

DARLING BABY BRIGHTENS HOME

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days in all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth, for this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show these few lines to anybody."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 1/2 Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives.
Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."—Mrs. R. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:
Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Farmer Had No Idea of Allowing Hired Man to Beat Him in Gathering Corn.

A Sullivan county farmer hired a man to help him gather his corn last season. Now, the farmer had a reputation for being an efficient worker, but the hired man was not daunted by it. They started out side by side, the hired man being advised by the farmer to keep as close to him as he could with the row he was gathering.

But lo! the new worker after a few minutes of keeping up with the farmer, passed him and soon was several feet ahead. Frantically the farmer pulled the ears from the stalks, but the new man still kept gaining. Then all at once he heard the farmer shout, "Stop," he yelled, "Stop, if you want to work for me, I never yet let any man who worked for me get ahead of me."

Material Called Lamb's Fleece in Syria Merely Went by Another Name in England.

A certain young globe-trotter, possessed of more money than brains, was recently traveling in Syria. While journeying through the interior he was prevailed upon by one of the sons of the prophet to purchase at a very large price a quantity of what was described as Syrian lamb's fleece.

This, when he returned to London, he sent to his tailor with orders to line an overcoat with it. A few days after he called to try on the coat.

"You didn't send us quite enough material, sir," remarked the tailor, "and I had to get some more to line the sleeves."

"But," remarked the traveler in surprise, "it's impossible to obtain that fleece in England, it's only to be obtained in Syria."

"Not at all, sir," was the reply. "In England we call it rabbit skin."—Montreal Herald.

PRESIDENT DELIVERS INAUGURAL ADDRESS AFTER TAKING OATH

Speech Chiefly Devoted to Necessity for World's Reconstruction.

UNITED STATES MUST ASSUME LEAD IN TASK

Chief Executive Says He Considers Electoral Vote a Mandate From the People Upholding Policy of Aloofness From Foreign Entanglements—As to Tariff Readjustments.

Washington, March 4.—President Harding, in his inaugural address, spoke substantially as follows:

My Countrymen—When one surveys the world about him after the great storm, noting the marks of destruction and yet rejoicing in the ruggedness of the things which without a great world war, America has breathed the clarified atmosphere with a strange mingling of regret and new hope. We have seen a world of passion spend its fury, but we contemplate our republic unshaken, and hold our civilization secure. Liberty—liberty within the law—and civilization are inseparable, and though both were threatened, we find them now secure and there comes to Americans the strengthened assurance that our representative government is the highest expression and surest guaranty of both.

Standing in this presence, mindful of the solemnity of this occasion, feeling the emotions which no one may know until he senses the great weight of responsibility for himself, I must utter my belief in the divine inspiration of the founding fathers, and the great purpose which God's intent in the making of this new world republic. Ours is an organic law which had but one ambiguity and we saw that ambiguity in hope and sacrifice, and blood, with union maintained, the nation supreme and its concord inspiring. We have seen the great truths which the founders wrought. We have seen civil human and religious liberty, and the glorious in the bearing, the world's motto, our experiment, today our foundations of political and social belief stand unshaken, a precious inheritance to be passed on as a shining example of freedom and civilization to all mankind. Let us express our grateful reverence for the immortal beginning, and utter our confidence in the future.

No Entanglement With Old World.

The recorded progress of our republic, materially and spiritually, in itself proves the wisdom of the inherited policy of non-involvement in old world affairs. Confidence of our ability to work out our own destiny, and jealously guarding our right to peace, we have not allowed the destinies of the old world. We do not mean to be entangled. We will accept responsibility except as our own conduct and judgment in each instance may determine.

Our eyes never will be blind to a foreign menace, our ears never deaf to the call of civilization. We recognize the new order of the world, with the closer contacts which progress has wrought. We sense the great need of the human heart for fellowship, fraternity and co-operation. We crave fellowship and harbor no hate. But America, our America, the America built on the foundation laid by the inspired fathers, can be a party to no permanent military alliance. It can enter into no political commitments nor assume any economic obligations which will subject our destiny to any other than our own authority.

Will Associate in Counsel.

We will associate in counsel with the nations of the world, great and small, for conference, for counsel, for aid, for help, for progress. We will not recommend a way to approximate a disarmament and relieve the crushing burdens which rest upon the nations. We will not participate in suggesting plans for mediation, conciliation and arbitration, and will gladly lend our aid to any conference of progress which seeks to clarify and write the laws of international relations. We will not participate in suggesting questions as nations are agreed to submit to the arbitration of a world court, for the disposition of such justiciable questions as nations are agreed to submit to be made in the exercise of our national sovereignty. Since freedom impelled, and independence excited, a world super-government is contrary to everything we cherish, and can have no sanction by our people. This is not selfishness, it is sanctity. It is not aloofness, it is security.

Declares Nation Has Spoken.

The success of our popular government rests wholly upon the correct interpretation of the national will. Intelligent and patriotic popular will of America. In a deliberate questioning of a suggested change of national policy, where internationality was to supersede nationality, we turned to a referendum of the American people. There was ample discussion, and there is a republic mandate in manifest understanding.

America is ready to encourage, eager to initiate, anxious to participate in any assembly program likely to lessen the probability of war and promote that brotherhood of mankind which is the highest conception of human relationship. We aspire to a high place in the moral leadership of civilization, and we will maintain America, the proven republic, the unshaken temple of representative democracy, to be the impetus, the inspiration, and example, but the highest agency of strengthening good will and promoting accord on both continents.

United States as an Object Lesson.

We must understand the ties of trade bind nations in closest intimacy, and none may receive except as he gives. In the new order of finance and trade we mean to promote enlarged activities and seek expanded confidence.

TO COMBINE THREE SERVICES

Department of National Defense, it is believed, will meet with General Approval.

Washington.—President Harding's determination to amalgamate war, navy and air services of the government into a single department of national defense, with one chief and two secretaries for each division, one purchasing agency for all and with joint boards of each service responsible for home, it also revealed the heart of America as sound and fearless and beating in confidence unflinching.

Supreme Task Before Nation.

Our supreme task is the resumption of our onward, never-ending, reconstruction, readjustment, restoration—all these must follow. I would like to hasten them, to lighten the burden which add to the resolution with which we take up the task. Let me repeat for our nation, we shall give no people just cause for making war upon us, we hold no national prejudices, we do not hate, we do not covet, we do not seek to conquer nor boast of armed prowess. If, despite this attitude, war is again forced upon us, I earnestly hope that it may be found which will unify our individual and collective strength and consecrate all America, materially and spiritually, body and soul, to national defense. There is something inherently wrong, something out of accord with the ideals of representative democracy, when one portion of our citizenship turns its activities to private gain amid defensive war while another is making sacrifices or dying for national preservation.

A regret for the mistakes of yesterday must not, however, blind us to the tasks of today. War never left such an aftermath. Discouraging indebtedness confronts us like all the war and peace obligations, and the obligations must be provided for. No civilization can survive repudiation. We can reduce the national debt, we can reduce our war and peace obligations, and we will. We can strike at war taxation, and we must. Our most dangerous tendency is to expect too much of government, and at the same time to do too little. We need a rigid and yet sane economy, combined with fiscal justice, and it must be extended by individual prudence and thrift, which are so essential to this trying hour, and reassuring for the future.

Outline Party's Program.

The call is for productive America to go on. I speak for administrative efficiency, for lightening tax burdens, for sound commercial practices, for adequate credit facilities, for sympathetic concern for all agricultural problems, for the omission of unnecessary burdens on government with business, for an end to government's experiment in business, and for more efficient business in government administration.

Duty Before Women Voters.

With the nation-wide induction of womanhood into our political life we may count upon her intelligence, her judgment, her intelligence and her influence to exalt the social order. We count upon her to the individual citizen, and to the performance of the duties of citizenship to speed the attainment of the highest state.

Revolutionists Warned.

If revolution insists upon overturning established order, let other people make the tragic experiment. There is no place for it in America. When world war threatened civilization we pledged our resources and our lives to its preservation, and when revolution threatened to carry the flag of law and order and renew our consecration, ours is a constitutional freedom where the popular will is sacredly protected. Our revisions, reformations and evolutions reflect a deliberate judgment, an orderly progress, and a means to cure our ills, but never destroy or permit destruction by force.

Tariff Readjustment.

It has been proved again and again that we cannot, without throwing our markets open to the world, maintain American standards of living and position as a nation. We must have a tariff which will protect our industry and our commerce in such unequal competition. Today, as never before, when peoples are seeking trade restoration, we must have a tariff which just our tariffs to the new order. We seek participation in the world's exchange because therein lies our way to widened influence and the triumph of peace. We know full well we cannot sell the goods of our country, and we cannot successfully where we do not carry. Opportunity is calling not alone for the restoration of our trade, but for the creation, transportation and trade. We shall answer it best by meeting the demand of a surpassing home market, by promoting production and efficiency and bidding enterprise, genius and efficiency to carry our cargoes in American bottoms to the markets of the world.

America's Highest Ideals.

We should not have an America living within and for herself alone, but we should have been self-reliant, independent and ever nobler, stronger and richer. Believing in our higher standards, reared through constitutionally liberty and maintained opportunity, we invite the world to the same height. But pride in things brought us no rest of a completed task. Common welfare is the goal of our national endeavor. Wealth is not inimical to well-being, it ought to be the friendliest agency. There never can be equality of rewards or possessions so long as the human plan contains varied talents and differing degrees of industry and thrift, but our ought to be a country free from great blotches of distressed poverty. We ought to have a watchful guard against the perils and penalties of unemployment. We want an American of homes, illumined with hope and happiness, where our children, freed from the necessity for long hours of toil beyond their own doors, may preside as heirs the hearthstone of American citizenship.

Solemn Pledge to the People.

Service is the supreme commitment of life. I would rejoice to do my part in the era of the Golden Rule and crown it with the autonomy of service. I pledge an administration wherein all the agencies of government are called to serve, and ever promote an understanding of government purely as an expression of the popular will.

One cannot stand in this presence and be unmindful of the tremendous responsibility. The world upon which has added heavily to our tasks, but with the realization comes the surge of high resolve, and there is reassurance in the God-given destiny of our republic. If I felt that there is to be sole responsibility in the executive for the America of tomorrow, I should shrink from the burden. But here are a hundred millions, with common concern and shared responsibility, awaiting in good and country. The republic summons them to their duty and I invite co-operation.

I accept my part with single mindedness of purpose and humility of spirit and implore the favor and guidance of God in His Heaven. With these aims unflinching, and confidently face the future.

I have taken the solemn oath of office on this passage of history, and wherein it is asked: "What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." This I pledge to God and country.

The proper defense of the country at all times, it is believed, will meet with the hearty approval of men who have given this subject much disinterested thought in recent years.

Mr. Harding must get consent of congress to merge the departments mentioned, and prior to asking its permission, John W. Weeks, new secretary of war, and Edwin Denby, new secretary of the navy, must work out the plan of action.

The amalgamation might easily reduce expenditures at least a third.

Stock Raising in WESTERN CANADA

is as profitable as grain growing. Successes as wonderful as those from growing wheat, corn, barley, and flax have been had in raising Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Hogs. Bright, sunny climate, nutritious grasses, good water, enormous food crops—these spell success to the farmer and stock raiser. And remember, you can buy on easy terms Farm Land at $15 to $30 An Acre —and equal to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre—grazing land convenient to good grain farms at proportionately low prices. These lands have every rural convenience; good schools, churches, roads, telephones, etc., close to live towns and good markets. If you want to get back to the farm, or to farm on a larger scale than is possible under your present conditions, investigate what Western Canada has to offer you.
