Sioux City Journal, 9: Ludwig Hattenbach, who settled in the now extinct town of Omadi in Dakota county, Neb., in 1855, and who operated a grocery business continuously in Sioux City for more than fifty years, died of a complication of ailments yesterday morning at his home, 512 Twenty-sixth street. He was in his 74th year and had lived in Sioux City sixty-one years. Mr. Hattenbach was believed to have been the oldest merchant in continuous service in Sioux City. He established a business at 305-7 Pearl street in April 1859. At the time of his death he was engaged in a tea, coffee, and spice establishment at 305 Fourth street, operating the store with his brother-in-law, A. L. Levy, under the name of the Reliable Grocery company. The town of Omadi, where Mr. Hattenbach settled in 1855, is no more. The townsie long since has succumbed to the encroachment of the Missouri river and what was once a promising frontier settlement has been washed down the river. It was located on the Missouri near Homer, Neb. Mr. Hattenbach was a pioneer of the new west. He was born in Lafayette county, in the western part of Missouri, July 5, 1846, during the so called border ruffian days. That was when the then territory of Kansas was deliberating between a slave or free state constitution and shortly prior to the invasion of Kansas by John Brown. His parents were Gottfried and Frances Hattenbach, who were of German birth and who married in Baltimore in the early 40s and took up their abode in western Missouri. From there they moved to St. Joseph in 1850. In 1851, they went to Cincinnati, O., but returned west in 1854 and settled at Council Bluffs, Ia. In 1855, the Hattenbachs located in Omadi, which was giving promise of becoming an important point. The following year they settled in Covington, where the elder Hattenbach was interested in the town site. They moved to Sioux City in 1859 and engaged in business in 1861. An Indian invasion from the west and north caused considerable alarm and the parents again returned with the family to Cincinnati, where they remained until 1869, when they returned to Sioux City. Ludwig Hattenbach and Nathan, his brother, formed a partnership under the firm name of N. Hattenbach & Co., which terminated in the spring of 1878, when the firm of Hattenbach & Magee was formed with D. A. Magee as the other partner. This firm continued in business until 1911, when Mr. Magee withdrew from the business, but the store was continued by Mr. Hattenbach up to the time of his death. Mr. Hattenbach is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emma Hattenbach; two brothers, David Hattenbach, of Sioux City, and Aaron Hattenbach, of Long Beach, Cal., and one sister, Mrs. D. A. Magee, 309 Thirteenth street. Three brothers, Nathan, Joseph and Mitchell, are deceased. Mr. Hattenbach was a member of several fraternal orders. The Knights of Pythias, of which he was a member, will have a prominent part in the funeral. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence. Burial will be in the Mt. Sinai cemetery. Rabbi Emanuel Sternheim will officiate.

J. S. BACON, County Clerk.

Dakota City, Neb., Feb. 2, 1920.

Now at this time, February 2, 1920, a special meeting of the board of county commissioners being called, and all members being present, it is ordered that the order made at the meeting held on the 27th day of January, 1920, concerning the designation of a state road to be known as "Antelope Trail," running through Dakota county, Nebraska, be set aside, and that the petition filed by S. A. Stoeckey and others in regard to the said Antelope Trail be taken up and considered at an adjourned meeting.

It is further ordered that the matter be taken up with the State Engineer and that some member of his office be requested to go over the different routes proposed as the Antelope Trail, and if possible for said engineer to be present at the meeting when this matter comes up for hearing and at that meeting to make his recommendations.

It is further ordered that arrangements be made with the board of supervisors of Dixon county, Nebraska, for a joint meeting with this board to take up the matter of locating the Antelope Trail.

The petition which was submitted to this board at this time reads as follows:

"To the Honorable Board of Commissioners of Dakota County, Nebraska.

We the undersigned, hereby petition your honorable body that you designate the New State road, to be known as the Antelope Trail, along the route of the present creek road, entering Dakota county from the north line of section nine, township twenty-eight, range six, Dixon county, Nebraska, two miles south of Waterbury, Nebraska, and thence east.

We believe that the road so designated will be to the best interests of the residents of Dakota and Dixon counties alike, and to the great majority of users of the road, for the following reasons:

First, the road would be practically in the center of Dakota county, and so accommodate the greatest possible number of residents of the county.

Second, we believe that the designation of this road should be made with the interests of the greater number of users in mind, and it can be demonstrated that the road for which we are asking will accommodate the greatest possible number of people, in Dixon county and those driving through from the west. It will be admitted that the road as above described will be the shorter by three miles, and avoid several miles of steep hills on the other route. S. C. Stoeckey, M. S. Zook, D. C. Stoeckey, C. H. Harper, G. H. Linters, D. A. Travers, John Lindahl, W. T. Connell, A. L. Snyder, H. J. Bores, B. D. Smith, George J. McClellan, Webb Kellogg, Chas. Lovell, John T. Kalberg, W. L. Wood, H. M. Clatterback, W. R. Beck, Earl Meek, C. H. Carr, E. M. Carr, G. W. Geiger, Percy Lockwood, Fred J. Sheeles, C. E. Anderson, George Frederick, J. W. Utterback, R. L. Ellis, D. P. Roberts, J. H. Hinken, T. W. Luehr, Will Renkel, John Heffernan, T. E. Heffernan, John Duggan, Thomas Long, Chas. Londergan, D. C. Heffernan, J. P. Heene, H. F. Cain, Herman Renze, John Green.

Now at this time motion prevailed to adjourn this special meeting.

Home Demonstration Notes
Miss Florence Atwood
Home Demonstration Agent

Miss Stella Mather, of Wichita, Kansas, is the new home demonstration leader of the College of Agriculture Extension Service. She succeeds Mrs. Emma Reed Davison, who resigned last November. Miss Mather comes from Fairmount college, Wichita, Kas., where she was head of the home economics work. She is a graduate of the Kansas State Agricultural college and was a specialist in foods and household management three years at that institution. She also served one year as assistant home demonstration leader of the Kansas Agricultural extension service. Miss Mather spent one year doing graduate work at Columbia University.

A number of poultry flocks are being troubled with roup. This is more often caused by overcrowding than by not having warm enough quarters. Each bird should be allowed not less than four square feet of floor space.

If you find that some of the flock has roup or colds, separate these from your flock and provide some provision for ample ventilation. Fowls need a continual supply of fresh air, but must be protected from direct wind or draught. Proper ventilation is the first essential to the health of birds.

Birds confined in pens from day to day should be fed grain which are scattered in a deep straw litter. A very good scratch mixture is, two parts cracked corn (by weight); one part of good heavy oats and one part barley.

It should also be kept in mind that a dry mash mixture should be kept before the birds at all times in a box or hopper. A dry mash hopper should constitute part of the equipment of every poultry house. This is an absolute insurance against underfeeding.

A very satisfactory mixture of feeds to be used as a dry mash is as follows:

- 2 parts wheat shorts (by weight.)
- 2 parts finely ground corn meal.
- 1 part finely ground oats.
- 1 part meat scraps.
- 1 pound finely granulated salt to each 100 pounds of feed.

Mr. Chas. T. Cornman, Extension Poultryman, plans to be in this county the 16th and 17th of this month. Those desiring to become familiar with points in culling or are interested in "Selecting Breeders, and Mating for Egg Production," should get in touch with Mr. Cornman.

Good Butter Means Careful Work

Buttermaking begins with the production of the milk, and good butter can be made only from good, clean-flavored cream, says United States Department of Agriculture farmers' bulletin 876, "Making Butter on the Farm." To obtain best results means the use of a separator, thorough cleaning and sterilizing of all utensils, cream of the proper "ripeness" and temperature, proper churning and working. In other words, good butter comes only from careful attention to every step from the milking until the finished product is obtained. Some of the subjects discussed in this bulletin are: Quality and preparation of the cream; the process of churning; washing, salting and working; difficult churning; equipment for farm buttermaking; plan of dairy house; summary of steps in making butter on the farm. The bulletin may be obtained free of charge from the College of Agriculture, Lincoln, Nebraska.
