Several methods have been suggested for catching the millers that infest the houses about town. The best one tried so far is to fill a pan partly with water and then pour a small quantity of kerosene on the water. Hang an electric light just above the pan, and the millers will go to the rest.

The annual meeting of the legal voters of school district No. 1, of Dakota county, will be held in the high school building in Dakota City, on Monday, June 13th, at 4 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing two members of the school board, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

At a meeting of Omaha Lodge No. 5, A. F. & A. M., Saturday evening, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: Elmer H. Biermann, master; E. J. McKernan, senior warden; Sherman W. McKinley, junior warden; J. S. Bacon, treasurer; John H. Ream, secretary; Chas. H. Weston, senior deacon; Herman W. Hunt, junior deacon; and Herbert D. Wood, tyler.

Carl Herrold and Ray Winkelblack, of Sioux City, and Ed Cooley, of South Sioux City, were brought before Justice of the Peace D. M. Neiswanger by Game Warden Gilbert the past week, charged with fishing at Crystal Lake without a license. Each were assessed with a fine of $1 and costs of the case which made it about $5 apiece for their sport. Mr. Gilbert intends to see that the game laws are enforced while he is on the job.

The thousands and millions of moth millers which have infested the houses, shade trees, and in fact every conceivable place where they can find cover, has become quite a problem. It is almost impossible to have a light burning at night on account of the pests. Some say it is a sign of a dry summer; others say these millers lay the eggs that hatch the next year. In either case they are a disagreeable pest, and some means ought to be devised to annihilate them.

Burglars tried to crack the safe in the Pollard Oil Co.'s office at South Sioux City Sunday night, but the charge of explosive used by the trackmen blew off the outside door and jammed the inner door so tight that they were foiled in reaching the strong box, which contained only about ninety cents. The Ed Bakke filling station was robbed of three auto tires the following evening. Tom Hodgins, of St. John's precinct, drove his Buick car to Crystal Lake Sunday evening to enjoy the festivities, and it disappeared mysteriously. It was a 1915 model, carrying license No. 233518.

The wedding last Friday evening of Stott Neiswanger to Miss Elsie M. Petrashek, came as a surprise to the many friends of these young people. Miss Petrashek taught the fifth and sixth grades in our schools the past year, and made many friends of both pupils and patrons of the school. The newly-weds went to Sioux Falls, S. D., immediately following the ceremony, which was performed by Judge S. W. McKinley at his home in South Sioux City. They will spend their honeymoon with Stott's sister, Mrs. H. Paquin, who lives at Sioux Falls. The hearty congratulations of their many friends are extended to the happy couple.

Cowhides are cheaper than paper nowadays, but this condition is not reflected in the price of shoes. Perhaps the reason shoes are so high in price is because so much paper is used in their manufacture.

On April 15th the prices of meat animals were the lowest in ten years, according to the Bureau of Crop Estimates of the department of agriculture. The report shows that prices of fat live stock were 37.9 per cent lower than a year ago and 16.3 per cent lower than the average for the last ten years on April 15th. But how about the price of meat to the consumer?

- DAKOTA CITY SCHOOL NOTES •
- J. Irwin Long, Superintendent •

The senior class play Wednesday evening of last week was enjoyed by a large crowd. The high school went on a picnic last Thursday to Stone Park, and all report a good time.

The commencement exercises were Friday evening. Dr. Schneider of Morning-side college, was the speaker. His theme for discussion was "The Call of the World." Eight graduates completed the high school work this year. They are as follows: Kathryn Warner, Genevieve Mason, Willis Morgan, Merrill Blessing, James Graham, George Lahrs, Henry Krumwiede and Clifford Gribble.

The entire enrollment for the year was 134, and all have their necessary days of attendance. The teachers have left, or are leaving for their summer's work. Mr. Long goes to Wayne for a special course; Mr. McCalmont will be in Columbia university for several weeks this summer; Misses Rogers and Kroger will attend the summer session at Wayne; Miss Biermann is at her home near town; Miss Petrashek was overcome by the call of Cupid, so she and her husband, Mr. Stott Neiswanger, are on their honeymoon trip to Sioux Falls, S. D.

Lutheran Church Notes

By Rev. C. K. Lows. The Ladies Aid that was to meet at the home of Mrs. Hugh Graham has been postponed for one week, to meet June 2nd, because of Mrs. Graham's absence in South Dakota at the funeral of her nephew.

The chorus met at the church last Sunday night to practice some songs for the Brushy Bend commencement exercises last Tuesday night.

Mr. Culbertson and Mr. Bates put screens on the windows of the church last Tuesday. This is a distinct improvement.

Next Sunday will be Memorial Sunday. We will have a memorial sermon, patriotic in its nature. Subject: Some high points in American history, the spirit of which it would be well for us to carry over into our religious life. The discourse will center about the first entrance of the British into Boston prior to the beginning of the Revolutionary war.

Hogs Need Minerals

The most successful stock raisers do not feed drugs of any kind to healthy hogs. They do, however, keep certain minerals before their hogs. Wood ashes or charcoal, lime and salt are used by many breeders and as a rule supply the necessary minerals to keep the animals in a thrifty condition. The State College of Agriculture says charcoal can be obtained by burning corncobs. Simply rake up a pile of cobs in the hog pen and set fire to them. When they are well charred quench the fire with water. To make the charcoal more palatable, salt may be thrown on the fire before the water, or salty water may be used. If the charcoal is to be ground up and used in a self-feeder with air slaked lime and salt, no salt need be used on the burning cobs. If no self-feeder is used, the cobs may be raked up and charred and left in the pen for the hogs to help themselves. In such case rock salt and lime should also be placed in the pen. Pigs receiving plenty of milk and running on alfalfa require less of the minerals, but some should always be kept before them.

SOME SMILES

Something Else.
 Business Man—As soon as I found there was a possibility of dishonest profit being made in the position, I got out of it.
 Reporter—Yes, go on and finish the sentence.
 Business Man—I have. I say I got out of it.
 Reporter—Yes, yes; but my business is to discover what you got out of it.
 —Tit-Bits.

Objection Sustained.
 "But, my love, it was only a little game of poker."
 "Didn't it last all night long and wasn't it still going on when you left at daylight?"
 "Why—or—yes."
 "And you call that a 'little' game. I wish you had the same idea about giving me money to run the house with."
 —Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Considerate Woman.
 Hostess—Now, professor, I want you to have numerous plianissimo passages in your selections for the musical.
 Professor Pounder—You are fond of the sentimental, then?
 Hostess—Not especially; but my guests will want to hear themselves talk once in a while.—Boston Transcript.

An Expert.
 "Who's the editor of your 'Advice to Lovers' column?"
 "The fat man over there at the corner desk who is smoking a pipe."
 "Umph! What does he know about heart affairs?"
 "A great deal. He was a divorce lawyer before he entered the profession of Journalism."
 —Birmingham Age-Herald.

A Discarded Style.
 The City Nephew—I'm glad to see Aunt Hetty dresses her hair sensibly instead of wearing those silly puffs over the ears.
 Uncle Talltimber—She tried 'em once an' they got tangled up with the telephone receiver an' she missed more'n half the gossip going on over our 20-party line.

HE'S RIGHT TOO
 She: I never saw you in the light of a lover, George.
 He: You can only see me in the light of a lover, usually, in the dark.

Where Charity Didn't Begin.
 Jack Sprat could eat no fat,
 His wife could eat no lean,
 But no one took up funds for them
 To lick the platter clean.

That's About All for the Boss.
 "Say, Smith, whassamatter? Yesterday when the boss told a joke you laughed your head off, and today when he told you two you didn't even grin!"
 "No; it wouldn't serve me. He told me this morning that there'd be nothing doing about my raise."
 —Richmond Times-Star.

Soft Melodies.
 "Why are angels always represented as playing on harps?"
 "Probably," replied Miss Cayenne, "to keep our minds as far as possible from thoughts of the customary music provided by a phonograph in an adjacent flat."

In the First Person.
 "This typewriter?"
 "Formerly belonged to a celebrated pugilist. He fought many a battle on this machine."
 "You can see that by the battered condition of the letter I."

An Important One.
 "Have you solved any of the great problems of the time?"
 "Only one so far," replied Senator Sorghum. "My great industry and study I managed to get myself re-elected."

Didn't Think Much of It Musically.
 "What did Mrs. Dubwalte think of Miss Yowler's musicale?"
 "She pronounced the lettuce sandwiches delicious."
 —Birmingham Age-Herald.

And She Did.
 Edith—I got a hat at such a bargain this morning I just feel like hugging myself.
 Jack—Hadden't you better have it done by proxy?
 —Boston Transcript.

It Was a Grand Finale.
 Hearne—Was Samson a success as a professional strong man?
 Byrde—Well, we know his last act brought down the house.
