Omaha Grain Exchange Invites Investigation

The Omaha Grain Exchange regards the farmers of Nebraska as co-workers in the job of feeding the world. The system now in operation is the climax of economy and efficiency, and in order that you may be satisfied that this is true, you are cordially invited to come, or send your representatives, to investigate in every detail of the progress of your grain through this market on its way from your farms to the urban consumers. Omaha Grain Merchants will receive you into their offices and open to you their books in order that you may thoroughly understand the baseness of the charge that existing methods are "unsatisfactory"—that there is no "duplication of effort"—no "lost motion" in the marketing machinery—no appreciable "manipulation"—that no "wasteful" methods exist so that further savings would be impossible. You are welcome to a full initiation into the supposed "mysteries" of the trade in order that you may understand that no real mysteries exist but that the grain trade as now conducted is the most thoroughly competitive of all lines of trade and hence is the most economically handled, bringing to the producer the largest possible result for his toil. Therefore, it no doubt is the DUTY of everyone to acquaint himself with the workings of the Grain Exchange before trying to replace it with an untried experiment. Advertisement.

Mrs. Wadhams, who for the past several months has been the stenographer in the Frum and Warner law office, departed this Thursday morning for Okanogan, Wash., where she owns a fine fruit farm, and will look after the disposition of the fruit crop.

In figuring up the amount of delinquent land taxes, County Treasurer Miller estimates that there is now standing out about $40,000 dollars. A large percent of this will likely be paid before it is advertised in October; but much of it will go into the delinquent tax list, as the scarcity of money will make it impossible for some to pay at this time.

County Judge S. W. McKinley officiated at the following weddings during the past week: Louis M. Byars and Olive D. Mills, both of Sioux City, on the 24th; Everett Davis and Marjorie McManigal, both of Sioux City, on the 25th; Willard D. Brink of Emerson, and Essie V. Boyce of Wayne, Doyle W. Benton and Mary Taggart, both of Sioux City, and James O'Hara and Kate Stapleton, both of Sioux City, on the 27th; and Carl E. Carlson and Mary E. Carlson, both of Sioux City, on the 29th.

The price of the Evening State Journal has been reduced to $4.00 a year or $5.00 with Sunday. The price of the Morning Journal is $5 a year or $6 with Sunday. These reductions have been made in response to the public demand for price "come-downs." Printing paper still costs the publishers more than twice as much as before the war. Special rates to January 1—Evening Journal $1.00; with Sunday $1.25. Morning Journal $1.50; with Sunday $2.00. The Journal is the only morning paper printed in Lincoln and on rural routes it is a full day ahead of many other state papers with the news. The Journal is making unusual efforts to give Nebraskans the most complete market reports, co-operating with the state and national governments in this work. The Journal features are being strengthened continually, Mutt and Jeff being the latest comic additions. A new serial by the author of the Miracle Man is just starting.

The Foote-Motor Company, Ford dealers, state there will not be a new model Ford car on the market August 15th, with ventilating windshield and one-man top. Such changes have not been contemplated and will not be made. The Ford as it stands, is an ideal car both for pleasure and business.

Amalo Buciorrez, a Mexican section hand on the Omaha road at South Sioux City, was drowned in Crystal lake, near the railroad water tank while bathing last Thursday. The body was recovered soon afterward, and a large fish line was found tightly wound about his feet and legs and looped over his shoulders.

W. E. Kelley, a former sheriff of this county, and for fifteen years a resident of the county, was killed in a gun battle near Los Angeles, Cal., August 21st, while acting in the capacity of deputy sheriff, after he and a posse had cornered a Mexican gunman. The Mexican, wanted for murder, emptied his gun at the posse, killing Sheriff E. G. McMartin, of Ventura county, and fatally wounding Deputy Sheriff Kelley. The Mexican then committed suicide. Kelley was rushed to a Los Angeles hospital, where he died on the operating table about four hours later. Mr. Kelley served as sheriff of Dakota county two terms—from 1891 to 1895. He was defeated in the 1895 fall election by Chas. M. Borowsky, and later removed to South Sioux City, where he engaged in the livery business, moving to California in 1900. Mr. Kelley is survived by a sister, Mrs. John Burke, living in South Sioux City.

PAYS TO FATTEN POULTRY

From Farm Bureau News) Many Nebraska farmers are learning that it pays to fatten poultry for the market, just as it pays to finish hogs and cattle. Heavy feeding and close confinement for two or three weeks adds finish and weight, thereby increasing the price per pound and the number of pounds. The State College of Agriculture has found an excellent fattening ration to consist of 2 parts finely ground cornmeal and 2 parts wheat shorts, moistened with buttermilk or sour milk to a mortar-like consistency. All the birds will eat it fed three times daily. It is not uncommon for a good, husky bird weighing 1 1/2 to 2 pounds to add three-quarters of a pound, or 35 percent of its original weight, in two to three weeks. If the birds are thrifty, 3 1/2 pounds of this feed will add a pound of weight. The maximum gain can usually be obtained in 15 to 20 days. The birds should be marketed as soon as their appetite begins to wane. If the mixture is properly saturated with buttermilk or sour milk, no water need be given. With present feed prices, fattening young birds by intensive feeding should be profitable. Heretofore, the produce men have been finishing them after obtaining them from farmers. There is no reason why this cannot be done by the producer instead of the middle-man.

WANTED—A MAN TO LEAD

From Farm Bureau News) "There isn't a lad but wants to grow Manly and true at heart, And every lad would like to know The secret we impart. He doesn't desire to slack or shirk—Oh, haven't you heard him plead? He'll follow a man at play or work, If only the man will lead."

MORE THAN ONE WAY.

There is an old farmer in one of our suburbs who is noted for saying quaint and unexpected things. One day last fall he delivered a couple of dressed birds to a customer who remarked: "I should think, Mr. Brown, you'd simply hate to chop off the heads of those innocent chickens."

"You're right ma'am," he said, "and so I never do it. I manage to get around it."

"Get around it, how?" the housewife asked with eager interest.

"Well, you see, ma'am," replied the farmer, "what I does is chop the chickens off the heads."—Boston Transcript.

Relaxation Demanded.

"So you prefer the film to the stage?" "I do."

"But don't you miss the charm of the speaking voice?" "I do not. The human voice is what makes me feel like a tired business person. I work at a telephone switchboard."

The Discretions of Momus.

"Do you think that the world is suffering from a dearth of humor?" "No," replied Senator Sorghum. "The sense of humor is abundant, but it has to be suppressed. You have to be careful not to laugh when you feel like it for fear of offending somebody with political influence."

NOT BRAGGING AT ALL. "I never brag you telling any of the bright things your children say." "No," replied Senator Sorghum. "Our children say so many bright things and so rapidly that I find it difficult to remember them."

Classical Who's Who.

Who is the guy with lantern lit And tub on back, some poor half-wit? Nay, friend, that's old Diogenes—His tub his place of lodging is.

Time Saving.

"Do you think much time is saved by not permitting telephone operators to tell the time of day?" "I can't exactly figure it out. But it seems quicker to say 'half past two' than to make the customary polite explanation that its against the regulations."

Science of the Domestic Touch.

Mrs. Green—My husband always makes a fuss when I ask him for a little money.

Mrs. Wyse—Your system is all wrong, my dear. Tell him you need a lot of money and he'll feel tickled when he can put you off with a little.

That Silver Lining.

The Gossip—I hear your store was robbed last night. Lose much? The Optimist—Some. But it would have been worse if the yeggs had got in the night before. You see, yesterday I just finished marking down everything 20 per cent.

Easy to Get.

Harper—My wife is suffering from shell shock. Smart—"Impossible!" Harper—"Not at all. At breakfast today she broke an egg that had seen better days."—London Answers.

Times Change.

Young Man—A woman does not hesitate to powder her face in public nowadays. Old Man—No; and I can remember when she was afraid to go out of her house until she had buttoned up her glove.—London Answers.

IMMUNE

She: You look worried, I hope money matters are not troubling you. He: I should say not. I haven't a dollar in the world to worry about.

A Tip.

The surest road To fame and wealth Is keeping on The road to health.

Technically Discussed.

"A divorce, eh? Why it seemed but yesterday that he asked her for her hand." "Yes, he got the hand all right, but it seems to have turned out a misdeal."

Took Him as He Was.

"Edith couldn't have thought much of the man she married." "Why not?" "She boasts that she has made another man of him."

A Weighty Matter.

"Has your daughter finished her graduation theme yet?" "No, but we've got three dressmakers up at the house working on it."
