Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarrhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the Mucous Surfaces. ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE. HYMENIAL.

Dan Cupid is a sly little fellow, and we had begun to think he had left Royal to take care of himself. However, on Friday evening last, we were forced to reach a different conclusion, when the invitations were sent out announcing that a shower party would be given in honor of Miss Pearl Francisco, a bride of the week. Mrs. Ray Chamberlain and Mrs. Walter Charl entertained thirty friends in honor of the bride, who received many beautiful gifts. Her marriage to Mr. Clare R. Preston took place Sunday morning at Marion, Iowa.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Ray Chamberlain of Royal, Neb., and a graduate of the Royal high school in the class of '19. She taught school very successfully, and was a credit to the profession. For the past several months she has been employed at Rundquist & Sons, where her strict attention to duty, and her efficient service won for her a large circle of friends. Mrs. Preston was a conscientious worker in Sunday school, and active in social gatherings. A host of friends will regret her departure, and wish for her no end of joy and happiness.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Preston, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and until recently of Creighton, Neb. He graduated from the high school at Center Junction, Ia. The day after war was declared he enlisted in the navy and served his country four years. During his service in the navy he made a tour around the world. He is a young man of worth, and one who commands the highest esteem of his fellowmen. Mr. and Mrs. Preston will live at Central City, Iowa, where Mr. Preston has a position. We wish them unalloyed happiness on their journey through life.

Farm Labor Situation Easier

The farm labor situation in the entire country is decidedly easier than it has been in the past three years. Nebraska has a plentiful supply, at pre-war prices or slightly above, or 25 to 50 per cent lower than a year ago, according to the State College of Agriculture. Many farmers, however, are not hiring any more men than they have been in the last few years. Some say they have become accustomed to getting along with little or no help while others say they are financially unable to hire. Likewise, the low prices of farm products make many feel unwilling to risk any large outlay for labor.

College Analyzes Farm Incomes

On the theory that farming may be approaching pre-war conditions, the State College of Agriculture has recently published an analysis of a study of the incomes on fifty-eight Gage county farms in 1914. Six of the fifty-eight farms lost money in 1914; 15 made $1,000 or less; 18 ranged between $1,000 and $2,000; while only two made more than $3,000. The analysis shows that men who had a low income made a less efficient use of man and horse labor. An increase in the number of acres farmed per man and per horse meant more profit.

The management of livestock is strikingly brought out. On the three highest classes of farms the livestock inventories are between $2,300 and $2,300, but the sales of livestock rise from $772 to $2,064, an increase of 169 per cent. On these same farms the sales of crops rise from $2,179 to $3,509, an increase of 60 per cent. The size of the farm was not a deciding factor, but efficiency in crop and livestock production told the story. The purpose of the study is to urge upon farmers the necessity of keeping books and making a careful analysis of their business. No business man in town would think of having the amount of money invested which the average farmer has without keeping a careful set of books and from time to time checking up his business to discover the leaks and the unprofitable lines.

WITH THE FUNNY MEN

Tempus Fugit.

The traveler raced his fastest to the one-horse railway station and missed the train by the most vexatious of narrow margins.

"When is the next train in that direction?" he asked, pointing to the receding cars.

"Tomorrow," answered the station agent.

"At what time?"

"Just one minute sooner than right now,"—American Legion Weekly.

He Paid for It, Though.

Mrs. Myles—That's an awfully shabby suit your husband is wearing.

Mrs. Styles—I know it.

"Doesn't he ever buy any new clothes?"

"Why, certainly he does."

"Why don't you make him wear 'em, then?"

"Don't be silly. How do you think he'd look in my clothes?"

Unreasonable Suggestion.

"What will prevent your wife from going through your clothes at night?" asked the citizen who is always telling his troubles.

"Have you ever tried going home without 'em?" asked his unsympathetic friend. "There are no pockets in B. V. D.'s or quilt suits."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Contemplative Mood.

"Do you think the world is growing better and wiser?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Growcher. "AD I'm afraid of is that the world will become so completely interested in abstract questions of morality and wisdom that it'll neglect the plain, ordinary industry necessary to keep it going."

He'd Overheard.

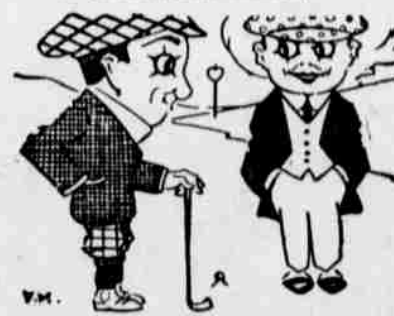

"You've never heard my wife sing, I believe," said the man who was proud of what he was pleased to call his better half's accomplishments.

"Of course I have," replied his gruff old neighbor. "You don't suppose we can keep our windows closed all the time, do you?"

Anticipating an Order.

"Why did you throw those two pieces of toast out there on the grass?" asked the fat restaurateur.

"I wanted to see if a couple of quail would come around and lay down on 'em, sir," replied the white-capped chef.

THE EXCEPTION.

"No gentlemen would lie about his golf score."

"Certainly not—unless, of course, he was quite sure that no other gentleman was in a position to prove the falsehood of his statements."

A Prospector.

He found a well of elbow grease. He found a streak of golden grit; Yet people said of his success That luck had been the cause of it.

Pursued by the Girl's Father.

"I suppose you marry a lot of eloping couples, squire. Quite a source of income, eh?"

"Yes; I get $5 for marryin' each couple, an' they come in such darned haste I allow fine 'em $10 or more for speedin'."

One of the Old School.

Beggar (to absent-minded professor)—Please help a poor man with a few pennies.

Professor (very courteously handing him a dollar)—I must beg your pardon, sir, for not having any small change in my possession.

Evened Up.

"Did the laundryman find those cuffs he lost last week?"

"No, John."

"The shirts are no good to me without the cuffs."

"Evidently he figured it that way, too. This week he lost the shirts."

So Temperamental.

"Was your leading lady injured when she bumped her head on the door?"

"No, but it threw her into a fit of jealousy."

"A fit of jealousy?"

"Yes, she saw so many other stars."

Best Way.

Baldue—My highest ambition is to do something that will arouse the whole world.

Scott—Why don't you peddle alarm clocks?—Sparks.

A Bad Combination.

"Why aren't you out in your car?"

"Flat tire."

"Why don't you get it fixed?"

"Flat purse."—Boston Transcript.
