Assertion Made That Anecdotes Compose by Far the Greatest Part of Conversations of Americans.

MOST TALK NOT CONFESSIVE

For hours a group of men will talk, and all problems fall like ducks on a rifle range before their well-aimed epigrams. It may be a brilliant session, but we cannot forbear thinking that not many serious thoughts are expressed with fervor, that few honst emotions have adequate utterance. A gathering often is devoted to anecdotes, quips and the cracking of jokes, like the biblical thorns, under the conversational pot.

Of course, much conversation is necssarily anecdotal, but two travelers who meet in the smoker of a train rossing our American plains do not ell anecdotes merely, says the New York Sun. There the anecdotes take on more meat and grow in lengththey become tales. Again, however learned we are, we forget our pedantry when we talk in a smoker. Yet over a meal among those we know and will meet again we slough off our impulse to modesty and sincere self-expression and launch forth in all our drab erudition or else we sparkle in anecdote and say nothing to the point; forgetting that the best jests, aside the point, seem point-(15.51.

In short, there is not always enough confessive conversation between Americans. In France and in Latin America the art of conversation has become an art of confession-of the confession, indeed, of one's faiths, folbles and fancies. As for us, we feel that no one is so sympathetic per haps, as to merit listening to our personal histories, or, what is more to the point, the emotional accompaniment of these histories,

WRITER'S RIGHT TO BORROW

the Works of the World's

One reads for thought and for quotation not less; if he find his thought more finely conceived and aptly expressed by another, let him quote without hesitation or apology. He has the highest authority for the practice. How rich is Plutarch's page, Montaigne's, Bacon's! And what they borrow is of a piece with their own text. giving it added strength and grace. I know the fashion of our time affects disdain of borrowing. But who is rich enough to refuse, or plead honorably for his exclusiveness? Somehow the printer happens to forget his quotation marks, and the credit of originality goes to the writer none the less. The plea is that quoting often implies sterility and bad tastes. Then Shakespeare and his contemporaries were wanting in wit and fine rhetoric. Hear how Montaigne justifies his practice :

"Let nobody insist upon the matter in the Bible-Job, chapter 19, verse 20, write but my method in writing. Le

TEAR UP FAMED COBBLEWAY

DO MOST WORK ON THURSDAY

Statistics Show That British Factory Employees Are at Their Best About Midweck,

What is the best workday in America? In England it is Thursday.

That is the finding of industrial rethat over a period of twenty weeks "graphs" were made.

The workers gave their best on Wednesdays and Thursdays, but the court, this 21st day of May, A. D. output on Saturday was invariably low. When doubled (to equalize time) It is often less than 75 per cent of that on other days.

Another important conclusion was that the skilled workman is much more regular in his output than the worker not so well qualified. He does not get the "tired Saturday feeling" 80 SOOD.

In some factories the output arises until Friday, but among the less skilled workmen it was found that Thursday was the best working day.

An important consideration which the investigators kept in mind was that of the atmospheric condition in which work is done, Records of the air conditions have been taken with the output records.

In various plants the Saturday output was so low that employers found It unprofitable to operate, so they closed down. From this it would appear that on a half day the worker does not give the average of a half day of production .- Richard Spillane in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

FAITHFUL UNTO DEATH.

Mike .McGonigal and Jerry McGuffin, nationally unknown, had been buddles in the rock-blasting gang. Owing to a premature explosion, Jerry got blasted with the rock, and Mike, in a quandary, wired for instructions. He was told to ship the remains to the nearest undertaker.

Mike scrupulously gathered up all McGuttin's belongings, even to the broken clay pipe, and sent them to the undertaker with this telegram: "As per orders of the boss I ship you the remains of Jerry McGuffin. But what will I do with the body?"

Veteran cobblestones that felt the tread of armies from a new land or bore upon them the weight of prisoners from the country beyond the Rhine as they worked and watched these same new armies disembark are passing into the discard. Long and well they have served their time, giving place to new and younger ones which are being laid by men as old as the service of those others, Not much sentiment about cobblestones, think the old men of Brest as they dig them up and toss them contemptuously aside for the newer and less worn ones, yet back in America the cobblestones of Brest will linger long in the memory of almost 2,000,000 men.

The cobblestones of Brest offered to countless men of the new American armies their first march on the soil of France. What doughboy will ever forget them as descending from the steamer with heavy pack and rifle, he stumbled and clattered across them? As they were the first of French soil to be peneath his feet, so were they the last, as with victory in his kit. with the mud of the Argonna still on his shoes, he slipped gleefully over them to the waiting transport and home.

Worn smooth by army trucks and the tramping of men, the old stones have done their bit. The only echo of those other days that has come to them has been in the trucks of the American Red Cross, which continue still to roll from cargo boat to ware-

Complicated Prescription.

She's sorry now that she didn't spend more time studying and less time on prom class day and similar committees when she was in school and she's trying to make up for it by noting down every new and unfamiliar word she hears to be looked up later in the dictionary. This habit caused her a bit of embarrassment the other night. A friend had told her a new remedy its long name on a slip of paper.

Going to the busy prescription counter she handed a slip of paper to a clerk. He looked at it. He looked hard at it. The other waiting customers, were beginning to get impatient before he finally turned to the girl.

"I can't figure it out," he admitted. "Why, it's simple," si.e told him, "It's for sore throats, see-oh !" She had started to read the "prescription" aloud when she noticed she had hand- | ed the wrong memorandum to the clerk. On it were the words: "Precarious, imperceptible."

Accommodating.

Some years ago, before prohibition was in force, I was traveling, making a great many small towns. As a rule there was only one hotel in a town. and invariably a saloon in the same building. I disliked this exceedingly, and determined to avoid stopping at such a place where possible. One evening, alighting from a train in a small town, I was accosted by two local hotel hack drivers.

"Hotel, lady !"

I thought to myself, surely both of these hotels do not run saloons.

So I said to the nearest driver, "Does your hotel have a saloon in connection with it?"

He replied, "No, lady, but we will send out and get anything you want." -Chicago Tribune.

Paper Once Royal Gift.

There was a time when only the nobility, the great personages of history, could enjoy the use of paper, and then Only 1,800 years ago Emperor Trajan of Rome was the delighted recipient of a munificent gift consisting of 20 reams of paper from the emperor of China. In that age and time, 20 reams of the precious fabric was considered a royal gift indeed, and only a potentate with the vast resources of China at his disposal could afford to give a present of such value,

One can imagine the elation enjoyed by Trajan upon receiving so great a quantity of paper, and thus know that through such generosity he was to augment the number of volumes contained in his library.

"Field" originally meant land on which trees had been "felled" or "field." "Necessity is the mother of invention" is well over two and a half centuries old. These well-known words were first found in Franck's "Northern Memoirs," written in 1658. "Eaten her out of house and home," a phrase, in view of the present price of food, undoubtedly repeated by worried housewives, was originated by Shakespeare for sore throat and had written down in his "Henry IV." "Anything for a quiet life" is an expression which arose from a play by Middleton, bearing that title. "Turn over a new leaf," by the way, was first used in the same play.

Death Valley Once Lake.

In support of the view, that Death valley in California was formerly the bed of a lake, is the discovery of traces of an ancient water-line running along the flanks of the enclosing mountains at a height of 600 feet. The bottom of the valley is 200 feet below sea-level. The winds from the Pacific cross four ranges of mountains before reaching the valley, and by that time they have been drained of their last drop of moistere.

It is said that no spot on earth surpasses Death valley in aridity or Tophet-like heat. The lake that once filled it is believed to have been fed by a river which has now also vanished. The borax deposits of Death Valley are commercially important. but labor is all but impossible in a place where to be without water for a single hour in summer means death.

Fake Teeth for Bears.

Animal dentistry, says a dentist correspondent, is as risky as it is fascinating. The filling of rough or uneven texth of a llon or tiger regulres not only strength but nerve, for you cannot put a wild animal under gas as you can a man or woman. To extract an animal's tooth is far from an easy business, and in many cases it is easier to pull a screw from a plece of oak by means of a pair of pliers. A wellin only the most meager quantities, known menagerie owner once had an old pet bear fitted out with a complete set of false teeth. The plates had to be "glued" to the mouth of the beast in order to keep them in place.

Their Playing-Cards Different.

American playing card manufac turers have a profitable market awaiting them in Mexico and other Spanish-speaking American countries. But cards must be of patterns different from those to which Americans are accustomed. People in those countries demand the Spanish pack. which consists of only 40 cards, and tens. Furthermore, the face cards are different. The ace (called "as") is much like ours; the "rey" (king) wears a crown, the queen is represented by a young woman, and the jack ("caball") is a horse,

Most of the playing cards used in Spanish-American countries are imported from Spain, and are smaller than ours. Commonly they are thin and flimsy, so as to be hard to shuffle, and tearing easily.

History of Potato.

"The potato entered this country," Dr. Laufer said, in an address before the American Association for the Advancement of Science, "not as surmised by De Candolle, through an alleged band of Spanish adventurers, but in a perfectly respectable manner from Bermuda, where it had been introduced some years previously from England. It is a prank of fortune that the potate. originally a denizen of Chile and Peru appears as a naturalized Englishman in the United States. The polato had arrived in England about 1586, or a little later."

Rather the Contrary.

Carried away by the beauty of the heroine on the screen, he murmured. unconsciously, "Isn't she lovely !"

"Every time you see a pretty girl you forget you're married," snapped his better half.

"You're wrong, my dear; nothing brings home the fact with so much force."

The players travel in easy stages of about ten miles a day by motor lorry and use local halls where possible, but sometimes play in the open air. The lorry's acetylene headlights, they find, make excellent "limes."

"We put up at very varied places," one of the party told a reporter. "One night we are the guests of the local squire and the next, perhaps, we are enjoying the hospitality of a miner's family.'

The programs consist of three short plays together with songs and dances. The scheme is beginning to be selfsupporting.

Canada's Auto Industry.

A preliminary survey of the automobile industry for the calendar year of 1919 has been completed by the Dominion bureau of statistics. Three different sections cover automobiles, accessories and repairs, respectively. The capital invested in the industry totals $57,000,000, of which Ontario accounts for more than $48,000,000, with a total of 640 out of the 1.236 plants throughout the Dominion. The total number of employees is 13.084. with a payroll of over $15,000,000. In 1919 there were 61,257 touring cars manufactured in Canada, with a value of over $52,000,000. Trucks numbered 7,527, with an aggregate value of $4,850,000.

Delaware River Power Plan.

Announcement of a proposed plan to develop over a half million kilowatts in water power on the Delaware river, at a total cost estimated at 200 miltion dollars; appears in a recent issue of Electrical World. Active work will be commenced as soon as authorization is received from the federal water power commission. The plan calls for the construction of four dams, with an average head of 80 feet. A steam power plant with a capacity of one hundred thousand kilowatts will be erected somewhere in New Jersey in order to supplement the hydroelectric plant during seasons of low water. Surprising.
