Not a football game was played last week on account of Jackson turning "yellow" for some unaccountable reason. The fact that Dakota City has won every game played and has shown wonderful science, grit and pep, seems to be the reason of the failure of the "Jackson team" to return the game. But no matter, the game would unquestionably have ended in another

SAVE THE SURFACE.

Save the surface and you save all. Disintegration and decay t are conditions which usually start at the surface of any material. Protection against deterioration or rot of substances, therefore, should begin with care of the exterior. Provided a material does not carry within itself the element of sure decay, proper surface protection will undoubtedly lengthen its life,

Farm Bureau Field Notes C. R. Young, County Agent

Because of the rain last Saturday it was necessary to postpone the boys' and girls' club fair to next Saturday, November 13. The program will be the same as for last week, consisting of a pig show, exhibits of sewing and cooking, demonstrations, stock judging and short talks. The meeting and girls' exhibit will be held at the Homer school house and the pig exhibit at C. J. O'Connor's place, near the school building. There are 64 of these club members, each of whom have done work of merit. Both young and old should see this fair. Dakota county farmers and others interested in agriculture should spend a few days at the Chicago International Livestock exposition at Chicago, November 27 to December This is the climax of all live stock shows. Besides live stock, an unsurpassed hay and grain show will be staged; $10,000 in prizes are offered for this part of the exhibit. Premium lists for the grain and hay show may be secured at the Farm bureau office. In most of the grain classes there are from 25 to 50 prizes offered, with premiums ranging from $5 to $50 each.

Farmers everywhere should make use of their congressman and legislators. Give these men your ideas of what you think your occupation needs to make it a success, and tell them how these changes should be brought about. These men are human and are going to work with and for the men who seek their support. Many of them have expressed and shown themselves as being willing to work for the farmers' interest as those of the capitalist. They are our servants. Let us map out with them, either as individuals or as members of some farmers' organization, their programs for the coming sessions, This winter's session of our legislature will undoubtedly see many new bills introduced, based on the new constitution. These should be carefully followed by farmers who should inform their representative of their views in the matter. He will wel-ecme your criticism. The same will be true of our congress. If these men fall to carry out our wishes, then it will be time to fire them. Don't forget that the capitalist never falls to make his desires krown,

Prominent Men to Address Farmers Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas and Henry C. Wallace, editor of lace's Farmer of Des Moines, Iowa, have been added to the list of promnent men vitally interested in agriculture who will speak at the meet-ings of Organized Agriculture at Lincoln January 3 to 7. Governor Allen will speak at the general session Wednesday, January 5, and Mr. Wallace will deliver two addresses on Friday, January 7, before the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation. Secretary of Agriculture E. T. Meredith will probably be on the prog-ram, and the committee is in correscondence with other prominent men and women, including the Canadian minister of agriculture. Indications now point to these meetings being the greatest assemblage of farmers
