

THIS WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Brings a Ray of Hope to Childless Women

Lowell, Mass.—"I had anemia from the time I was sixteen years old and was very irregular. If I did any house-cleaning or washing I would faint and have to be put to bed, my husband thinking every minute was my last. After reading your text-book for women I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and have never felt better than I have the last two years. I can work, eat, sleep, and feel as strong as can be. Doctors told me I could never have children—I was too weak—but after taking Vegetable Compound it strengthened me so I gave birth to an eight pound boy. I was well all the time, did all my work up to the last day, and had a natural birth. Everybody who knew me was surprised, and when they ask me what made me strong I tell them with great pleasure, 'I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never felt better in my life.' Use this testimonial at any time."—Mrs. ELIZABETH SMART, 142 W. Sixth St., Lowell, Mass. This experience of Mrs. Smart is surely a strong recommendation for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is only one of a great many similar cases.

THE NEW WAYS OF SPRING SUITS

"AND so they lived happily ever afterward" is never written in the story of styles, for they pass quickly, to reappear, however, after a time in new phases. We have arrived at the most exciting chapter in the story of spring suits, for the unexpected is happening. Just when the subject of styles for spring and summer appeared to be exhausted and the time to write "the end" seemed near along came some fascinating new developments to absorb our interest.

Among them there are distinctive models, probably inspired by the Paris openings, that have long coats but these are not the suits that occupy our thoughts. It is the new ways in which the first ideas presented have been developed that compel attention. Two of these new ways are set forth in the suits pictured above, modeled in styles that proved successful from the first, but embodying details that are entirely new. At the left of the picture a flaring box coat of Chinese inspiration runs true to form with an applique border that is a mimicry of embroidery and regulation sleeves. But its collar never heard of the flowery kingdom.

In the street costume at the right a one-piece dress with a short matching coat, which may or may not bear its company, is sure to win many admirers. It has a long waistline and a handsome brocaded girdle, instead of the popular ribbon sash with hanging ends. The jacket is short and open at the front. It is lengthened at the back with embroidered motifs finding effective placing both at the sides and back. The sleeves are ingeniously finished with a wide strap of the goods. In the skirt the noticeable feature is the disposition of its fullness, which is gathered to the waistline scantily at the sides and full at the front.

Pretty Things for the Baby

IT IS a fortunate thing for all the interested friends who wish to bear gifts to the baby upon his arrival, or to anticipate it with them, that there are ribbons to depend upon. Ribbons solve practically all problems when the matter of selecting gifts comes up and they either make or adorn nearly every belonging of his babyship. These belongings are about the same from year to year, but they are developed in endless ways, mostly by varying their adornment. They inspire the same enthusiasm that each succeeding springtime does and are as perennially lovely—proof of this is at hand in the group of new ribbon-made or ribbon-adorned baby things shown above.

This picture portrays only a few of the many ribbon accessories for the baby, that are shown in the shops. The most pretentious piece in it is the carriage robe made of thin, flowered silk, with a frill of satin ribbon about its edge. Instead of embroidery or ribbon applique carriage robes often look for adornment to big and ample bows or rosettes of satin ribbon, to be fastened on with a safety pin when in use. These in themselves make lovely gifts. Then there is the carriage strap made of wide elastic covered with shirred ribbon and usually embellished with bows or rosettes of ribbon.

Sachets are among the most popular of gifts and their story is a long one—there are so many kinds. Little sachet bags, shown at the left of the picture, are made of satin ribbon in many flowerlike tints, and filled with delicately scented cotton. A larger sachet of wider ribbons is pictured with cross outlined with baby ribbon ruching and decorated with tiny flowers of it. The prettiest of the sachets shown here simulates a flower made of overlapping petals, each petal stuffed with scented cotton and outlined with ribbon ruching.

Little sleeve and stocking garters of elastic covered with shirred satin ribbon as pictured are finished off with ribbon flowers, bows or rosettes of very narrow ribbon, and they are indispensable in the baby's affairs.

Now An Electric Doll?

Whoever heard of an electric doll? The idea has been patented by David Zaiden, of East Orange, N. J., and, with the help of an armature in the head of the doll and a little battery to energize it, he gives to the manikin lifelike movements of the arms. The arms are connected by a spiral spring; which passes through a tube that is hung on a rod carried by the armature of an electric magnet. When the electric magnet is energized the arms are agitated with movements simulating life, the effect being increased by the resiliency of the spring. —Philadelphia Ledger.

Why Castoria?

YEARS ago Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups were the remedies in common use for Infants and Children; Castor Oil so nauseating as to be almost impossible and the others all containing Opium in one form or another, but so disguised as to make them pleasant to the taste, yet really to stupefy the child and give the appearance of relief from pain.

It required years of research to find a purely vegetable combination that would take the place of these disagreeable, unpleasant and vicious remedies that from habit had become almost universal. This was the inception of, and the reason for, the introduction of Fletcher's Castoria, and for over 30 years it has proven its worth, received the praise of Physicians everywhere and become a household word among mothers.

A remedy ESPECIALLY prepared for Infants and Children and no mother would think of giving to her baby a remedy that she would use for herself, without consulting a physician.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism. You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents, also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.
