

RENO.

Mrs. J. C. Berry was quite sick last week but is better now.
 J. O. Wilson, J. C. Berry and daughter Nellie made a trip to Alliance Saturday.
 R. V. Switzer came down from the Berry ranch Saturday and stayed over Sunday.

Cecil Wilson was taken very sick with mumps Tuesday evening. He thinks they are no play.

Quite a number of the young people expect to attend the valentine social at Lakeside Friday night.

W. G. Wilson is making some improvements by building a new porch and pantry in connection with his new house.

Several families gathered at the W. F. McCabe's residence Wednesday evening and were very pleasantly entertained.

J. C. Berry has just received another car of Canon City coal and it did not come any too soon as most all the people were about out of fuel.

George Hedgecock has survived from the mumps and returned from Hemingford and is visiting friends in Reno before going to work again.

Still it continues to snow. Think the people have had all the winter they want for a while but the thermometer has never been more than eight below zero this winter.

CANTON.

Our news is scarce this week.

Arthur Bass was a visitor at Hemingford Saturday.

Otis Bass made a flying business trip to Marsland Monday.

Our literary was postponed last Saturday night on account of the religious services in progress at the church.

Quite a number of our ranchmen have been building snow fences to keep the snow from drifting into their stock yards.

Alvin Nicholson, one of Sioux county's ranchmen on Whistle creek, sojourned over night in Canton Saturday and attended church on Sunday.

Will Tagg, a representative or cattle inspector of R. M. Hampton & Co. of Alliance, was in these parts Monday viewing the condition of the cattle.

Miss Jessie Clayton acted as librarian at Sunday school Sunday in the absence of Miss Edith Hroshar who was detained on account of whooping cough.

Since our last whiteup James Moravak has had quite an accident. While riding after his cattle his horse slipped on the ice and fell. His leg was caught under the horse, his ankle bruised and kneecap dislocated.

The religious meetings which have been in progress this and last week conducted by Rev. J. H. Clay, have been well attended notwithstanding the bad stormy weather which prevented a full house. Mr. Clay is a good talker and entertains an audience well.

MARSLAND.

Arthur Hollibaugh is here visiting his brother, Cal.

T. J. Poole was an Alliance visitor last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Winnie Richey entertained the King's daughters on Thursday.

C. H. Richey and C. E. Hollibaugh were transacting business in Crawford on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Snow went down to Alliance on Tuesday, returning Wednesday night.

We understand that the quarantine on the Moore home for smallpox will be lifted this week.

Joe Duhon came down from Fort McKenzie to be present at the marriage of his sister, Mary.

After a vacation of several weeks Miss Ina Gregg has re-opened her school south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Wilson and children spent several days at the Wilson and McCoy ranches recently.

Otis Bass of Canton was trading in town on Monday. He has lately fallen heir to a bad attack of whooping cough.

Kendrick brothers, Bruce and Hollibaugh have arranged for a telephone line to connect with central at this place.

Pete Watson was down from the ranch on Saturday to receive a load of feed which he had shipped down from Hemingford.

Miss Attie Snow returned to her school on Monday, having been compelled to close it for three weeks on account of sickness.

Mrs. Joralemon and little granddaughter, Claudia Laton, spent a part of last week in Chadron. They returned home on Friday night.

Miss Lillie Dickey went to her home near Alliance last Thursday, having closed her school for a few days on account of the prevalence of measles.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bennett entertained a number of friends on Friday night in honor of their aunt, Mrs. A. Lytle, who departed that night for Missouri.

Our genial landlord, C. H. Richey, is putting on metropolitan airs. He has

Mrs. L. Byers went to Alliance on Thursday, returning Sunday. While there she combined business with pleasure and selected a stock of dry goods from their traveling salesman who had his samples on exhibition at that place.

L. Snow left for Lushton on Sunday night in answer to a telegram announcing the serious illness of his aged mother. He was accompanied by his daughter, Pearl, and at Alliance they were joined by Mrs. Sheppard, a niece of Mr. Snow.

E. T. Gregg found upon examination recently of the ice on his pond that the dirt had let loose from the bottom of the ice and that it was all right for use. Consequently the teams are put to work there and a fine lot of ice is being shipped.

The Presbyterian Sunday school will have a social at the Commercial hotel on the night of St. Valentine's day. The bills say that sandwiches, pickles, doughnuts and coffee will be served all for ten cents. There will be a post-office which will be presided over by the newly appointed postmistress and her assistants, Louie McGogy and Margaret Richey.

There was quite a company of friends and neighbors invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duhon five miles south of town on Thursday, the 6th, the occasion being a wedding dinner given in honor of their daughter, Mary, and Mr. Perry Ball who were married at the M. E. parsonage in Hemingford the evening before. The dinner was very nice and there was a profusion of flowers for table decorations and each guest was presented with flowers. A host of friends wish this young couple success and happiness.
