to 6 in Homer's favor, but the Homer boys were lucky; just ask them.
The third and fourth grade programs will be given Thursday evening, May first. This will be the last of the room programs and it is hoped there will be a good attendance.
Miss Hartnett's room was the flag which was given by the Prohibition organization.

Too Much Feed Causes Scours

When a sow is fed too much or improperly the pigs often suffer from the scours. Corrective rather than remedial measures should be taken. That is, the feed of the sow should be reduced or improper feed eliminated. The Nebraska College of Agriculture finds that quite often the sow needs a dose of epsom salts or castor oil. Either can be successfully given in the slop. The College also keeps some blood meal on hand to give mothers of scouring pigs. It is very effective. Several days feeding of linseed oil meal or alfalfa meal is also very good.

NEW LEGISLATION

(From Farm Bureau News.)
Farmers as well as others should rejoice over the passage of the Good Roads bill, which covers a two year period. It is true that this will call for a large increase in taxes. But all seem well satisfied with that if the money is properly administered. The good roads project receives a sum of $3,380,000 this coming year. This will come from a 3 mill levy and an increase in auto license.

The passage of the bill declaring the Omaha Grain Exchange a public market was assured last week. This is a long stride towards cutting out middle men for the farmers who sell through co-operative elevators.

The signing of the state hail insurance bill by the Governor will be of interest to many. This increases the maximum loss by hail, for which a man can insure under the state, from $10 to $15 per acre. Under this bill, the premium need not be paid until the subscriber pays his personal taxes.

MATRIMONIAL VENTURES.

Beware Chicken Remedies

Beware chicken remedies, is the advice of University of Nebraska poultry extension men. Good care clean water and feed, are the only young chick remedies used by the University. It is said that "doctoring" the giving of various drug store mixtures, kills more young chicks than all other causes.

COST OF PRODUCTION RECORDS WHY?

(From Farm Bureau News.)
University Farm, Lincoln, Neb., April 8, 1919.
To County Agents:
1. Cost of Production Records help a farmer to have a better understanding of his corn crop, his hogs, or other part of his business. His Farm Record Book gives him general information about the whole farm business, how well it is paying, and whether the largest "leaks" are caused by low feeding efficiency, poor use of labor, or something else. To trace the trouble much farther, however, requires more detailed records on certain crops or stock.

2. Farmers need to know how much it costs them to raise a bushel of corn, a hundred pounds of pork, or some other product. Lack of such information was felt keenly during the war. It is likely to be just as necessary during readjustment times that farmers know these same things. For example, an Industrial Board has been appointed by the Government to stabilize prices. They have cut steel prices, taken up other industries, and it is hinted that they may extend their activities to agricultural products. Mr. Peck, chairman of the Board, said recently in speaking of certain farm products, "What is a reasonable cost, must be determined by conditions. There is every reason to expect lower food prices in the relatively near future."

3. How many hours of work should be necessary to raise 40 acres of corn in your county? How much feed do your good farmers use to put one hundred pounds gain on a bunch of hogs? And what are their production costs? Are your tractor owners doing their work cheaper than they would with horses? Cost of Production Records on a few farms in your county will give you some good information along these lines for every day use. And it will be information based on local conditions.

HOW?
The Cost of Production Records, which were used last year have just been revised and printed on heavier paper. This will make them stand more wear and tear. They are available for corn, hogs, wheat, cattle, tractors, oats, potatoes, and sugar beets. The blanks contain a labor record, feed record for stock, and summary page. Inventories and cash receipts and expenses are to be kept in a Farm Record Book.

WHEN?
Spring is the best time to get some of this work started. From now on, the earlier it is started the better. Mr. Boomer, Mr. Taylor and myself are planning to put in full time for the next few weeks helping some of you men with this work in your county. We have no dates made as yet after April 15. Please let us know as soon as possible when you want us in your county, and which cost records you need the most.

Very truly yours,
P. K. WHELPSTON,
Farm Management Demonstrator.

The above is from a letter just received from Mr. Whelpston. His ideas so completely coincide with those of the members of the Farm Bureau that we take pleasure in having them emphasized here. There can be no question but that we are sadly in need of definite information on costs of production. This can best come from actual farm conditions and can only be furnished by the farmer himself. We know that the furnishing of this data sometimes causes some inconvenience, but it is worth it many times over. If you are interested in keeping records along any of these lines let us know. We will keep record books on hand.

SWAT THE FLY.
Oh, every fly that skips our swatters. Will have five million sons and daughters.
And countless first and second cousins: Of aunts and uncles, scores and dozens.
And fifty-seven billion nieces. So knock the blamed-thing all to pieces.
—W. M.

Good Prospects for Poultry
Poultrymen should feel encouraged, say University of Nebraska poultry extension workers. Both eggs and poultry are higher than they were this time last year. More than 500,000 cases of eggs have been exported since January 1, against little more than 100,000 for all of last year. There is indication that eggs will continue high throughout the year.
