

AK-SAR-BEN FALL FESTIVAL IS FEAST OF AMUSEMENT

September 13th to 24th Set Aside by Samson to Entertain All His Subjects and Guests.

For the past twenty-seven years, the middle west has enjoyed the celebration of the Feast of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben. King Ak-Sar-Ben, ruler of the land of Quivera, reigns in the royal citadel, Omaha, and has ruled wisely and well for more than a quarter of a century. Each fall it is his edict that the subjects from adjoining realms be invited to participate with his subjects in a glorious feast of amusement and frivolity.

September 13th to 24th inclusive has been announced by Samson, Lord High Chamberlain to the King, as the dates for this fall festival. King Ak-Sar-Ben promises his guests and subjects much entertainment in the way of horse races, automobile races, parades, shows and especially his own elaborate pageant which has become so well known in this community.

In addition to the above program, His Majesty is to be host at the reunion of the old 34th or Sandstorm Division, which was originally composed of the National Guard unit from Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota. This will furnish a splendid opportunity for those of this division to attend their first reunion and at the same time be entertained by Ak-Sar-Ben's splendid program. A great many of the members of this unit have at different times enjoyed the shows given by his Majesty's Royal Troupe at the Ak-Sar-Ben den. His hospitality is widely known. Rare indeed is the man who has visited Ak-Sar-Ben and who has not benefited therefrom.

FINE LIVE STOCK DISPLAY AT THE INTERSTATE FAIR

If the 10,000,000,000 pounds of milk produced by the cows in the United States this year were poured into one container, it would make a sea of milk big enough to float the entire American navy.

"Statistics of this sort must be quoted to impress the public with the vast importance of the industry," said Secretary Don V. Moore of the Interstate Fair, Sioux City, September 18 to 24. "It is because of the tremendous value of the industry that the fair is giving such tremendous prizes for the leading breeds of dairy and beef cattle."

Breeders of cattle, horses, sheep, swine and poultry are coming to the fair this year from every section of the country. Letters have been received from some of the biggest stables, flocks, and herds in America, stating that they will be at the fair with the best of their breeding stock to compete for awards. Entries are coming in at a lively rate, and the biggest show in history is predicted by the fair management.

The entertainment features of the fair are arousing much interest. They will include horse racing, vaudeville, fireworks, auto racing, auto polo, a midway show, and lesser attractions common to fairs. This entertainment bill has been recruited from all parts of the country.

INTERSTATE FAIR WILL HAVE BIG SHOWING OF PURE BRED SWINE

To stimulate the breeding of pure-bred swine, exceptionally fine premiums have been offered for this year's winners by the Interstate Fair, Sioux City, September 18 to 24, according to Secretary D. V. Moore.

The United States Department of Agriculture is striving to increase the number of swine in the country in every possible way. It is hoped that production can be raised to 100,000,000 by 1923. The farm value of swine in the United States is estimated at $1,500,000,000.

The swine department is only one of the big departments of the fair that will interest visitors. A big entry of cattle, horses, sheep and poultry is expected, according to Secretary Moore. Exhibitors of women's work, boys' and girls' work, farm products and other features, will be there in record numbers.

An entertainment program has been provided which will be a knockout. Among the leading features engaged will be horse racing, fireworks, music, vaudeville, auto racing, baseball and a midway show.

AK-SAR-BEN COLORS CHOSEN TO REPRESENT OUR PRODUCTS

Few people living in Nebraska and Western Iowa realize the true significance of the Ak-Sar-Ben colors, red, green, yellow.

A great many even in Omaha, the home of the organization, think they were selected simply for their vividness. This is not so, however. The combination represents the three principal products of this golden grain belt. Red for the beef from the plains of Nebraska and the feed yards of Iowa. Green for the alfalfa so important to the agriculturists and markets of the mid-west. And yellow for King Corn of Nebraska and Iowa, the master of the golden grain belt in which we live.

AK-SAR-BEN FALL FESTIVAL Dates are SEPTEMBER 13th to 24th.

Mrs. Fox and Miss Sorensen, leaders in Omaha precinct, have ordered supplies for 23 dress forms.

Mrs. Maire Morgenson was elected project leader in Pigeon Creek precinct.

Women from one locality said that their meetings were like the old-fashioned quilting bees of long ago, when one wants a dress form made they invite in their friends and "feed them well," and it's all over in a short time.

Look for prizes offered for club exhibits and demonstrations on Achievement Day to be held at Hubbard, September 17th.

The making of the dress forms continues under the direction of the project leaders in the precincts.

Mrs. John Bobier of Walker's Island, reports thirteen forms completed. These women have met four times at their homes. Four to six women plan to help make one form so that the model will not need to stand so long. The women who have assisted in making several forms gain confidence and skill each time, so that a great deal is accomplished in a shorter period than at the first meeting.

Often Go Together.
"A popular novelist says women are not as intelligent as men."
"If I were in his shoes I wouldn't make a statement like that," said the book reviewer.

Why not?
"He might cut down his royalties. There's a close affinity between bonbons and 'best sellers.'"

Wasn't Going That Far.
Country Parson (to farmer belaboring his horse)—Say, my good man, with all this cursing and beating of your horse, you'll never get to heaven.
Farmer Hays—That might be, but I'm only going to town with a load of pertaters!

Simplicity of Greatness.
"Really great men have very simple natures."
"Sometimes they have," said Miss Cayenne; "and on the other hand, they show their powers of dissimulation by seeming so gentle and truthful that you couldn't suspect the slightest motive of personal interest."

Very Considerate.
"Did the motorist who ran over you show any consideration whatever?"
"He certainly did," said the victim. "And I marveled at the exhibition. He examined that confounded car of his from stem to stern to see if it had been damaged anywhere."

The Ruling Class.
The Depositor—What's the idea of this new clearing house association rule fixing noon for your opening hour? Think it'll suit the public?
The Bank President—No, not that. But our cooks and chauffeurs object to getting up so early.

Practical Interchange.
"A soft answer turneth away wrath," remarked the expert in quotations.
"True," replied Mr. Dustin Stax; "but in regular business a soft answer isn't as valuable as a hard bargain."

NOT PARTICULAR
"Now you may kiss my hand."
"No thank you, your lips are quite good enough for me."

Just Like a Girl.
She stood before the mirror. With her eyes closed very tight. And tried to see just how she looked when fast asleep at night.

Maybe So.
"That doctor must know his biz. I feel better already."
"That's the result of stepping out of his gloomy old anteroom into the sunlight."
"Well, maybe he knows his biz, at that."

Not Then.
Mrs. Eye—Misery loves company, you know.
Mrs. Wye—Not always, my dear. I guess you never had on very tight shoes when company called and stayed three mortal hours.

Practical.
"They married for love?"
"Yes."
"And now she's suing him for divorce?"
"Yes. Discovered that she had to have something to eat as well."

Couldn't Get It.
"Mamma," said the inquisitive child. "I don't think that toweling is such a loud color!"
"It isn't, son, what makes you say that?"
"Then why do they call it crash?"

The Puzzle.
"Y' know," said Bings, "y' know what puzzles me?"
"Naw; what?" inquired Jings.
"I c'n never figure out which end t' be sorry for when a man's exercisin' a pet dog on a lead chain."

The Art of the Off-Hand.
"That latest speech of yours sounded as if it were thoroughly extempore."
"Thanks," replied Senator Sorghum. "I worked over it for weeks in order to make it convey that impression."

Says Which.
Mack—What's funnier than a one-armed man trying to wind his wrist watch?
Knutt—A glass eye at a keyhole.

Not Dumb.
"Are you fond of dumb animals?"
"Yes," replied Mr. Cumrox. "My objection to the pets around the house is that most of them are vocalists."
