Cobleigh and daughter, Sherry, have returned after a week's visit with friends at Hubbard, Winnebago and Homer. Died—In Sioux City, Ia., September 2, 1921, Mrs. Deola Obermoller, 29 years old, Emerson, Neb., at a hospital, of anemia. The body was sent from the Anderson undertaking parlors to Emerson for burial.

Sioux City Journal, 6: Died—In Sioux City, Ia., September 4, 1921, Mrs. Nora May Payne, 48 years old, 1204 Pierce street, in a hospital, of a complication of diseases. She is survived by her husband, B. F. Payne; three daughters, Mrs. Axel Larson, Mrs. Pearl A. Warner and Mrs. Chas. Hoyt, all of Sioux City; her father, Dr. R. B. Crawford, of Chicago, and her mother, Mrs. R. B. Crawford, of Wayne, Neb. Funeral services will be held from the residence Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be made in Graceland Park cemetery.

Sioux City Journal, 1: A big string of cattle was marketed by John Feller, of Goodwin, Neb., on the mid-week trade. He sold 104 head averaging 1319 pounds at $9.50. Nine prisoners, including three men captured by Sioux City detectives here on July 11 and found guilty of robbing a store at Emerson, Neb., escaped from the county jail at Lincoln late yesterday afternoon. Five of the prisoners were under sentence to the state penitentiary and were confined in the county jail pending a completion of an addition to the overcrowded Nebraska penitentiary. The three men captured by the Sioux City detectives were under sentences of from one to seven years. They were Harry J. Wiedner, C. A. King, alias Andrew Lynch, and Beno K-pruske. Following the arrest of the trio by the detectives in an East Side shack, they were taken to Pennington, Neb., where they pleaded guilty to the robbery of the Peoples clothing store at Emerson, Neb. The day following their sentence they were taken to Lincoln by Sheriff George Cain, of Dakota county, and were placed in the county jail to await the completion of the addition to the penitentiary. The other six who escaped were: Harold McGlothen, alleged leader of a band of automobile thieves; Donald Nelson, James Casick, Alfred Kier, W. H. Carey, charged with bigamy, and J. D. Harrison, an alleged automobile thief. Three of the jail breakers were arrested less than two hours afterwards. Carey and Harrison were caught by Sheriff Ira Miller, of Lincoln. About two hours after the break Kier called up the police station and told them that his feet were sore and if they wanted him to come and get him. The police got him. The other six, including the three caught here, are still at large. A previous jail break in which a hole was sawed through the outer wall in the county jail made the escape last night possible. The hole had been repaired by being covered with a sheet of steel. The prisoners released themselves by prying off the steel covering. The break occurred about 5 o'clock. A family living near the jail gave the alarm. The city, county and state officers commenced a search for the prisoners immediately following. They were seriously handicapped in the lack of police officers. Lincoln boasts of a police force of seven men, five of whom were on duty. The sheriff has a deputy.

Levied on Skunk for Fur. A most amusing and unexpected bit of evidence as to the resourcefulness of wild animals was seen by a Fort Collins, Colo., man who has a pet skunk and a squirrel caged together. The two animals are firm friends, but when the squirrel wanted material to build a nest it proceeded to chew enough fur off the skunk's back. Now the innocent skunk has a bald spot as big as a saucer, and the squirrel has a nest made, partially at least, of skunk fur.

REDUCED RATES ON ALL RAILROADS

REDUCED RATES FOR AK-SAR-BEN VISITORS

Round Trip Tickets for Fare and One-Half on All Roads; Cut Will Swell Attendance.

Reduced railroad fares for Ak-Sar-Ben visitors will be allowed by railroads running into Omaha.

All of the roads entering Omaha will put into effect excursion rates of fare and one-half for round trips during the fall festival period, it has been announced.

These reduced rates will apply to all points in Nebraska except those within only a few miles of Omaha and probably will extend to Kansas City on the south, Sioux City on the north and Des Moines on the east.

This will be the first time in six years that reduced rates have been allowed for the Ak-Sar-Ben festival. "This will mean the biggest out-of-town attendance in the history of Ak-Sar-Ben," declared Charles Gardner, secretary, joyfully when he heard the news. "They'll all come for the biggest celebration on earth now."

ROOMING BUREAUS PROVIDE SLEEPING QUARTERS FOR ALL

The question often arises how does Omaha provide room and sleeping quarters for the crowds that attend the fall festivals. In addition to the hotels every available room in the city is offered the visitors through free rooming bureaus operated at the large stores in the city. Visitors will be provided with rooms by calling at these stores. No charge is made for the service and the rooms may be had for a nominal sum.

SAMSON FAVORS HORSES FOR AK-SAR-BEN PARADES

Ak-Sar-Ben's Electrical Pageant is one of the very few parades that still use horses for transporting the big electrical floats. A great many similar parades have resorted to the motor trucks. It requires for hauling the parade outriders, etc., some 230 horses.

Ak-Sar-Ben's Electrical Pageant will be held SEPTEMBER 21st this year.

Seed Late to Avoid Hessian Fly From Farm Bureau News

Several eastern Nebraska counties are sufficiently infested with Hessian flies to make late sowing advisable, according to the State College of Agriculture. The fall wheat counties along the Missouri river and the second counties back may well delay sowing until the last week in September. As a general rule, fairly early seeding is desirable. Conditions in certain sections this year, however, warrant delay in order to avoid the Hessian fly pest. Those attending the State fair should not fail to study the charts and other exhibits of the College of Agriculture and the State Entomologist, showing the distribution of the Hessian fly, dates of seeding, and other information relative to insects and pests.

SPACE EVIDENTLY NO MATTER

And Surely Bristol is Closer to London Than Are the Domains of His Satanic Majesty.

An Irishman strolling through London saw some pictures in a photographer's window. One was of a young man taken after he had attended a fancy dress ball in Mephistophelean costume.

After looking at it for some time he went into the shop and said he wanted a picture taken of his brother and himself on one card.

The man in charge made the usual preparations, and then asked for his brother.

"Oh, he's in Bristol," was the reply. "And how," said the photographer, "can you expect me to take the picture of a man who is in Bristol?"

"Well," said Paddy "I'd like to know how you took Satan's picture. Did you meet him here?"—London Tit-Bits.

THE ...SDOM.

A blast of brass and a throb of drums— And Solomon comes! Solomon comes! A thousand guards and a glint of steel, Ivory wrought in his chariot-wheel. A silken standard which hides the sun, A mantle of Tyrian purple, spun By the cunningest hands in the wise old East, So Solomon goes to his mighty feast.

The breath of lutes and the twanged strings sigh— And the Queen goes by! The Queen goes by! The Lady of Sheba in cloth of gold With her hennaed nails and her dark eyes bold. A peacock perches behind her chair; The sun lights diamonds in her hair; The music glows like the heart of wine, For Sheba goes with the King to dine.

Battling hoofs through the city's heat, The messenger passes along the street And his nut-brown maid is at his side, He has his pipes and the skies are wide; His chest is bare to the breeze's kiss; The thought of eating is honest bliss; He knows content and his spirit sings— So a fig, I say, for all your Kings! — Dale Collins in Sydney Bulletin.

MOTORISTS IN DEATH VALLEY

Section Which for So Long Has Been Known as a Trackless Desert Now Scenic Spot.

Death valley, the terror of the desert and the country many believe that God not only forgot but never heard of, has been tamed and made safe for motorists as a scenic spot which seriously rivals Yellowstone National park for beauty.

Death valley, scintillating in the sun, will lure motorists of today as it lured weary prospectors of old, but its sting has been removed. No longer will the parched traveler seek in vain for the water hole he cannot find or for the trail he has lost in the mesquite.

A message which turns upside down the popular and nation-wide opinion held of this fabled valley, which incubated the fame of "Borax" Smith and "Death Valley" Scotty, is being sent to the world by the touring bureau of America's largest motoring organization, the Automobile Club of Southern California, for the purpose of removing the curse of the malignant rumors, which it says are unfounded.

Already the first steps have been taken. The Southern California Automobile club has erected 1,220 metal road signs to make Death valley fool-proof to the motoring visitor. This is the largest number of road signs ever erected for a similar purpose.

Contrary to what might be expected, this does not remove the romance of the desert, but the story brought out of Death valley by members of the crew who erected the signalposts puts an available romance into the spot which can be plumed by every automobile owner in the United States.—From Motors.

TOOTSY WOOTSY!
"What makes it jiggle around so?"
"Ha! ha! It's a spoony couple, trying to fish and hold hands at the same time!"

Barely Escaped Waterspout.

More terrible than all the mythical monsters of the deep sea was a waterspout which pursued the steamer Esperanza in the Caribbean sea, according to the captain. The spout was the largest he had ever seen. He said it was 100 feet thick and several hundred feet high. It appeared a quarter of a mile astern and moved rapidly toward the vessel. Only by clever work with the helm was the captain able to steer the Esperanza clear of the whirling column.

Nature in Freakish Mood.

A reader at Grand Falls, Newfoundland, says that a lobster was caught in Newfoundland waters with a curious front left claw. It was a perfect form of a man's head and face. The eyes, nose and mouth were very distinct; also the curling waves of hair and a small pointed beard. If viewed from a different angle the claw presents the features of a laughing girl. The length of the head is about two inches.—Montreal Herald.

THE INTERSTATE FAIR IS AIDING MILK PRODUCTION

The United States may be "dry" but it isn't so with the cows in this part of the country. Officials of the Interstate Fair, Sioux City, September 18 to 24, expect a record breaking exhibit of cattle.

Prohibition has created a greater demand for dairy products, more milk and cream being needed everywhere to supply the trade. Seeking to co-operate with the dairy interests, and raise the standard of dairyming so the output of milk and cream can be increased locally, the Interstate Fair, is offering generous premiums for dairy cattle and dairy products.

Secretary D. V. Moore of the fair says he has just received statistics from Washington which indicate that nearly 500,000,000 gallons of ice cream alone will be consumed in the country this year. If dished out in the form of cones, there would be about 200 cones for each man, woman and child.

There will be a big entertainment program at the fair this year. The features include music, horse racing, vaudeville, fire works, auto racing and a midway show. It will be gala time for everyone for many miles in all directions.

Those interested in the educational program of the fair may obtain a premium list by writing to Secretary Moore.

INTERSTATE FAIR OFFERS EXHIBITS FROM THE FARM AND HOME

She who can cook, as well as she who doesn't think she ever could learn, will be pleased with the Interstate Fair, Sioux City, September 18 to 24.

Delicious breads and cakes, canned foods and other homemade products, the best in all the state, will be on exhibition. Needlework of all kinds, fancy and plain, will be a feast for women's souls. Visitors will see the latest of everything.

There will be many other things not made by women that will be fully as interesting. Fruits and vegetables, boys and girls' work, farm products of all kinds, machinery for home and field, and other things of like nature, will please them. The splendid exhibits of horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry, will be admired by many women.

An entertainment program of high quality has been arranged. The features will include horse racing, auto racing, music, fireworks, vaudeville, baseball, a midway show and lesser attractions. Ice cream cones, balloons, "lemon" of all colors and shades and spicy "red-hots" and all the things that elate the "kids" at a fair, will be there.

Those interested in the educational features of the fair may learn about the prizes to be awarded by writing to Secretary Moore for a premium list.

County Treasurer Walter E. Miller is making up the 1920 delinquent tax list, which will be published October 1st. Those paying after October 1, will be charged the advertising fee of 20 cents for each land description and 10 cents for each lot description.

Ever Seen a Range Built as of Solid Gold?

We invite you to admire this new, practically everlasting coal and wood range with its outer walls and high chest built of a golden metal that makes it the counterpart in appearance of a range built of solid gold! Its beauty is indescribable—it must be seen. Nothing like it has ever witnessed. And the new metal—heavy, thick "copperoid"—retains its golden color, is not discolored by heat, cleans easily, defies rust, does not chip, crack or break. See it and marvel!

ROUND OAK

COPPEROID CHIEF RANGE

Great production has priced this new beauty surprisingly low. And the price is guaranteed. Terms arranged.
