High War Prices Are With Us Yet

With fighting ended, the troubles war brought us did not stop.

During the war telephone companies, like most other institutions, were hit hard by high prices for equipment and by the loss of trained employees.

Now our former employees are gradually being released from military service and resuming their old positions.

Although the price of telephone equipment is still very high, we are able to obtain it more promptly than a few months ago.

Our plant facilities, which during the war were extended only for urgent needs, are gradually being restored to a normal condition.

And telephone service, too, is steadily improving and getting back to our pre-war standard.

But the cost of furnishing telephone service is much more than it was when the war began.

And high prices for equipment and generally high operating expenses are problems we shall no doubt have to meet for several years.
