Women to Have Part in Big Meetings
Women are to have an important part in the meetings of Organized Agriculture at Lincoln January 3 to 7. In addition to attending the general session on Wednesday they will have a three-day program of their own, beginning Tuesday. The Nebraska Home Economics association and the Nebraska Homemakers' association are co-operating in a joint session. Several farmers' wives and specialists of the State college of agriculture and the United States department of agriculture are on the program to discuss subjects of vital interest to women. Now that politics are out of the way for a while the women will turn their attention to home and community problems. Every farmer attending the meetings of Organized Agriculture is supposed to bring his wife and daughters.

SIMS EXPRESSES WARM TRIBUTE TO RED CROSS

"Government officials can make no expenditures, even for the relief of suffering and in aid of our disabled heroes, in the many urgent cases that have not been foreseen and provided for by law; and often the necessarily cumbersome machinery of government departments renders prompt action difficult if not impossible.

"The Red Cross can and will perform these essential services promptly and efficiently to the extent rendered possible by public support. It has demonstrated its efficiency both in the great war and in peace, and deserves the support of all who have the health and welfare of our people at heart.

RED CROSS HELPS SOLDIERS IN CAMP

Life in any military or naval camp at present, especially in the hospitals, would be considerably dull were it not for the Red Cross. It is the same everywhere. Red Cross these veterans, sick or well, find serving them, now, even though two whole years have elapsed since the war ended.

One of the principal features of its work is the entertainments it arranges. Each night in every theater or hut in camp, a movie show is given, with a full vaudeville show as an added attraction at least once a week. In the hospital wards where the patients are too ill to leave their beds, these shows are staged there for them. The convalescent houses and huts of the Red Cross are the enlisted men's clubhouses. In them are held not only the shows, but frequent parties as well, just as was done when most of America's young manhood was frequenting such places. Excursion trips for the wounded, too, are furnished by the Red Cross. Athletic equipment of almost every description can be had at every camp for the asking.

The work of the Military Relief service in the Central Division at present is confined to the five camps in this section—Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Camp Grant, Ill.; Ft. Des Moines, Ia.; Camp Custer, Mich., and Ft. Sheridan, Ill.

Thousands of the wounded, sick and well soldiers and sailors in these camps swear by the Red Cross—not any more stanchly, however, than the many other thousands still in the service and the millions who have left it. They have the Red Cross to thank for many pleasant hours and attentions they would not enjoy had the organization demobilized its army of military workers and let the memory of the men still in the hospitals and camps slip from its mind.

Health is the second blessing that we mortals are capable of—a blessing that money cannot buy.—Izaak Walton.
