HUBAM CLOVER

Numerous requests for information regarding the merits of the annual sweet clover, known as hubam, have been received by the Nebraska College of Agriculture. This variety of clover, found by the Iowa Agricultural College, in 1916, has been much exploited as a possible valuable forage crop. There is as yet too little actual data on this crop to say just what its place is to be. Farther east, under more favorable climatic conditions, it may do well, seeded with small grain, to be used after harvest as pasture, green manure, or hay. Except for the favorable parts of Nebraska, it is doubtful if this practice is suitable. The few trials that have been carried on to date, in Nebraska, do not show the great advantages of this variety that have been claimed for it.

With our present knowledge of this crop, the Nebraska Agricultural College advises the farmer not to plunge on hubam. It may, or may not, prove to be an especially valuable crop for Nebraska, as trials now being planned should determine within the next year or so.

The Herald, $1.50 per year

Louis Knudsen of Hubbard transacted business here Monday.

Remember the Ray Aughey public sale date—Wednesday, February 15th.

Miss Helen Shull of Homer spent a few days here last week in the Mrs. Jelle Barnett home.

Little Bettie Jean Adair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Adair, has been quite ill the past week.

M. McKenzie, a county charge at the poor farm, died Tuesday of ailments incident to old age.

A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Heikes January 3rd, at St. Vincent's hospital, Sioux City.

Mrs. C. N. Derry of South Sioux City, was taken to the Norfolk hospital for the insane today, Thursday, or treatment.

Herman W. Sant expects to move his family into the house now occupied by C. R. Young, as soon as the latter finds a new location.

A broken light wire on the combination bridge put the lights out of commission here from Tuesday evening until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mr. Anna Jordan, of South Sioux City, is nursing in the Hileman home, caring for Grandma Hileman, who is seriously ill, with little hopes for her recovery.

W. E. McAfee and Dave Woods were down from the west part of the county last week on business. They remembered The Herald for another year while here.

Miss May Cadwallader, sister of Mrs. R. M. Waddell, is the new clerk at the S. A. Stinson store, succeeding Mrs. G. M. Best, who resigned to take charge of the postoffice.

There will be a special meeting of the Masonic lodge Thursday evening of this week for work in the Fellowcraft degree; also a regular meeting Saturday evening of this week.

Highway Commissioner J. J. Lapsley has received a new snow plow for use in pushing the snow off the highways of the county. The machine will be set up and tried out this week.

Miss Ruth Orr gave an Orpheum party Saturday evening, having as her guests the Misses Nellie Triggs, Mildred Ream, Elsie Krumwiede and Leona Smith. They drove to the city in Mr. Orr's car.

We have surely experienced a variety of weather the past week. It has thawed, snowed, rained, blown, and is now froze up again, leaving the roads and sidewalks a glare of ice.

Al Chaille was arrested at Homer Saturday, on a charge of assaulting Deputy Sheriff Lothrop. His hearing was set for today, Thursday, before Justice of the Peace G. C. Davis, at Homer.

The second annual Father and Son banquet, held in the M. E. church basement in Dakota City last Friday evening was a grand success and was attended by about 135 "dads" and their sons. A splendid feast was provided by the Ladies Aid society, and a program of music and speaking was heartily enjoyed by those in attendance. Prof. H. M. Eaton, superintendent of our schools, was the first speaker, and was followed by Mr. Allen McIntosh and Rev. Earl Hoon of Sioux City. All the talks were interesting and instructive, and were pleasing to the listeners, as was the music by the Borwn family orchestra, which discoursed excellent music throughout the evening. Three generations were represented in the Neiswanger family—Jacob Neiswanger, his son, D. M. Neiswanger, and grandson, J. Stott Neiswanger. At another table sat J. Thos. Graham and Judge Wm. P. Warner, each with four sons present at the gathering. A number of dads were present with two sons each.

DAKOTA CITY SCHOOL NOTES

By Prof. H. M. Eaton

"Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

The above was written many years ago by a great teacher, in fact the greatest teacher that has ever lived, The Master Teacher. There are no words truer to day than these. There never was a time when the sentiment expressed is more potent than now. We as teachers in the schools are doing our best to train up your boy and girl in the way they should go. We are trying to train them in obedience, in respect to their elders, in right thinking, in the morals of life, in discipline, in control and in selfishness. We are trying to train your boy or girl that their rights cease where the other party's rights begin. We are trying to teach your boy and girl that they must respect their parents and those who have authority over them. We want every one of them to be good citizens when they leave school and take their places among the grown-ups. We wonder if the home is supporting the school in the effort made. Parents, train up your child at home so that he will have a wholesome respect for authority everywhere, so that he will be able to control himself when beyond the confines of home and school. Right living and right doing brings the real blessings of life. Let's train the children while they are children in the way in which they should go, and we have a definite assurance that they will not depart from it when old.

The Dakota City school has four teachers who hold State professional certificates for life. The other two are bending every energy to be in this same class. We think this is pretty good for our schools here.

We had one full fledged visitor this week. Mr. Phillip Johnston of Omaha. Mrs. Don Forbes was caught in the halls after school, and the Rev. Moore and Mr. Orr were found in the building on a mission not connected with the schools. Come, Come, now, we want you to really visit us, with nothing else on your mind. Yes, we want you to come.

We are having too much tardiness and too many absentees lately. Let's make it a business to see that each child is in school every day, and every minute of the day. We notice that the most of the absentees in all grades are made by just one or two families in each room. We want to call the attention of parents to the fact that we will not promote a child at the end of the year unless the attendance record is sufficient to grant such promotion.

The high school is again the banner room in attendance this month. The per cent is 98. The grammar room is close to us with a 97% record. The high school has 34 pupils enrolled and the average attendance is 33 plus. Pretty good for us. But why can we not have a perfect score? Names of those pupils neither tardy nor absent for the month ending December 27th:

Primary Room—Olive Larson, Bernice Snyder, Margaret Adair, Willard Sutt, Catherine Young, Helen Runge, Guy Sides, Harold Hanson, Raymond Sierk, Harold Peterson, Waldo Phillips, Albert Jones, Eldon Morris, Charlotte Sides, Oscar Snyder, Vern Niebuhr.

First Intermediate Room—Florence Frederick, Walter Sierk, Lester Morris, May Messerli, Candace Young, Margaret Giese, Viola Jones, George Pultz, Blanch Holbrook, Dorothy Fueston, Louise Lowe, Louisa Neiswanger, Joe Jones.

Second Intermediate Room—Martha Barge, Maurice Berger, Jack Dryden, Harry Pultz, Clair Orr, Elsie Powell, Edward Sundt, Marie Sundt, Leonard Sierk, David Warner, Ethel Foltz, Edgar Frederick, Margaret Sanford.

Grammar Room—Ethel Morris, Vera Sundt, Ruby Levig, Ida Hansen, Eldo Becke, Lorraine Bierman, Dorothy Doolittle, Beulah Morris, Marie Hansen, Dora Powell, John Orr, Laurence Leen, Mabel Sundt, Frances Lowe.

High School—Joe Becke, Halleck Mason, Helen Sundt, Everett Blessing, Mildred Frederick, Edwin Morgan, Leona Smith, Warren Heikes, Ernest Giese, Eunice Larson, Ruth Orr, Edwin Bliven, Ralph Bliven, Chas. Blacketer, George Berger, Gladys Frederick, Lawrence Frederick, Harry Larson, Maurice Niemeyer, Ernest Sierk, Helen Smith.

M. E. Church Notes

Rev. E. C. Moore, Pastor

We know that an account of the Father and Son banquet will be expected, but as we write, we know that anyone who was there will read out of curiosity to know what another says of it. Also those who were not there have probably heard of it. Surely it was a great and worth while meeting. More than one hundred and twenty-five were served. The crowd led to remarks about enlarging the basement. Some said to us, "You didn't know there were so many people in and about Dakota City, did you?" Well, we think that if we knew or thought it, the idea did not come from seeing them all together before. The manner in which the banquet was served by the ladies won for them fine commendation. Frequent encores told of the appreciation for the fine music and the three speakers held the close attention of the audience, with most inspiring after dinner addresses. Surely those who were there ought to be better boys, and dearer dads as a result.

Remember the Official Board meeting Thursday evening.

Good congregations were in evidence at both services Sunday. Yet there is room for more. Are you helping to make the church attendance a credit to Dakota City?

For a few Sunday evening the pastor will use as sermon subjects, "Some of the Great Souls of the Bible." Next Sunday evening it will be, "Esther the Resolute." If you find the discussion worth while, tell others!

The Northeastern Nebraska Pure Bred Live Stock Breeders' Association Combination Sale of

Duroc Jersey

50 Sows 50

Emerson, Nebr.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 8th, 1922

ONE O'CLOCK P. M.

The above association will hold their first sale of pure bred stock at which time they will offer 50 head of bred Duroc Jersey Sows and gilts consigned by the well known breeders, Luke Allbaugh, of Thurston, and J. P. Beacom, of Hubbard. The tried sows are all good ones and sold for no fault. The gilts are sure a great lot, big, long stretchy ones, weighing 300 to 400 pounds and are not fat. This is one of the greatest lots of gilts that will be sold this year.

They are sired by such well known sires as Great Orion Sensation, twice world's grand champion; Long Orion Sensation; Giant Big Bone; Mammoth Sensation; Double Sensation, Jr.; Pathfinder Sensation, and other good sires. They are mostly bred to a son of world's champion Great Orion Sensation or a son of Giant Sensation. If you want sows that are bred right and are carrying litters that are bred right, then look these over. There are sows in this offering that would look good in any herd. We don't look for any high prices. Any farmer can afford to own some of these good sows. Now if you need sows come to this sale and get some of these bargains.
