A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Houseman of South Sioux City, Friday.

Three automobiles were reported stolen from Crystal lake bathing beaches Sunday night.

Wm. Lahrs was at Pender Friday to install the officers in the Sons of Hermann lodge of that place.

J. H. Todd returned Tuesday from a Sioux City hospital where he had been for treatment the past week.

Walter E. Miller and wife drove to Wakefield, Neb., Saturday evening, and visited relatives over Sunday.

S. L. Anderson of Norfolk, Neb., a former principal of the Dakota City schools, was here on business Friday.

A little son of Louis Krumwiede suffered a broken arm Monday when a team of horses ran away with him.

Rev. S. A. Draise returned home Friday from a trip to Tilden, Neb., where he attended a Sunday school convention.

Mrs. Will H. Orr returned home Tuesday from Rochester, Minn., where she had been for treatment at the Mayo Bros. hospital.

A force of men began work Tuesday moving the electric line between here and South Sioux City to the west side of the highway.

Alfred Biermann went to Ft. Dodge Friday for an over Sunday visit with Prof. C. E. Simsop. From there he went by airplane to Des Moines, to visit his brother.

Hans Johnson, a former resident of this place, now living in Minnesota, was here Tuesday, en route to Bancroft, Neb., where he owns property. His son Emil was with him.

Miss Margaret Sherman, daughter of Mrs. Ada Sherman of South Sioux City, arrived here Sunday from California, where she had spent the past three years attending school.

Ernest Triggs came down from Allen last Wednesday, where he is janitor of the public school building. He has a two weeks' vacation, which he will spend here and at Lake Andes, S. D.

C. E. Francis has purchased the L. R. Sanford house, and is moving it to a location near the Burlington signal tower. Stott Neiswanger has purchased the residence now occupied by the Francis family.

Miss Margaret Bell, a niece of Grandma Barnett, arrived last Wednesday and is visiting at the Barnett home in Brushy Bend. Miss Bell taught in the Brushy Bend school for three years, but for the past seven years has resided in Birmingham, Alabama.

J. W. Tannehill, who was held in custody here by Sheriff Geo. Cain for a week, awaiting the arrival of officers from Milbank, S. D., who wanted him for wife desertion, was released last Wednesday, and he returned to his farm work at Blyburg. However, the South Dakota officers came Tuesday, armed with requisition papers, and took Mr. Tannehill to Milbank for trial.

At the regular meeting of the Masonic lodge Saturday evening the following officers were installed for the coming year: Elmer H. Biermann, W. M.; Edward J. McKernan, S. W.; Sherman W. McKinley, J. W.; Justin S. Bacon, treasurer; John H. Ream, secretary; Chas. H. Fueston, S. D.; Herman W. Surt, J. D.; H. D. Wood, Tyler. Judge R. E. Evans acted as installing officer and Harry H. Adair marshal.

District court convened here Monday in an adjourned session, and a number of equity cases were disposed of. In the case of Mrs. Felix Jauron of Salix, Iowa, against John Herrink and others, a restraining order was granted against them for farming secession land claimed by Mrs. Jauron. In the case of Herman Herchert against W. H. Behrens of South Sioux City involving a land contract in which $900 was at stake, Behrens was given a decision and the contract rescinded. Divorces were granted to Mrs. Mabel McKernan of Dakota City, from E. J. McKernan; and to Mrs. Mae Stillman of South Sioux City, from A. R. Stillman.

Mrs. Jennie E. Ross, age 51 years, died at her home in Sioux City Friday, June 17th, of cancer. She had been a sufferer from the malady for about a year, and death came to relieve her of her suffering. Mrs. Ross resided in Dakota City until about two years ago, coming here with her husband, W. L. Ross, from Emerson, Neb., a number of years ago. Her husband preceded her in death January 8, 1918. They were conducting a grocery store here at that time, and she continued the business after his death, until fall, when she closed out the store and moved to Sioux City to reside. Mrs. Ross was a noble, christian woman. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and a devout worker for the Master in all things. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Esther Jacobson, of Ponca, Neb., and Miss Marie Ross, at home. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from Westcott's chapel, in Sioux City, and a large number of her friends from Dakota county attended the services, which were conducted by Rev. Earl Hoon, of Sioux City. The remains were taken to Emerson, Neb., for burial in the family lot there, and were accompanied by several auto loads of friends and neighbors.

The Dakota City ball team lost a one-sided game to Hubbard Sunday, by a 9 to 1 score.

Miss Mayme Godell has given up her position as assistant operator in the Dakota City telephone exchange.

Miss Emma Kroger, teacher in the third and fourth grades of our school, was down from Wayne for a week-end visit with friends.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Yuster, at the Hiserote home at Homer on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Yuster reside at Ponca.

Prof. H. M. Eaton, the new superintendent of schools for Dakota City, was up from Omaha Thursday and Friday, getting a line on his work for the coming year. Mr. Eaton is an experienced school man, and will give Dakota City a school that we may all be proud of.

The house on the Mrs. Shortly farm three miles southwest of Dakota City is being moved west of the Burlington tracks, on account of the river cutting away the bank at the place where the house was located. The county road at this place has been washed away by the river, and traffic is now being directed around a mile west.

Thoughtlessness in the handling of machinery results annually in the loss of much time and money says a United States Department of Agriculture farmers' bulletin called "Care and Repair of Mowers, Reapers and Binders." Hardly any other piece of farm machinery requires the care in regard to lubrication as does the binder. Careful adjusting and oiling throughout the harvest will send the machine back to the shed with a minimum wear and tear. The bulletin may be obtained through county agricultural agents or from the State College of Agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Leedom of Hubbard, received word last week that their son, Mack Leedom, was married the 10th of June to Miss Gertrude Evans, of Portland, Ore. Mack was born and raised in Dakota county, Nebraska, and was with the first contingent of our boys to enlist in the World War, in which he served 27 months. He received a medal for distinguished service while overseas. After a short wedding trip they will be at home in Portland, Ore. The best wishes of Mack's Dakota county friends are extended the happy couple in their voyage through life.

On the evening of June 15th, a pig club was organized at the John Thacker home south of Homer. Those present who became members were Fred Thacker, Harry Mathews, Evans Vlasak, Gail Lane and John Thacker. Mr. Louis Vlasak was chosen leader.

During the past week, hog cholera was found on the R. A. Messerschmidt farm northwest of Nacora. Mr. Messerschmidt had the disease at farrowing time, but, with prompt vaccination, few hogs died. The sick pigs are those born since the first vaccination. The necessary measures were again taken to stamp out the disease. Because of several cholera outbreaks in that neighborhood during the past few months, it is very advisable that special attention be given the pigs, and it might even be advisable to vaccinate all pigs adjoining those farms.

Don't forget the Farm Bureau Conference at Crystal Beach Park on June 24th and 25th. Big picnic on Saturday afternoon with a 6 o'clock basket dinner.

CORRESPONDENCE

a crisis time was at hand, for the wet forces are using every power that they can possibly bring to bear upon the people in an endeavor to get the Volstead act so changed as to permit the sale of light wines and beer, and if they succeed in this it will mean in a short time the open saloon again. Ninety per cent of all liquors sold in the days of the saloons were light wines and beer, and if the wet forces can get this clause inserted it will mean that beer and wines can be sold at all fountains, ice cream parlors, groceries, in fact anywhere that one would want to sell it. Rev High sounds out the warning to all true citizens not to let down in their fight against the curse of drink; that John Barleycorn is not dead, but much alive, and that we must never ground our arms until he is really dead.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on the subject, "Sowing and Reaping." Many have said that this is his strongest sermon. Come and hear the sins of the day handled without gloves in an uncompromising way. No quarter will be given to sin along any line. It will pay you to hear this message. At 8 p. m. he will preach on "Nebuchadnezzar's Impious Feast," another of his strongest sermons. Let us have a record-breaking attendance next Sunday. Special songs will be rendered at this service.

Card of Thanks

We wish, through the columns of The Herald, to thank our neighbors and friends for the very kind helpfulness in attending the last sad rites of our beloved wife and daughter, and for the beautiful floral offerings. Words are inadequate to express the gratitude we feel in this hour of sorrow.

ELMER BERGER, and MRS. EMMA CHESLEY.

Fly Spray Makes Milking Easier

The use of some kind of spray to keep flies away from the cows will help to make milking an easier task during the hot months. Commercial sprays under different names and trade marks can be purchased at most drug stores, or one can easily be made up at home. The College of Agriculture recommends the following formula, the ingredients of which can be found at almost all drug stores: One gallon of fish oil, two ounces of oil of pine tar, two ounces of oil of pennyroyal, and one-half pint of kerosene. This mixture may be used as a spray or put on with a cloth or brush. A very light application will do the work, as it is the odor that repels the flies. By spraying the cows and their barn lightly the flies will be kept away entirely and the cows allowed to rest in peace.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank all the old friends and neighbors of Dakota City and South Sioux City for the beautiful flowers received, and the kind assistance rendered during the illness and death of our beloved mother and sister.

Marie Ross, Mrs. Conrad Jacobson, Effie T. Engelen.

Malnutrition Kills Many Chickens

Extension poultry specialists of the College of Agriculture declare that improper feeding has resulted in more losses among young chickens this spring than all other causes added together. In many counties in which the men travelled they found chickens suffering from lack of proper ration, and scores of specimens sent to the College's laboratories for analysis revealed nothing wrong other than malnutrition. The most successful poultry raisers are careful to see that their young chickens have plenty of animal protein. This is often supplied chicks during the first two weeks of their life in the form of sour milk—either buttermilk or clabbered milk. After two weeks meat scraps or high-grade tankage is fed. It seems necessary that growing chickens have meat in some form.
