Mike Woerner and family, of Omadi precinct, were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cain. Mrs. J. S. Bacon and Mrs. Geo. W. McBeath were here from South Sioux City last Friday afternoon visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Dryden and son Jack, of Hutchinson, Kan., are here on a visit with Mrs. Dryden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mell A. Schmed.

Rev. and Mrs. Luther Eberly and three children, of Valley City, N. D., visited relatives here the past week. Mrs. Eberly was formerly Marie Runge.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kaufman and baby, of Sioux City, visited Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Antrim. Mrs. Kaufman will be remembered as Frana Hall.

Harry H. Adair accompanied Geo. W. Gribble to Omaha Friday morning by auto, going from there to Lincoln on business, returning home in the evening by way of Sioux City.

Webb Hoch had been pestered with rats taking his young chickens, and finally decided to set a trap and put an end to Mr. Rat; but the rat, when he caught him, turned out to be a cat, of the Pole variety.

Mrs. John Baugous returned from Obert, Neb., Saturday, where she had been for a week at the bedside of her son, Richard Baugous, who was suffering from an attack of appendicitis. She left him somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Miller autoed to Omaha Monday, where Mr. Miller will represent Omadi Lodge No. 5 at the session of Masonic grand lodge held there during the week. They will also visit relatives while in Omaha.

Ed Morgan and family and Misses Verna and Louise Ebel, of Brushy Bend, and Mrs. Archer and son, of Sloan, Iowa, who are visiting in the Morgan home, were Sunday evening guests in the George Cain home, and enjoyed ice cream and cake with them.

Deak Pultz received a letter from the Quintal family at Holyoke, Colo., last week in which they stated that they had been "hailed out." They had about 400 acres of winter wheat, besides their corn and other crops, and everything was driven into the ground by the hail, which laid about in drifts until noon the following day. It means quite a loss to them.

Miss Barbara Neiswanger, who taught in the Lyons schools the past year, has been re-elected to the same position for the coming year. Miss Neiswanger departed last Friday for Chicago, where she will attend the university there during the summer. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. H. C. Paquin, of Sioux Falls, S. D., and together they will visit their sister, Mrs. Franklin G. Bordner, who resides in Chicago.

L. R. Brooks, formerly editor of the South Sioux City Mail, swapped yarns with us a short time Tuesday, while here on business. He had just returned from a trip to Kansas and southern Nebraska, and he was surprised at the difference in prices on the necessities of life in many places where he put up. Thirty cent meals and fifteen cent shaves were common in most localities. In some places he found that farmers were holding most of their last year and the year before crops, waiting for better to return.

The Herald, $1.50 per year. L. W. White of Woodbine, Iowa, is here looking after his lake property. Dakota City defeated the Moore-Schenkberg team on the local grounds Sunday by a score of 14 to 0.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING.

(From Farm Bureau News)

Since questions have arisen regarding the relations of the Farm Bureaus to the Co-operative Extension Service of the State Agricultural Colleges and the United States Department of Agriculture, it has seemed desirable for the national organizations representing the Farm Bureaus and the Extension Service to formulate and recommend to their State and County organizations the following general outline of a policy which may govern the relations of the Farm Bureaus and the Extension Service in their co-operative enterprises.

The County Farm Bureau is a voluntary organization of people engaged in farming and has for its object the promotion of the economic and social interests of agriculture. It is non-secret, non-partisan, and non-sectarian and it is its policy as an organization not to engage in commercial activities. It is open to both men and women on equal terms. While it may engage in other activities it is greatly interested in the promotion of the co-operative extension work in agriculture and home economics organized by the State Agricultural Colleges and the United States Department of Agriculture under the Smith-Lever Extension Act and related Federal and State laws. It may, therefore, co-operate with the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and the Department by contributing of its funds toward the maintenance of one or more extension agents in the work of the Extension Service through its committees and otherwise under agreements with the State Extension Director. The Farm Bureau is organized with a president, secretary, treasurer and executive committee who will themselves or through other representatives of the Farm Bureau solicit memberships, collect dues, handle its funds and in general manage its affairs.

The Co-operative Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and the United States Department of Agriculture is organized as a division of the College to conduct extension work defined in the Smith-Lever Extension Act as follows:

Sec. 2. That co-operative agricultural extension work shall consist of the giving of instruction and practical demonstrations in agriculture and home economics to persons not attending or resident in said colleges in the several communities, and imparting to such persons information on said subjects through field demonstrations, publications, and otherwise, and this work shall be carried on in such manner as may be mutually agreed upon by the Secretary and the State agricultural college or colleges receiving the benefits of this act.

This extension work will deal not only with agricultural production, but also with economic problems, including marketing and co-operative associations and with the interests of the farm and home and the rural community. The Extension Service, including the county extension agent, is as much interested in the marketing, distribution and utilization of farm products as it is in production, and it may properly give information and help in all of these lines.

The Extension Service in each State is under the administrative management of an Extension Director, who is the joint representative of the College and the Department. Under the Director are the State leaders, the extension specialists and the county agricultural agents, home demonstration agents and club agents. The Extension Directors are authorized to enter into co-operative agreements with county officials and county Farm Bureaus or like organizations with reference to financial support for the maintenance of extension work in the county and the plans for the use of the co-operative funds in the extension work within the county.

The general basis of co-operation between the County Farm Bureau and the Extension Service will be as follows:

The County Agricultural Agents, Home Demonstration Agents and Club Agents co-operatively employed will be members of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and under the administrative direction of the Extension Director, and will carry on such lines of extension work as may be mutually agreed upon by representatives of the agricultural college and the farm bureaus or other like organizations.

Since these county extension agents are part of a public service as defined in the Smith-Lever Act, and receive some part of their salary from public funds, they are to perform service for the benefit of all the farming people of the county whether members of the farm bureaus or not, and are to confine their activities to such as are appropriate for public officials to perform under the terms of the Smith-Lever Act. The extension agents will aid the farming people in a broad way with reference to problems of production, marketing, and formation of farm bureaus and other co-operative organizations, but will not themselves organize Farm Bureaus or similar organizations, conduct membership campaigns, solicit memberships, receive dues, handle farm bureau funds, edit and manage the Farm Bureau publications, manage the business of the farm bureau, engage in commercial activities or take part in other farm bureau activities which are outside their duties as extension agents.

The county extension agents will co-operate with the Farm Bureaus or other like organizations interested in extension work in the formulation of county and community plans of co-operative extension work. It will then be the duty of the extension agents under general direction of the Extension Director to take charge of the carrying out of such plans and to co-operate with officers, committees and members of the Farm Bu-

Farm Bureaus Federations, which are working on economic and legislative matters and are also promoting the Extension Service and agricultural education and research. These federations are, however, not directly connected with the Extension Service and do not enter into co-operative agreements with the State Colleges and the Department of Agriculture involving the use of Federation funds and the employment of extension agents, and the colleges and the Department are not responsible for the activities of the Farm Bureau Federations. There is, however, much advisory consultation between representatives of the Farm Bureau Federations and the officers of the Colleges and the Department with reference to plans for advancing the agricultural interests of the States and the Nation.

should spend at least one vacation in "The Land of Wonders"---Yellowstone Park---and see sights and scenes the like of which do not exist elsewhere.

Briefly, the attractions are---an incomparable climate, wild animals of numerous species living their natural life (Yellowstone is the largest wild game preserve in the world); magnificent forests; wild flowers of brilliant hues; in great variety and profusion; lakes, rivers, waterfalls (the Great Fall is almost twice as high as Niagara), innumerable rivers and creeks; geysers, mud volcanoes, hot and mineral springs, exquisitely colored pools; mountains and canyons; wonderful hotels, permanent "comfy" camps, an automobile ride that has no counterpart in all the world and---the Cody Road, which has been called "the most wonderful ninety miles in America."

Why not go this year? Take the family! Decide when, then let me make your reservations so you will be sure of accommodations.

Importers, exporters, travelers---ship and sail under the Stars and Stripes

THERE are today few ports in the world of importance to shippers or travelers, which cannot be reached by ships that sail under the Stars and Stripes. President Harding has said that, "We cannot sell successfully where we do not carry." The American Merchant Marine that once almost vanished is again an established and important carrier of the world's commerce.

You can ship or sail anywhere in American ships designed for utmost comfort and safety.
