

NEWSY ITEMS FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Bloomfield Monitor: Miss Blanch Christopherson, of Crofton, visited with Miss Louise Gabler during carnival week.

Elgin Review: Mrs. Isaac Powers of Norfolk, aunt of Mrs. Willis McBride, returned to her home Wednesday, after a week's visit at the McBride home.

Verdigré Citizen: Miss Mabel Riley, of Sioux City, Ia., was visiting with J. F. Riley and son the first of the week. Miss Riley is a Red Cross nurse and served two years in France.

Lyons Mirror: Geo. W. Little and Miss Esther accompanied Mrs. Kathryn Spencer to Omaha Saturday, from which place she will go on to Mexico where she will join her husband. She will be missed by her many friends here.

Ponca Advocate: Thelma and Gretta Porter were visiting friends in South Sioux City Saturday. Supt. Jacobson and family came to Ponca from Newcastle Monday and will make their home here. Mr. Jacobson will be superintendent of the schools here for the coming year.

Orchard News: Mabel Miller, who has been assistant at the central office this week, informs us that she has resigned her position in the Orchard school and will go to South Sioux City where she has a position as principal of one of the ward schools. Her place in Orchard will be taken by Miss Ada McNabb.

Winnebago Chieftain: Jess Mansfield will yield to the call of the wild Saturday and close up his soft drink parlor and visit "no man's land" for awhile. J. F. Mansfield, chief clerk in the office of the master mechanic of the Union Pacific railroad at Denver, has been visiting his brothers, M. S. and Jess Mansfield, the last few days.

Plainview News: Walter Cheney and family moved here from Hay Springs the first of the week. Mr. Cheney owns a part of the old Ira Pendergast place north of town and will build on the same this fall. Their baby's health has been very poor of late and they took it to Omaha yesterday afternoon to consult a specialist.

Walthill Citizen: Forrest Thorpe came down from Homer Tuesday to visit with V. P. Kelley, jr. Bob Hoobs and wife were down from So. Sioux City for an over Sunday visit. Mrs. J. H. Kennison of South Sioux City, visited with her mother, Mrs. N. Bourelle, last Sunday. Mrs. Neal Hobbs and Mrs. Henry Hiner and children went to South Sioux City last evening for a visit. Ed Lane and son Harold, and Albert Means went to Dalton last Sunday to visit Dallas Lane and family and to look after land. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mason, daughter Lena, and the Misses Wilma Fheeler and Glen Krippendorff drove to Sioux City Wednesday morning.

Sioux City Journal, 22: Mrs. Stella Woodcock, of South Sioux City, is seriously ill at her home. Tom McNish, of South Sioux City, whose ankle was badly injured in an automobile accident a few weeks ago, has been dismissed from the hospital. Mrs. Will Alfred, of South Sioux City, may lose the sight of her left eye as the result of a peculiar injury sustained Sunday while the family were driving to their home from an outing in Minnesota. Their car struck a hump in the road and Mrs. Alfred was thrown from the seat, her head striking the top of the car. Her glasses were broken by the impact and a sliver of glass penetrated the eye, tearing it fearfully. The injured woman was brought to Sioux City and taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where a delicate operation was performed in an attempt to save her sight. The result of the operation is as yet undetermined, but surgeons are hopeful of the outcome.

Laurel Advocate: Miss Agnes Mackey, of Jackson, visited several days the past week at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. F. Joslin. Mrs. C. S. Ford is on the Myers farm, mothering the children (and who could do it better?) during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Myers in the east. Gilbert and Margaret O'Gara arrived the other day from Smithwick, S. D., and the next day Joe arrived from Salt Lake City and straightway there was a rousing family reunion at the old farm home near Laurel. It had been 19 years since they had all been together there, tho in 1911 they were all at Smithwick, to attend the funeral of their sister Nellie. Joe was on his way east and Monday morning Gilbert went as far as Jackson with him. The latter would visit his wife's people there a few days and then return to Smithwick. Miss Margaret is doing some kind of special work in the Sister's hospital in Hot Springs, S. D., in which she is very much interested and to which she will return in a few days.

Sioux City Journal, 23: The dead body of Mrs. Caroline Doretta Allen, 60 years old, was discovered shortly after noon yesterday at her home, 510 Myrtle street, by a daughter, Mrs. Lena McDonald, when the latter returned home from her work at the Charles M. Dickson barber supply store. When Mrs. McDonald entered the house she called to her mother. There was no response. Hearing the electric washing machine operating in the basement, Mrs. McDonald descended the stairs. She found her mother's lifeless form lying on the floor near the machine. Dr. J. F. Taylor was summoned. After examination he said that Mrs. Allen had been dead about three hours when discovered. Her demise was due to heart trouble. Mrs. Allen, a resident of Sioux City since 1902, is survived by two daughters, Mrs. McDonald and Miss Beulah Rockwell, an employee of the Kleeblatt Barbers' Supply company. Both daughters were living at home with their mother. Neither had noticed that Mrs. Allen was not in her usual health when they left home in the morning.

Kanred Wheat Giving Satisfaction: Dodge county farmers growing Kanred wheat report good satisfaction, according to L. C. Christie, county agricultural agent. Warren Muliken had a yield of 25 bushels, or 5 bushels more than his other wheat. The straw was stiffer and the wheat stood up better. S. W. Peters reported his Kanred wheat superior to his other wheat. Kanred wheat was developed at Kansas State Agricultural College and is rather extensively grown in Kansas.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

C. R. Young, County Agent

The auto tour of the county last week was pronounced a success by those who attended. The rain the day before had settled the dust and cooled the atmosphere, making the best day we have had during the three years we have made these tours. Twenty cars made the afternoon part of the trip, a few cars having joined at the noon-day program.

Everyone especially enjoyed the ride over the long ridge for the last mile before reaching the Chas. J. McCarthy farm, which was our first objective. At several points over this ridge the Missouri river and the bottom land northwest of Jackson are readily seen, making a very pretty view when observed through the nearby valleys. The splendid purebred Percheron horses, Hereford cattle and Poland China hogs brought many favorable comments from those present on this first stop.

The new house at the Henry O'Neill farm east of Jackson was next visited. All were glad of this opportunity to visit this new and up-to-date home with all of its modern equipment. Everyone must have been convinced that it is possible to have the conveniences of a city residence in a country home without the numerous disadvantages.

At the Chas. Blessing farm the new house also proved the center of attraction. While the building is not quite so large as the O'Neill home it is modern throughout and has some features different from those found in the first. The silo and herd of Holstein cattle were of special interest to all the men.

The picnic dinner was eaten on the lawn at the Blessing farm. Rev. S. A. Draise of Dakota City, gave an address which was appreciated by all. The entire crowd entered heartily into the singing which consisted of several songs especially for Farm Bureau gatherings. Mrs. Blessing treated the picnicers to good hot coffee and real separator cream. Hardly had they had time to drink their coffee when Charley commenced passing the cigars. Then in conclusion Guy Manning and Chas. Young of Walker's Island, emptied a gunny sack full of Rocky Fors on the grass and invited the crowd to take hold. Although we were at this place over two hours, the time passed too quickly for us all.

The Herman Ebel farm was the first stop of the afternoon. The large house was first inspected and next the new barn. The men present seemed unanimous in declaring the barn the best in the county. Both men and women were interested in some of the high producing cows. For the past year Mr. Ebel has been weighing his milk and having it tested at intervals by the County Agent. This work revealed some very interesting facts as were set forth by Mr. D. H. Propps, State Dairy Specialist, who talked on the subject. The highest producing cow of the herd has only been milked nine months, but in that time produced 12,666 pounds of milk and gives promise to yield in the neighborhood of 16,000 pounds during the year. Her butter fat tests show that she will yield at least 600 pounds of butter. When we remember that the average cow only produces 140 pounds of butter in a year we readily begin to realize that this is an unusually good cow. Mr. Ebel also has some other high yielding cows.

The caponizing demonstration at the Ebel farm by Miss Florence Atwood, the County Home Demonstration Agent, was very interesting to both men and women. The work was done in a way that would be a credit to an old hand at the job.

The inspection of the herd of Chester White hogs and the boys pig judging contest were objects of particular interest at the A. W. Heikes farm. Thirteen boys entered the contest for the three prizes of three, two and one dollars. Two classes of pigs were judged by the boys, placing the pigs first, second and third in each class and giving written reasons for placing one of the classes. Everett Blessing got first prize, Joe Albenusius second, and Wilson Gillingwater third. The vineyard, which is perhaps the one best cared for in the county, was of interest to most of the crowd.

The last stop was made at the S. A. Mason farm. The bees which are so carefully looked after and cared for by Mr. A. H. Baker, together with the large amount of equipment for making hives, and handling the honey were of extreme interest to all. A small flock of twelve ewes and three lambs were seen, which were purchased last spring. Thirteen ewes and a ram were secured at that time at $20.00 per head. The ram was sold and one ewe died. From this small investment $152 worth of wool and lambs have been sold and the fifteen head still remain on the farm. The cost of keeping has been almost nothing, as they have fed mostly on waste places. The visit at this farm ended the tour for another year.

Those desiring to make entry to the Nebraska National Egg Laying Contest should make application for the same in the near future. Only one hundred entries will be accepted and as this contest is open to every poultryman in the state, an early application will be necessary.

Several inquiries have come to this office concerning the control of crickets. The following bait is recommended for their eradication: Mix arsenic with ground carrots or potatoes and place small pieces in infested spots. This is very poisonous and should not be used where there are children.

Elderberries canned as follows makes an excellent filling for pies during the winter months: 1 gallon elderberries; 1 pound of raisins; 2 lemons; 3 pounds of sugar. Cut the lemons in small pieces and cook in a little water until tender. Add sugar, berries, and raisins. Cook a few minutes and can.

State to Have Junior Stock Judging Team

A Nebraska Boys and Girls stock judging team is to go to the Interstate Fair at Sioux City this fall to compete for honors with ten other states. The State Club Leader has announced that as many teams as possible are being trained preparatory to picking the team which is to represent the state. Last year the Nebraska canning team carried off first honors at the Sioux City fair. It was a great honor for the state and especially for the boys and girls club work and it is proposed to send a stock judging team to the fair this year that will maintain the honor of Nebraska.

Bulletin on Lamb Feeding Experiments

A bulletin reporting the use of supplementary feeds in fattening lambs has just been issued by the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station. Eleven lots of lambs were fed 75 days, each lot a different ration. Three lots were fed heavy, medium and light feeds of corn respectively, to see if it paid to limit the corn in a corn and alfalfa ration. In other lots an attempt was made to substitute silage, oil meal, cottonseed meal, hominy, beets, etc., for a part or all of the corn in a corn and alfalfa ration. Experiment Station bulletin 173, "Supplementary Feeds in Fattening Lambs," will be sent free upon request to the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lincoln.

We are experienced, and know how to give service to the owners of Ford cars. We have the same methods, machinery and skill that they have in the Ford factory, and we use the same parts made by the Ford Motor Company. Ford owners are doubly guaranteed by us as to the reliability of our service on Ford cars. Don't try to do it yourself, bring your car here. Incidentally we are getting a few Ford cars and are able to make fairly good deliveries.
