

NICKELS TO FLIVVERS

(Dr. Burris Jenkins in Kansas City Post.)

Here is a news dispatch sent to The Post by J. W. Pattee, who serves The Post as correspondent at Smith Center, Kas.—that is, Mr. Pattee sent it as a news dispatch, but concealed between its lines there is such a wonderful text for a sermon on thrift that the contribution is being borrowed from the news department. But—

You're beginning to wonder what this is all about, anyway, so go ahead and read:
"Smith Center, Kas., Oct. 17.—When the government first began making nickels with buffalo heads on one side, Mrs. G. P. Ebly of Manhattan, Kas., started saving every buffalo nickel that came into her possession. She made a practice of dropping such nickels into a chute that ran from her kitchen to a wooden box in the cellar. A few days ago she took an invoice and found that she had 14,000 coins, aggregating $700. Her husband had long pined for a "flivver." Now he's got the "flivver."

Isn't that an impressive demonstration of the value of saving small things?
Doesn't it prove how easy it is for us to save money if we try?
Just figure, for a minute, what the result would have been if dimes had been used instead of nickels, or quarters instead of dimes! Moreover, while we are about it, let's estimate how many, many nickels, dimes and quarters we turn loose without getting anything tangible to show where the money went.

Remember now, it hasn't been so very many years since the first buffalo nickel was coined, and furthermore, bear in mind that the Kansas woman who amassed $700 worth of nickels did not handle any large aggregate of money from which to extract her small coin savings.

It all goes to show that we fritter away more money each year than we are aware of, unless we stop and take invoice of ourselves and our resources, and it further impresses upon us the truth of the old saying that it isn't so much what we make, as what we save that counts.

We were taught thrift during the war. Now that the war is over, suppose we practice what we learned about thrift, and let's extract a lesson from the example set us by the Kansas woman.

FIGHTING THE H. C. OF E.

Economy is a Point of View Just as Extravagance is.

The national bugaboo, the "H. C. of E." has become the "H. C. or E.", the "E" representing "Everything," and numerous authorities have laid down tactics for fighting it. Among the best are those from the pen of Thomas L. Masson, appearing in the Country Gentleman, as follows:

"Economy in a household consists in minimizing the nonessentials. That is, economize in the things you don't need, and the things you do need will take care of themselves. Remember this: that if you are on the right road what you don't need today is often what you thought you must have yesterday. Economy is a point of view just as extravagance is. No matter who you are or what you do, you can get along on what you have and be happy. Those people who are always worrying about money are the ones who are always wanting things they don't need. Here are a few rules that members of every household should keep in mind:

- "The more you want a particular thing the more you should wait until the day after tomorrow before getting it.
- "Making an impression on others is often rebelling the future; beside, in some mysterious manner everybody knows when you are doing things that you cannot afford.
- "Pay the highest for the best, not the lowest for the worst.
- "When you shriek from knowing where you stand you need a guardian.
- "The things that money buys are incidental when you cannot afford to buy them.
- "When you find it necessary to economize on having the right kind of good time, then there is something wrong with your system.
- "Buy what you can't afford only when you can afford it."

PRACTICE ECONOMY NOW.

Attorney General Palmer Says It's Every Patriotic American's First Duty.

"It is as much the duty of the patriotic American citizen to economize as it was when our boys were over there," says A. Mitchell Palmer, Attorney General of the United States in charge of the Government's investigation of profiteering. "All public men, as well as the press and the pulpit, should preach saving. They should plead with the people to do these things—produce more, consume less; work and save."

The Savings Division of the Treasury Department, and the $90,000 War Savings Societies of the country have been cooperating with Mr. Palmer and his department in the effort to reduce the cost of living, check the profiteer, eliminate waste and reduce extravagance by means of sale and distribution of War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates.

Mrs. Baughman Gains 23 Pounds

CEDAR RAPIDS WOMAN FEELS LIKE A NEW PERSON SINCE TAKING TANLAC.

"Besides getting relief from my awful suffering I have actually gained twenty-three pounds in weight and you may know by that what I think of Tanlac," said Mrs. Sadie Baughman, residing at 1252 F Street, East Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in an interview, recently. Mrs. Baughman is the wife of Harry C. Baughman, a valued employee of the Quaker Oats Company. Her statement while, indeed, remarkable, is by no means unusual as many thousands throughout the United States and Canada have testified to having used the Master Medicine with the same wonderful results.

"It has been something less than three months now," continued Mrs. Baughman, "since I began taking Tanlac and if anyone could feel like a new person I do. I had been suffering from stomach trouble, rheumatism and extreme nervousness for five years. My liver was also in a very bad condition as my skin was as yellow as a pumpkin. My food would sour on my stomach causing gas, pains and spells of palpitation of the heart when it just seemed like my breath would stop. It seemed that I was right on the verge of nervous prostration and my lower limbs ached so with rheumatism that I could hardly stand it. I could neither rest myself or let anyone else in the house rest, I was so nervous and miserable. These troubles had reduced my weight until I was almost a living skeleton and I was run down and felt so badly I could not attend to my household affairs.

"I had used everything in the way of medicines and had been told a number of times that an operation was my only hope of recovery, but I have gotten rid of it all by taking a few bottles of Tanlac. My husband had been trying to get me to try Tanlac for some time, but I refused to do so because I thought it was like other things I had taken and would do me no good. But I kept on suffering and getting worse until one day he brought home a bottle and insisted so that I began taking it. Well, it wasn't long until I found Tanlac was altogether different from any other medicine I had ever used, for soon after starting on my second bottle there was a wonderful change in my feelings. I am now eating just anything I want and am never troubled the least bit with gas on my stomach, palpitation of the heart or any uncomfortable feeling afterwards. My complexion has cleared up until it is like new. The rheumatic pain has disappeared from my limbs and my nerves have quieted down until I can sleep just like a baby. I am really and truly feeling like a new person, and owe it all to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Dakota City by Neiswanger Pharmacy, in South Sioux City by Shane's Pharmacy, and in Homer by Wagner's Pharmacy.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear, or in-cessant hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists sell.
