

FREE BULLETINS

From the Farm Bureau News:
The following Bulletins are available for distribution at the Farm Bureau office, and may be had upon written request or by asking for them.

POULTRY

How to select good layers.
Poultry Diseases.
Tuberculosis in Poultry.
Standard bred poultry pays.
Management of growing chicks.
Several purpose poultry house.
Culling for eggs and market.
Poultry primer.
How to select good layers.
Poultry house.
Standard varieties of Chickens.
A dozen hens in the back yard.
Important poultry diseases.
Feeding hens for egg production.

SWINE

Self Feeder for Hogs.
Breeds of Swine.
Hog Cholera.
Swine Management.
Experimental Hog Feeding.
Summer Hog Feeding.

HORTICULTURE

Home Vegetable Gardening.
Home Storage of Vegetables.
Onion Culture.
Cabbage Diseases.
Control of Potato Insects and Diseases.

Diseases and Insects in the Home Garden.

Strawberries in Nebraska.

Roses in the Home.

Warts on Potatoes.

Potato Production.

Commercial Handling of Potatoes.
Income Tax Primer to Farmers.

FARM CROPS

Winter Wheat Seed Bed Preparation.

Forage Crops.

MISCELLANEOUS

Measuring Hay in Stack.
Better Use of Man Labor on the Farm.

The Farm Bureau.

Rag Doll Seed Tester.

Wintering Bees in Cellars.

Cooperation Associations.

AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERING

Plans for Rural Community Houses.

Nebraska Tractor Law.

Nebraska Tractor Tests.

Operating of Threshing Machines.

Iowa Silos.

SHEEP

Fattening Lambs.
Equipment for Farm Sheep Raising.
Sheep Tick.

CATTLE

Feed and Care of the Dairy Cattle.
Breeds of Dairy Cattle.

Beef Production.

Chopped Alfalfa vs. Bran in Grain

Ration—Dairy Cows.

Growing Beef on the Farm.

Judging Dairy Cows.

Purebred Sires Effect Herd Improvement.

Feeding Dairy Cows.

FOR THE HOME

Cottage Cheese Dishes.

Ways to Use Cottage Cheese.

Milk.

Health Almanac.

Care of Baby.

Use of Dried Vegetables.

School Lunches.

Table for Canning.

Making Butter on the Farm.

Status of Home Demonstration

Work.

Home Canning.

Home Drying.

Honey and its Uses in the Home.

Hominy.

Sugar Beet Syrup.

Special Cleaning.

Removing Stains.

Well Planned Meals.

Uses of Dried Vegetables.

PEST CONTROL

House Ants.

House Rats and Mice.

ATTENDED CLUB WEEK

From the Farm Bureau News:
The following leader and club members attended club week at Lincoln:

Mrs. C. C. Beermann, leader of the Boosters of 1921 Poultry club; Fred Calbertson, county champion of the 1920 Heifer clubs, who won a free trip because of his work; Anna Daley, who also won a free trip because of her work in the Pig club; Ora and Loy Beermann and Joseph and Katharine Daley.

Classes were held in the morning in livestock judging, poultry, sewing, millinery and home nursing. In the afternoon trips were planned in different parts of the city. The Nebraska Farmer entertained them at a dinner at the Commercial Club and took them through the Nebraska Farmer's building. The girls were entertained by one of the sororities in the Women's Hall.

They were taken through the State Penitentiary and the grounds. The sight-seeing trip of the city took them through the University campus grounds. A splendid trip to Crete for picnic supper and to visit the Crete Flouring Mills was given up because of heavy rain. Everyone had a good time at Antelope Park instead.

In the evenings programs and lectures were held in the Auditorium. At one of these meetings the Saxophone Singers gave a very entertaining program. Mr. Frisbie suggests that entertainment such as they gave, but on a smaller scale, could be given by local talent in many Farm Bureau community meetings.

One evening was given over to "stunts." The boys and girls were divided into groups with a leader in charge of the stunts, such as "Method of Developing Poultry Club Records," Judging of Cookies," "Carrying on Business Meetings in Club Work," were given.

At Omaha the boys and girls were taken through the stock yards, packing house and on a trip over the city.

Club week meant, we are sure, better clubs for next year. We hope that more members and also leaders can attend next year.

For Sale

Some good cottonwood lumber, also a quantity of stove wood. Don Forbes, 1/2 mile north of Dakota City.

WIT and HUMOR

How Much in Dollars?

Mrs. Breathless—Why don't you consult the great English specialist, Doctor Starver? He claims that his patients have lost ten pounds a week under his treatment.

Mrs. Woody-Slimmer—That was when he was practicing in England.

Proper Recognition.

"It is remarkable that so many women should be working," said Mr. Morridge.

"Women have always worked," replied his wife. "The principal difference just now is that they are working away from home and getting paid for it."

Food Monopolist.

"This ought to make life easy from now on," remarked Noah as the ark landed.

"To what do you refer?" inquired Japhet.

"Our monopoly of eggs, butter, milk, beet, et cetera, with not a soul on earth to start an investigation."

Misplaced Formula.

The floor walker smiled courteously as the package-laden woman was about to depart. "Come again," he said, bowing politely.

"Yes," replied the woman over her shoulder, "and you must come and see us."

Won His Bet.

Farmer—Yes, I read every one of those speeches you printed in the Congressional Record.

Senator—Did they benefit you?

Farmer—Yes, sir; I won the $2 Zeb Perkins bet that it couldn't be done.

SERIOUS PROBLEM

"I suppose you are going to buy your wife a very handsome birthday present?"

"I don't know what to do about it. If I deplete the family funds to buy Helen something worthy of her I deprive her of the pleasure of spending the money."

Another Game.

At playing cards I feel compelled to say I've earned no glory. But oh, the lovely hands I've held in a conservatory.

A Hold-Up.

"Here's a quarter, Willie; now you keep away from that keyhole tonight when George calls."

"Dat'll fix me alright, but it'll cost you a quarter apiece to keep the rest of the gang away."

Just Wait On.

"Will you tell your sister the young millionaire she met at the beach is here?"

"She knows it. She says a patient waiter is no loser, and she saw you waiting on a table today."

He Knew.

"Did Mr. and Mrs. Henpeck accept the compromise?"

"Yes; they agreed to it with one voice."

His Dread.

Bronson—Did you enjoy your daughter's commencement essay?

Woodson—Yes; only it kind of discourages me to think of what I've got to talk up to when conversation starts in the family circle.

Sure Thing.

Kidder—There are two things that never attract much attention.

Katherine—What are they?

Kidder—A man at his own wedding and a musician at a woman's reception.

Advance.

Myrtle—Is she up in society?

Marion—Yes; she used to do her hair, and now she coils it.

Vice Versa.

"When the town doctor began to practice on me he said I was all in."

"How were you when he finished?"

"All out."

OUR REFERENDUMS

From the Farm Bureau News:

The first part of the month, meetings, for the taking of referendum vote on the sixteen points of the legislative program of the American Farm Bureau Federation, were called. A petition was also circulated at that time, having as its ultimate purpose, the financing of European countries for the purchasing of American farm produce.

Of the persons who met and discussed and voted on these measures, all agreed that it was a most wonderful program, full of big possibilities for agricultural interests. Letters containing a copy of the sixteen points were mailed to all Farm Bureau members. The surprising thing is that over the county only 87 votes were cast for any one question. If enthusiastically and rightfully used, the referendum can become a powerful influence in securing the things so much needed to take some of the gamble out of farming and make the game safe and encouraging for the young man of small means to enter.

But what does 87 votes amount to among 1200 men and women voters, members of the county farm bureau, or 1800 to 2000 rural votes in the county, or approximately the 3000 votes in town and country? Never have farmers had such an opportunity to help themselves as now; but in at least this one particular they are making a farce of it. Organized business interests have really never feared farmers' organizations, because, they say, they will not function.

We should not lose sight of the fact that no member is doing his or her full duty to the Farm Bureau who pays his membership dues and spends his time in complaining instead of helping in every way possible.

Results are sure to come slowly, and, not at all, if every man and woman does not give wholeheartedly, his or her moral support. In no way can this be more effectively done than by taking advantage of the referendum in our meetings where the discussions become a valuable part of the work. Moreover, you should support your neighbor who is, in most instances, the leader in the referendum vote.

CLEARING OUT.

The chief operator stepped up to the new girl and tapped her on the shoulder.

"You're fired," he said simply.

"Fired!" the girl gasped. "Why, ain't I doing my work right?"

"Maybe so," said the C. O. calmly.

"But you're fired just the same. The way you give people the right numbers the first time they ask for them makes the rest of our service look so rotten you're causing all kinds of complaints."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

From the Farm Bureau News:

The late Stephen Girard of Philadelphia, was a real friend of the "down and outer." One day there knocked at his home a ragged man who carried both an empty pocket-book and an empty stomach. Mr. Girard wanted to give the man a job out the yard and garden were really in perfect condition. In one corner of the place there was a pile of stones, so Mr. Girard got a wheelbarrow and had the man wheel the stones to the other corner of the place and pile them up.

Shortly afterward the tramp knocked again at the door to say that the stones had been moved. "Wheel them back again and put them where they were," was Mr. Girard's reply. Three times the operation was repeated. Finally the man called to Mr. Girard again. "Boss, I quit. I can't do your job—there ain't no sense in it—we ain't getting anywhere. I need noint and food but that kind of work will break what little manhood I've got left."

Some boys are pitching feed to a bunch of stock that are as ornery and peaked as their dams were five years before. Can your boy say that the job you give him, "There ain't no sense in it, we ain't getting anywhere."

A real boy likes to see things grow and improve. He might like to be a partner in the better livestock business when he would hate to be just a hauler of hay. His opinion might be valuable.

LEGAL NOTICES

First Pub. June 7, 1921—3w

NOTICE OF SETTLEMENT

In the County Court of Dakota County, Nebraska.

State of Nebraska, County of Dakota—ss.

In the Matter of the Estate of John Rohde, Deceased.

To Creditors, Heirs, Legatees, and others Interested in the Estate of John Rohde, Deceased:

TAKE NOTICE: That William G. Rohde, has filed in the County Court report of his doings as administrator of the estate of John Rohde, deceased, and it is ordered that the one stand for hearing the 23rd day of July, A. D., 1921, before the court at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., at which time any person may appear and except to and contest the same. He said administrator has also filed a said court his petition asking for discharge, and the release of his bondsmen. Notice of this proceeding is ordered given by publication of this notice three times in The Dakota County Herald, a weekly newspaper published in Dakota County, Nebraska.

Witness my hand and the seal of the Court at Dakota City, Nebraska, this 2d day of July, A. D., 1921.

SHERMAN W. McKINLEY, (Seal) County Judge.

First Pub. June 30, 1921—2w

SHERIFF'S SALE

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an order of County Judge, S. W. McKinley, of Dakota County, Nebraska, directed to me, Geo. Cain,

"Oh Boy! Ain't this the life!!"

I LIKE my job.
BUT DAYS do come.
WHEN SKIES are blue.
ABOVE THE city smoke.
AND BREEZES stir.
THE PAPERS on my desk.
AND THEN I think.
WHAT I would do.
IF I were boss.
I'D OPEN shop.
AT TWELVE o'clock.
AND CLOSE at one.
WITH ONE hour off.
FOR LUNCH, and I.
WOULD GET old Sam.
TO RUN me out.
IN HIS big six.
AND DROP me off.
UNDER A greenwood tree.
BESIDE A babbling brook.
AND THERE I'd lie.

AND EVERY once.
IN A while.
ROLL OVER.
OR MAYBE sit and think.
BUT MOST likely.
JUST SIT.
AND EVERY once.
IN A while I'd light.
ONE OF my Chesterfields.
AND OH Boy.
I GUESS that wouldn't.
SATISFY!

COMPANIONSHIP? Say, there never was such a cigarette as Chesterfield for steady company! Just as mild and smooth as tobacco can be—but with a mellow "body" that satisfies even cigar smokers. On lazy days or busy ones—all the time—you want this "satisfy-smoke."

Have you seen the new AIR-TIGHT tins of 50?

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

There's No Place Like Colorado After All

Colorado is as big as all New England, with Indiana added; two-thirds is mountainous—100,000 square miles contain 155 peaks that are more than 13,000 feet high. Within the state there are 500 lakes—large and small; 6,000 miles of running water, born of snow and filled with fish. Mineral springs abound—no one knows how many there are. Every railroad line is an excursion line. Motor highways radiate in all directions.

Obviously, in such a region, vacation possibilities are unlimited; hence the term, "The Playground of the Nation."

Where to go? There are a thousand different places. In two hours from the haunts of civilization, where splendid hotels, dancing, music and golf reign supreme, back to the wildest, untamed mountain fastness, where the silence is broken only by plunging waterfalls, the songs of birds or the splash of trout.

When to go? Any time!

This summer, when seeking escape from the dust and heat, go out under that magnificent cool, blue Colorado sky. Get the tang of the mountain air in your nostrils—the fragrance of the flowers and the spicy smell of pine.

How to go? Just climb aboard a Burlington limited.

"There's No Place Like Colorado, After All!"

Suppose you come in and we'll talk over your summer vacation-recreation plans.

J. N. BYERGO

TICKET AGENT, DAKOTA CITY, NEB.

BETTER THAN EVER

With its handsome new furniture, its improved labor saving devices and with its reputation for fine stitching established,

The WHITE SEWING MACHINE gives you the greatest possible value for your money.

"If you try it"

You'll be glad to buy it"

Get a free demonstration from the White dealer. If no dealer is handy write us for catalogs of Vibrator and Rotary Shuttle machines including the No. 70 "Sit-Strate."

WHITE SEWING MACHINE CO.,

Cleveland, Ohio