Have you the postoffice disease? Its symptoms are, getting into a corner of the postoffice lobby and waiting and giggling until you get your "male," or are forced to go home disappointed.

We know a little girl who is awful thin, who wears her dress above her shin; but she is one of those little dears who is ashamed to expose her ears.

An old Hebrew maxim says: "Love him who tells thee thy faults in secret." We would like to see the color of the man's hair who can do it.

The agony is over, the legislature has adjourned. Whether for good or ill, their edicts are on record and we must abide by them for the next two years at least.

The girl students of Wellesley college are all wearing their hair bobbed. They had better stay away from these parts, for they would be liable to arrest for indecent exposure of their ears.

The legislature has passed one blamed good bill at least. No more Japs or Chinamen can acquire title to land in this state. Japs and Chinamen are all right in their place but it is not among white people.

An exchange suggests the following four ways to commit suicide: Start an argument with a cross-eyed chauffeur; buy a quart of booze from a stranger; ask your boss for a raise, or go home to your brunette wife with a blond hair on your coat.

The agricultural college at Lincoln has discovered a simple, cheap and easy way to tan hides at home, and offers to send out directions to anyone interested. Huh! Our dad knew that secret fifty years ago, and used to tan our hides every day or so.

There is a darned lot of yapping going on over that island of Yap which is only about as large as a postage stamp, and is located out in the Pacific ocean somewhere near Japan. We cannot understand what this country wants of the blamed thing unless they desire to populate it with "yaps" from this country; and it wouldn't hold one per cent of them.

American Cement Has Had About All the Sand Put in It Will Stand.

By GEN. LEONARD WOOD, United States Army.

I am heartily in sympathy with the purpose of the New York all-American meeting. We must be watchful of the enemy within our gates. Our danger is not so much from the Red as from our own indifference.

We must implant in all our people the spirit of service, in peace and war. We must strengthen the spirit of Americanism and do everything possible to strengthen the spirit of national solidarity. We must prevent the entry into this country of races which cannot be assimilated, whose children cannot intermarry with our own. The American cement has had about all the sand put in it will stand.

We welcome those who come here to strengthen and build up. We must exclude those who come here to tear down. We must devote more attention to public education and to public and private morality, the basis of the square deal for both, liberty within the law, no class legislation, no autocracy of wealth or of labor. Seeking peace, we must ever be prepared for war. Behind our peaceful endeavors must be the organized strength of right. We must kill the propaganda which strives to sow discord between us and those beside whom we fought. We must work in harmony in the establishment of a righteous peace. We must remember our soldiers and sailors, who offered everything, even life itself, in the hour of need. We want America first, not in wealth and power alone but in real leadership, in the spirit of helpfulness to a world in trouble.

Farm Bureau Field Notes C. R. Young, County Agent

A poultry demonstration, showing the sodium fluoride method of lice control and a spray for mites, will be given at the John Twohig farm in Summit precinct at 2 p. m. Thursday, May 19th. A talk on the care and feeding of young chicks will be given at this time. This will be the last of this series of meetings to be given this spring.

The Salem community has engaged for its May meeting the Midland Entertainers. The program will consist of musical numbers and readings. Some of the very best talent from Midland College will appear for this engagement, which will be held at the Salem church, Friday evening, May 13th. A small fee will be charged at the door.

This month's community meeting for Summit precinct will be held at the Curran school, Saturday evening, May 14th. An illustrated lecture on hog diseases, sanitation, feeding, etc., will be given by the County Agent, Mr. E. H. Gribble. He will explain the marketing system as proposed by the U. S. Grain Growers Incorporation.

A letter from the Fiddler Creek community states that they had a "Jam" full house at their community meeting on the evening of April 29. Besides a large local program, which was delivered in line shape, Dr. Henry Kersten spoke on hog diseases and sanitation. They plan to make their next meeting one on sheep raising.

During the past week the County Agent gave illustrated talks through the use of the lantern at the Combs, Elk Valley, and St. John's communities. Large crowds were present at each of these places. Some splendid local entertainment was supplied at the Combs and St. John's meetings. At Elk Valley, Mr. E. H. Gribble spoke on marketing.

For their community meeting, Walker's Island held an ice cream social with local entertainment. A fine time is reported. The proceeds of the evening goes into their ever increasing fund for a community building.

Urges Horse Breeding

The return to the use of more horses, both in the cities and in the country, has caused the State College of Agriculture to urge extensive breeding this spring. In addition to a much increased demand for good draft horses in the cities, especially for short haul work, the farm demand has also taken an upward trend, due in part to the light breeding of the last few years, and in part to a more extensive use of horses on farms this year. Breeding on farms has been so light that there are now many more old horses and mules in the country than young animals. The result may be an extraordinary demand for replacement stock in a few years. The farmer who does not raise colts to replace his old horses will have to buy in open market. The College is urging farmers to breed, first to replace their worn-out horses, and second, for the market. In order that there may be a ready sale for any surplus, it is well to breed good mares to good stallions, producing a good type of draft animal. There is now, has been, and will likely be in the future, a demand for good draft animals. Exporters say they will be in the market for this type, once exchange conditions are right.

Lutheran Church Notes

By Rev. C. R. Lowe.

The Mother's day service was well attended last Sunday. The special features of the morning were a solo by Miss Frank Brown, accompanied by Miss Savidge, of South Sioux City, and two anthems by the chorus.

We were pleased to see the faces of some good friends whom we had not seen for a long time.

It is a good thing to keep some special days in the church during the year in order that we may have our attention brought to various things which we should not forget. We would not do away with the Fourth of July as a national holiday and time for celebration. We would not forget founding of the nation if we did, but we would drift away from the old spirit of the father, which gave the country birth; it is a mighty good thing to celebrate the day fittingly. So in the church there are great days, and they ought to be kept for what they are and because of the thing which occurred on that day.

Next Sunday is White Sunday. That is the English name for Pentecost. Pentecost is fifty days after Easter, at which time the Holy Spirit was given, the special festival is in commemoration of that great event. It has come to be a time when young people are confirmed and when infants are baptized, and takes the name White Sunday from the fact that white dresses are used by many at that time. It is also a day when "orders" or places of distinction were conferred and the recipients wore white robes. The Roman Catholic church celebrates the entire fifty days, the Protestant churches, which keep the time at all, celebrate, for the most part, but the one day, and at most the week preceding, and the reason for this is to do away with the great number of holidays in the church.

Last Thursday a number of the members of the Salem church gathered at the church to clean it. On Friday several oiled the floor of the anteroom. On Sunday there was a great improvement in appearance of the church. On Monday a half dozen men took down the stove, fixed the pump, put up a couple shelves, fixed the roof and the chimney burned some brush and cleaned about the place in general. All this is a distinct improvement.

CLUB PRIZES WON IN NINETEEN TWENTY

(From Farm Bureau News)

The year 1920 was banner for club work in Dakota county. Not because of the large number of boys and girls who started the work, but for the high percentage who finished and the large number who won prizes. As for the number entering the work, at least two other years can boast of larger memberships, but those who finished were greatly in the minority. A total of 111 cash prizes were won amounting to $579. This consisted of money won at the Interstate fair, Farm Bureau prizes, Breeders Association, and special prizes and achievement day. Besides, our dairy demonstration team won a $25 first and the judging team a $5 third at the State fair. Other prizes were a fall gilt and three free trips to the Boys and Girls club week.

M. E. Church Notes

Rev. S. A. Draise, Pastor

The weather was very accommodating last Sunday. It cleared away for each service and gave time to have a splendid session of the Sunday school and both services between services. The morning service was well attended and all seemed to have the spirit of the day.

The evening service was a boy's program. Mr. Fred C. Woolworth, the Boy Scout chief of Sioux City, was the speaker. The boy's choir did excellent work, and the "Little Boy Blue" and "Mother's Prayer" were well rendered. About sixty parents and children were present and were enthusiastic for the plans for boy's work. It is to be further developed on Wednesday evening. Mr. Woolworth will be here again and will present the "Scout Work." A boy who is interested in the work is especially requested to come. If not interested, come anyway, and you will be. Dads, we want you there also. But, Girls! Listen here! You will not enjoy this meeting and there will be no place for you in any part of the program. This is for boys. Your chance will come later. We hope none of the girls will make the mistake of coming this time.

The program for this week:

Wednesday evening, 7:30, "Boys' meeting," church basement.

Thursday evening, 8 o'clock, "Bible Study," auditorium of the church.

Sunday morning, Sunday school, 10 o'clock. Service at 11 o'clock.

Sunday evening, 8 o'clock, Baccalaureate service for high school. Special music.

You are invited to attend these services.
