FARM BUREAU NOTES
 C. R. Young, County Agent
 Last Saturday morning a telephone message from the Government Employment office at Sioux City, stated that they had more men than they were able to secure work for and asked that this information be circulated. They said lots of men were available at $65 to $70 per month.

During the past week we attended the organization meeting of the Thurston County Pure-Bred Breeders association. One of the most gratifying things that we know of is the way stockmen are becoming interested in improving their herds. This, to be sure, is for the most part with pure-bred sires or grade dams. But even there our best farmers are satisfied with only the best sires. However, with hogs, Dakota county has several new breeders of pure-bred herds, who are destined to become real factors in the business, in the very near future. The Dakota county Breeders association will hold a meeting early in August to decide what steps should be taken for a cooperative advertising scheme. Mr. C. F. Buckley, of Dakota City, is president of the association. If you are a pure-bred breeder and have not already signed a membership card you will want to get in on this before the next meeting.

Hog cholera is prevalent in the vicinity of Jackson, at least three herds being infected at the present time. Vaccination is quite general in that neighborhood.

Cresote Preserves Fence Posts.
 Cresote treatment about doubles the life of woods ordinarily used for fence posts, say University agricultural extension engineers. Many species almost valueless untreated may be made to last 25 or more years. Treatment may be done with a small tank or iron barrel in which the cresote can be heated. Tests show that the life of posts are lengthened as follows: Ash, from 6 years untreated to 25 years treated; boxelder, from 4 to 26 years; willow, from 4 to 26 years; white cedar, from 14 to 30 years; catalpa, from 17 to 26 years; cottonwood, from 3 to 27 years; soft maple, from 4 to 27 years. For details on cresoting wood write the Agricultural Engineering Department College of Agriculture, Lincoln.

Pasturing Poor Wheat Not Recommended.
 Inquiries are being received at the College of Agriculture regarding pasturing spring wheat that is not worth harvesting. Pasturing is not recommended. In most instances the stock would get enough grain to produce digestive disturbances. If the wheat is cut for hay it may be safely fed in small quantities. Spring wheat makes good hay, especially if cut a little green. It is probable that wheat could be turned on the wheat without much risk, but other kinds of stock would be liable to serious results.

This community was shocked beyond words to express Friday evening by the very sudden death of Mrs. E. McKinley. She was taken sick on Thursday morning with acute indigestion, but Friday was so much better that we expected to see her about as usual in a few days, but she died very suddenly that evening. She was a friend to everybody and was always sacrificing her own comfort or strength for others. She was invariably called upon when one was in trouble, for she would go to the rescue always. Their ten children were always a source of comfort to her, for they were kind to a kind mother. She had nursed in a good many homes in this county and had friends everywhere she went. No one could be any more missed. The world has been made better for her friends by her having lived in it. We think we could die perfectly happy if we knew we would be missed and regretted as she is. Two of her sons were wounded while serving their country in France. Another is serving his country in Alaska and could not get home. Five sons and a grandson were her pall bearers. Mrs. McKinley was born at St. Charles, Ill., Feb. 17, 1859, and died at her home in Homer, Neb., July 25, 1919. She leaves to mourn her loss, a husband, six sons and four daughters. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the residence, conducted by Rev. J. L. Phillips, of South Sioux City. Burial was in the Omaha Valley cemetery.

RIGHT OUT WITH OVERALLS ON

The cow with the blue ribbon hanging from her horn wouldn't stand still a moment until Miss Overalls volunteered to hold the strap. You'll probably see both of them when you attend Nebraska's Victory State Fair, Lincoln, Aug. 31 to Sept. 5.

When you have a house to rent
 Give it a coat of good paint before you tack a sign on it. It won't cost as much as repairs will later. Also, a well-painted house always rents more readily than a shabby one—rents for more money too.

DEVOE Lead and Zinc Paint
The Guaranteed Fewer Gallons—Wears Longer

It is just as essential to use good paint on a house you own and rent as on the one you live in. Therefore, paint with Devoe and increase the value of your property.

We guarantee Devoe because we know it is pure and because we know that it always gives our customers satisfaction. It contains no whitening, silica, china clay or other adulterants. Devoe is guaranteed to take fewer gallons and wear longer. We are always glad to show attractive color combinations. Ask for booklet—"Keep Appearances Up and Expenses Down."
