

HARDING AND HIS NEWSPAPER

The newspaper holds much interest for Senator Harding these days. In the few moments of leisure that are left to him, the Senator, a newspaper editor and publisher himself, reads his newspapers carefully.

College Has Champion Cow

The Nebraska college of agriculture is setting a new record with a seven-year-old Holstein cow. In 283 days she has produced 24,881.5 pounds of milk and 1,104 pounds of butter. 25th 82 days remaining in her year she is still giving more than 70 pounds of milk daily. This cow will probably be exceeded by not more than half a dozen cows in the Holstein breed. The college produced the world's champion three-year-old Holstein cow, with 18,573.4 pounds of milk and 775.55 pounds of butter in a year. At six years of age this cow produced 19,161.7 pounds of milk and 831 pounds of butter in a year. Six of her male calves sold for $2,909.

When Tony Ferrantino and his son, Vincent Ferrantino, opened up a distillery at their place on Walker's Island, a few miles west of South Sioux City, on the farm known as the John Winebrenner place, they reckoned without their host, and brought the wrath of Sheriff Geo. Cain upon their heads. They are now facing a trial before the U. S. courts. Their place was raided last Friday by the sheriff and his deputies, who found two "still" in operation, and several barrels of home-made wine ready for distribution. Eleven barrels of mash were also found, ready to be put through the distilling process. The wine barrels, stills, and a couple of gallons of liquor that came from the stills while the officers were making the raid, were loaded into a truck, and with the prisoners, were brought to Dakota City. Tony Ferrantino was charged with the illegal possession of liquor and gave bonds for his appearance before County Judge McKinley on the 25th. Vincent Ferrantino pleaded guilty to manufacturing liquor and was given the limit, a fine of $100 and costs. Both men were then taken over by a federal officer who appeared on the scene, and were taken before U. S. Commissioner Waldo Whitecomb of Winnebago, and placed under bonds of $750 to appear for trial in the federal court at Omaha. The elder Ferrantino gave bonds for his appearance, but the son had been unable to obtain bonds at the time of going to press.

Cattle Feeders Lost Money

Cost-production figures gathered by the state college of agriculture and the United States department of agriculture show that cattle feeding in Nebraska was a losing game in the last two years. Statistics were gathered on the feeding of more than 6,000 head of cattle during the winters of 1918-19 and 1919-20. While a few feeders made money it was the lot of many of them to lose rather heavily, some of them dropping $50 or more a head, while the entire 6,000 head on the average lost money. It cost from 20 to 35 cents a pound to add weight to steers during the winter of 1918-19 and from 15 to 35 cents a pound the following winter. Unless the cattle were purchased very low they naturally lost their owners money at such cost of gains. Figures on cattle feeding are being gathered over a period of five years in Nebraska and other cornbelt states.
