CONDEMN HIGH PRICED STOCK FOODS

Prominent Hog Raiser Says Prices Charged Are Unwarranted-Makes His Own Hog Food, With Better Results.

"That he is all through paying fancy prices for stock foods and hog remedies and that he is raising some of the best hogs ever placed on the market," was the statement made recently by E. H. Beckstead, wellknown hog raiser and authority on live stock.

Mr. Beckstead's hogs are the envy of his neighbors, and have "topped the market" for several years in He states that for years he bought high-priced hog foods and hog remedies, but he is all through paying extravagant prices for what he can make himself. He states that what the hogs need are minerals, and the fight by nearly a thousand votes. tells the secret of his wonderful sucminerals and cost only a couple of nett home. dollars) and mixes same with enough bran or filler to make a hundred Friday in attendance at a social pounds. DEATH OF RILEY HOWARD

Rile Howard, 64 years old, and an early Nebraska settler, died on Tuesday afternoon of last week in a Sioux City hospitl from an attack of pneumonia.

About eleven years ago Mr. Howard and his family moved from Orchard to this county and became possessors of the electric street car City and South Sioux City, and also the Crystal Lake Park property. For about a year past Mr. Howard had resided in Sioux City, engaged in the real estate business. Riley Howard was born at Fairbanks, Ia., in 1856, and moved to Antelope county, Nebraska, 25 years later. In 1879 he married Julia Cramer of Fairbanks, Ia. Mr. Howard was one of the earliest settlers of Antelope county, he and his brother, John, having taken homesteads one mile northeast of what is now Orchard. For a number of years Mr. Howard was interter in business in Orchard buying stock and grain. It is said that Mr. Howard was the person who named the village of Orchard. Some time ago Mr. Howard was injured in an automobile accident. He had apparently recovered from the injuries he received, but before strength hall been fully restored he took cold, which caused his death. Mrs. Howard, five sons and one daughter survive him-Hary, Ira, Wilber, Frank and Stephen Howard, and Mrs. Freit Drayton of Orchard; o the sheriff this week. It is the also two brothers and one sister-Stephen Howard of Fairbanks, Ia. John Howard of Orchard, and Mrs. Julia Joles of Waterloo, la. It has often been said that Mr.

Howard was a valuable man in the community, as he was always ready to help those in distress. Many of his old time neighbors rehe Treasurer's office before the ceived help from him in a financial way. He practiced the golden rule in his dealings with others. Through the early struggles in this country many were benefited by his goodness and there are many now ready to give their testimony to his worth as a citizen.

Lutheran Church Notes By Rev C. R. Lowe.

We did not have any church service last Sunday on account of the snow storm. The Salem Ladies' Aid will entertain the community at the Salem church on Friday, February 11, at 7.30 sharp, at a "fair." There will be a program. There is not to be Raymond Ream was taken serious any admittance fee, and no offering, nor a collection when you get in. after you are in. It is intended that you come and have a good time with your neighbors and friends,

Our only object in the above is been told a lot about the value of the social life in the church, and we do not depreciate it at all. If people do not feel at home there they will hardly be induced to become members in it. If they are minded to become members of the church they will go some distance to be members and not where they do not find a friendly feeling. And they can hardly be expected to do otherwise. May be it is a good theory that they should, but do not go much on theory when sentiment is running things. And if folks do not feel at home and welcome at the church, what is going to become of the church when the present generation of people are gone. It is not a question of this particular church, it is the problem of every church. It may be a trifle more serious with the rural church, but we doubt even that. It used to be the mark of the ancient church and was the wonder of the non-christians, "Behold, how these christians love one another," and it ought to be the mark of the church today to be friendly with those who are not of the church to the end that they be brought into the church, being made to feel that they are wanted. This is a laudable aim in the matter of the social life of the community. We are linked together in a way so that no one is wholly his own, but he is a part of his neighbor and the neighbor is a part of him. If you do not believe that just try to go through this summer and its work and help nobody, and do not ask anyone to help you. It will be bad business, indeed, you will find. There is a lot of life that is not lived between the plow hanfiles. We have to have friends; we like to be with the neighbors. And there is a lot of life that is above that, even. It is fellowship with God. This does not take the place of human fellowship. nor is it built upon human fellowship, but it presupposes human fellowship. "If a man does not love seen?"

his brother whom he has seen, how can he love God whom he has not And we do God a real service when we serve our fellow in the name of God. And again, "If a man say he loves God and hates his brother, he is a har." My, now, how can a christian hold a grudge against another. And yet there are some folks who try to grudge at a neighbor and be a servant of God at the same time. Remember, there is a lot of difference between having your name on the church roll and baving membership in the "true church." The true church is the inner and spiritual church in which are only the believers, the saints, the saved. Men cannot be driven into the church nor compelled to stay there. They have to be drawn into it by the evidences of the power of the gospel in the lives of those who are there, and as a rule they are kept there because they find holy fellowship there. We can see how it is possible for a man to remain faithful and be alone, to live on a plane of christianity where he is not moved by the waywardness of Job, trust in God, though he slay us. but that is not the way with most men. So we will be friendly next Friday night at the Salem church. There was a council meeting of the Salem church at the parsonage last Friday afternoon to consider the matter of the encroachment of

Rev. S. A. Draise, Pastor

The Thursday evening meeting is rowing in interest and attendance, The subject for last week was "The Epoch of Human Government." The meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schalnus. Next Thursday the meeting will be with' Mr. and Mrs. Mell A. Schmied. The ubject is, "Abraham," in the epoch of promise. As soon as the attendance is so large that the homes can ot accommodate, we will hold the ervice at the church. There is nothing more interesting than the Bible study when one gets really interested. And there is nothing more mportant in life than to know the human-divine relationship.
