Allen News: Mr. and Mrs. Art Hale, Willard Brant and John Isom autoed to Sioux City Thursday. T. J. Overhoe managed to find a little spare time from the worries of his farm and decided to take a little pleasure trip to our nearby metropolis of Ferry last Tuesday. He was feeling very elated over the prospect for as the reporter stepped into the depot while waiting for the train Tucker showed us his ticket to prove he was not going to Sioux City, but to Ferry. We have not seen him since his return and so do not know how he enjoyed his trip, in fact we do not know that he got back, and we are somewhat worried for fear he might have become lost in the metropolis or that one of Ferry's traffic cops might have "run him in."

Sioux City Journal, 6: The big drouth, commencing July 1, will be viewed lugubriously by William Hickey, of Jackson, Neb. The popular song about "the key to my cellar" doesn't bring any rosier view of the future. Hickey still has the key, according to report, but—his! Watson, a dastardly deed has been committed. The liquid contents are missing. Hickey, however, alleges that he knows the guilty person and is seeking vengeance. Yesterday he swore out a warrant at Dakota City, Neb., charging Harold Moran, a young man of Jackson, with breaking and entering his house. In his complaint he averred that Moran unlawfully, feloniously and otherwise made away with three gallons of wine, valued at $15, or a total of $45. Moran has not yet been placed under arrest.

Sioux City Journal, 5: Although John Mulhall, Sioux City real estate dealer, won a case in Dakota county Neb., district court yesterday involving a land contract, both Mulhall and the defendant, Tony Sarantino, are losers, due to the vagaries of the Missouri river. Sarantino loses $500 payment which he made on a 40-acre farm near Dakota City, Neb., and Mulhall loses thirty-two acres of farm land stolen by the river. The Italian, a section hand, bought the tract of land about two years ago, contracting to pay $45 an acre, and making a payment of $500. Then the river began to encroach on the farm, and when the time came for Tony's next payment he could find but eighty acres of the land left. He refused to carry out his contract, and Mulhall brought suit to foreclose the agreement. A counter claim by Sarantino, alleging that the land had been misrepresented and petitioning the court for restitution of his $500 was set aside by Judge Guy T. Graves, who canceled the contract and awarded Mulhall the land. Judge Graves held that there was no misrepresentation, inasmuch as it is beyond human limitations to prophesy what will happen to real estate located on the banks of the Missouri. The term of court was adjourned yesterday until the latter part of the month. A promissory note case against Alfred Savage and Cora Miller, of South Sioux City, in which the Equitable company, of South Sioux City, seeks to collect $500, being continued until next term in order that additional evidence may be submitted.

Sioux City Journal, 7: Miss Gladys Orr, of South Sioux City, will entertain a party of "friends" at a 1 o'clock luncheon in the Martin hotel today. Under the guidance of Nebraska state agents, strange things apparently happen to automobiles confiscated in Dakota county from booze runners. Arthur Brown, of Elgin, Neb., armed with a writ of replevin, has bumped into a stone wall. A deputy sheriff of Antelope county, Neb., has an order from Sheriff Geo. Cain authorizing return of the car, but several days' effort have failed to locate it within the county. Brown purchased the car a few weeks ago. After using the machine several days, his brother LeRoy drove the car to Sioux City and unwisely attempted to run the blockade over the combination bridge with a supply of wet goods. The trip ended at Dakota City, with LeRoy under arrest for transporting liquor and the machine was confiscated. Now the owner is unsuccessfully endeavoring to obtain possession. Motorcycle Policeman Bert Luke, of Sioux City, has been appointed special deputy sheriff of Antelope county, but has as yet obtained no definite clue to his location, otherwise than that one of the state agents is reported to have driven the car to the western part of the state. A recent court ruling in Dakota county handed down by Judge Sherman McKinley, enjoined state agents from using cars confiscated by the county.

Emerson Enterprise: Geo. Dayha, of Niobrara, visited here Decoration day with his cousins, George and Frank Hasse. Mrs. Will-Ross and daughter, Marie, of Sioux City, were Decoration day visitors at the Davis and Fuller homes. Nels Tolstrop and son Charles, went to Crystal lake Thursday fishing. They brought home a fine string of fish. Mrs. Mary Giegar went to Hubbard Saturday to visit for a week with her brother, John Proyancha, and other relatives. Joshua Leonard went to the soldiers' and sailors' home at Milford last week. His many friends here were sorry that he did not stay until after Decoration day, as he was missed by all who knew him at the services on that day. John Proyancha of Hubbard, a Civil War veteran, came up Thursday to attend the Memorial day program and soldiers' reception Friday. He was much pleased with the splendid treatment he was accorded while here. On May 28, Mrs. Augusta Gaedke, by her attorney, C. E. Paul, filed in the county court of Dakota county, a petition asking for a determination of heirs of Lizzie Kiddoo, deceased. Mrs. Gaedke is owner of land of which Lizzie Kiddoo died possessed, but the Kiddoo estate was never administered. Mr. and Mrs. Jay McEntaffer, of Ft. Morgan, Col., came overland to spend Decoration day with relatives here, arriving Thursday noon. They reported good traveling and a pleasant trip. They expected to return Monday morning, but were delayed on account of the heavy rain. While here they spent the evening with C. N. Schooleys, who were residents of Ft. Morgan for many years.

Neligh Leader: For the first time since the prohibitory law went into effect something approaching a headway appears to have been made in putting a check on the men who have been peddling the stuff. From the very start both officers and private citizens have had a pretty definite idea of who some at least of the dispensers of the stuff were, but legal proof of it has been a different thing. In this connection the Leader wishes to go on record with the statement that the blame for failure up to the present does not lie in the main with the officers, either past or present, but with citizens, many of whom are not in sympathy with the traffic but yet through a disinclination to get mixed up in the matter have kept still when they had information of value. Naturally the booze peddlars have kept an eye on the officers. The arrest of Roy Brown and James Weeks at Dakota City appears to have been a spectacular affair. They were driving a big Chalmers six and started to make a run for it and made the machine show its best pace but the officers had a machine that was too fast for them, went by and pulled in the road ahead in such a way as to block progress. When searched the car had 164 quarts of whisky on board, which was confiscated along with the automobile. Arthur L. Brown, brother of Roy Brown, sued out a writ of replevin for the automobile, setting up that the machine was his property and not that of Roy Brown. In this connection there is a story going the rounds in Neligh that a number of local parties are stung in sums ranging all the way from $75 to $125. It is reported when Brown and Weeks left here they were commissioned by these parties to purchase some choice liquor for private stock and this was confiscated along with the rest. Another lead was obtained the latter part of last week which resulted in the issuance of a warrant for Chas. Knoch on the charge of selling liquor. Joe Bliss and Inval Haave, young fellows who live, one in Madison and the other in Boone counties, became intoxicated and had an auto wreck just east of Tilden. When arrested they still had some liquor in their possession, which they made affidavits they procured from Chas. Knoch, paying him $7 a pint for it. A warrant was sworn out for Knoch but the authorities were unable to serve it until Wednesday morning, owing to the fact that Knoch was out of the county and his whereabouts were not known. He and a party arrived in Neligh about 3 o'clock on Wednesday morning and Nightwatch Bailey arrested him as he stepped from his auto. He was arraigned in county court during the forenoon and his trial set for Tuesday at 1 p. m. He was released on bonds fixed at $500. Bud and John Conger were arrested last Friday on a complaint of being intoxicated and creating a disturbance. They were brought before County Judge Ingram who fined them $17 each. They said they obtained the liquor from a traveling horse trader.

Emerson Enterprise: Geo. Dayha, of Niobrara, visited here Decoration day with his cousins, George and Frank Hasse. Mrs. Will-Ross and daughter, Marie, of Sioux City, were Decoration day visitors at the Davis and Fuller homes. Nels Tolstrop and son Charles, went to Crystal lake Thursday fishing. ## FARM BUREAU NOTES

C. R. Young, County Agent

The rains on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week and the class play at Homer on Friday evening put an end to our organization meetings for the present. This was a very great disappointment; but we will strive to overcome it by similar meetings a little later.

Cholera was found in the herd of hogs belonging to Jos. Twobig in Summit precinct. They were vaccinated.

A letter from Mr. E. H. Hoppert, extension man from the state University, states that the cool, wet weather we are having is producing an abundance of spores, which cause apple scab. As a means of combating this diseased condition of our most popular fruit, he suggests spraying two or three weeks after the petals fall with 1 1/2 gallons of lime sulphur, and one pound of dry arsenate of lead to each 50 gallons of water.

Experimental work at the Oklahoma Experiment station proved that three weeks old pigs can be immunized against hog cholera for at least a year when given the serum-virus treatment. The work was only conducted one year, but there is but little to fear from the immunity ever running out. During the year they were tested, the pigs were carefully watched. At intervals, part were fed cholera blood in rather large doses and part were injected with the virus. They report that in no case did the pigs show signs of sickness.

POULTRY HINTS.

A great many poultry raisers think that with the coming and passing of June their work is or can be reduced to the minimum. This, of course, is a great mistake. The old proverb that, "A chain is no stronger than its weakest link," is just as applicable to the poultry business as to the iron chain. A weak link (a neglected month) means the whole chain (the year) has lost its real power. In all seasons and at all times the vermin question must be fought. Lice and mites do more damage than the average person is aware of or will admit. Right now lice and mites are very busily engaged in their propaganda work increasing their membership. Get out your machine guns, gas them, bomb them, don't give them a chance to reorganize their forces, this is the month for good offensive work, don't get lazy.

The Mission of Swift & Company

Swift & Company has become one of the large businesses of the world through continuing to meet the growing needs of a nation and a world.

Society has a right to ask how the increasing responsibilities and opportunities for usefulness which go with such growth are being used by the men who direct its affairs—and the men have the right to answer:

- To promote the production of live stock and perishables and increase the food supply;
- To reach more people with more and better meat;
- To make a fair competitive profit, in order to reimburse the 25,000 shareholders for the use of their future, and to provide for the future development of the business;
- To reduce to a minimum the costs of preparing and distributing meat and to divide the benefits of efficiency with producer and consumer;
- To live and let live, winning greater business only through greater usefulness, with injury to nothing but incompetency, inefficiency and waste; to deal justly, fairly, and frankly with all mankind.

These are the purposes and motives of the men who direct the policies and practices of Swift & Company.
