 The glorious Fourth is to be celebrated in Homer. It will mean so much more than just a good time. We hope it may be a celebration of Peace for Keeps. If you love music come and listen to the Brown orchestra. They are worth coming sixty miles to hear, even if the car is out of commission and you have to hitch up old Dobbin to the surrey, it is still worth the trip. The Brown orchestra is composed of five children ranging in ages from 10 to 17; children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown. They are as good, if not better than most of the chautauqua players, so see what you will miss if you don't come. It seems as if this Fourth we will celebrate the independence of the whole world and that means so much more than before.

OH, THE RAIN!

Does it rain, can it rain, has it rained
 In Nebraska?
 Yes, it rains, it can rain, it has rained
 In Nebraska!
 It has rained and it has poured—
 And the thunder loud has roared
 While the lightning's slashed and scored
 In Nebraska!
 And the wind gets up a gale
 In Nebraska,
 Which could lift the biggest whale—
 In Nebraska!
 And if Jonah then were there,
 He'd be hoisted in the air
 Where there's lots of room to spare,
 In Nebraska!
 Yes, the ground is soaked clear through
 In Nebraska!
 But we've had our dry years, too,
 In Nebraska!
 Then don't grumble, nor forget
 That it doesn't pay to fret
 When it's dry, or when it's wet,
 In Nebraska!
 —Addie Greer.
