Additional local on inside pages.

Matt Cowlin of Marple was transacting business in the city Wednesday.

Frank and Fred Nagelschneider were down from Hemingford Tuesday.

Miss Lulu Kent will commence the spring term of school in the Tiernan district next Monday.

Miss Maggie Brennan closed school in the Lorraine-West district last Friday. She left this week for Newcastle.

Miss Edna Mustrude closes a successful term of school in the Lawler district today and will commence teaching in the Sherlock district next Monday.

Jules Zbinden returned Sunday from a business and pleasure trip which included Lincoln, Omaha and Sweetwater, the home of his brother Herman.

James Feagins of the Watson & Feagins ranch returned Tuesday from a trip in Iowa and Illinois, where he had been to purchase blooded stock.

Mrs. Ernest Montgomery left Sunday morning for Lincoln where her husband went some time ago and where they expect to make their home.

Mrs. Geo. A. Reid left Wednesday night for Chicago. It is probable that her little daughter who has been there for medical treatment will return with her.

Mrs. Calkins of Ravenna was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Morris Sunday while en route to Kelso, Wash., where she expects to remain permanently.

Mrs. J. S. Mekiney returned Sunday from her long stay at St. Joseph's hospital in Omaha much improved in health, though not completely recovered.

James Dougherty, our stockman friend from Lakeside, spent a couple of days in the city the first of the week on business. Mr. Dougherty says his stock has wintered well.

E. S. Wildy returned from Guernsey last Saturday and after spending a few days with friends went to Hemingford, expecting to go from there to the Wildy ranch near Malinda.

The Coming Election.

Tuesday next will be election day. The candidates, groomed and fit, are already on the track and both sides coming strong. Partisans in the grand stand are whooping up their respective favorites. "Git there, Eli!" It is anybody's race so far. We have nothing to add to the opinions we gave last week. The public is well aware of existing conditions and the respective merits of those in the race and therefore is competent to pick the winner. Twelve months is not a very long time between elections and though considerable harm might be done by incompetent officials in that space of time, still the accounting day will come and at the next election they will meet a blizzard of condemning votes from the hands of their outraged fellow citizens. THE HERALD wishes each man to vote according to his conscience and may God defend the right. It is up to you now, Mr. Voter. Do your duty.

Things to be Hoped For.

Whatever ticket may be elected on Tuesday next it is to be hoped that on Wednesday there will be a general handshaking and a formal burial of the tomahawk for twelve months at least. It is to be hoped that the successful candidates will work for the upbuilding of our vigorous young city. We hope for honest transaction of municipal affairs. We hope for good and abundant water supply. We hope for honest fulfillment of electric light and other franchise contracts. And we do earnestly hope that a proper sewerage system may be provided for the city. Let all put aside personal animosities and give at least moral support to those whom the majority of the voters select as municipal officers for the coming year.

Give Your Names, Please!

We are compelled to repeat for the benefit of the public that we do not publish in our paper anonymous communications dealing in personalities. Such a declaration on our part ought to be unnecessary but considering the gross violations of this obvious rule by our contemporaries and the many anonymous communications that are sent to us for publication we deem it necessary to express ourselves most emphatically on this subject once more. An editor who publishes an anonymous letter reflecting on the character of another ought to be held responsible therefor. The writer of them is a coward and honest men spurn the coward. If you wish to sling mud at your neighbor be prepared to stand for the damages.

The Climax of His Trip.

We received another letter from Rev. Dr. Horn Tuesday. It is dated at Haifa, March 10, and reads: "I am doing Palestine thoroughly. Will spend thirty days here, counting time already spent. Saw Caesarea and Acre today. This is really the climax of my tour. I traveled 3,480 miles in India and about 1,600 miles in Egypt that I did not have in my original plan. I did not have Constantinople, Turkey, yet my plan includes Constantinople and Smyrna, also Athens, en route to Naples and Rome. I expect to arrive in New York by April 20 or 15."

Doctor, Cure Yourself.

"I fear the Greeks bearing gifts." Crocodile tears from our contemporaries of the quill give unmistakable evidence that we have disappointed them. They regret exceedingly that THE HERALD has not put itself in a false position in the present municipal campaign. It would be more becoming for our contemporaries to keep their regrets and their advice for their own benefit. They will need both in the near future. THE HERALD knows its own business, thank you, and usually attends to it. It never has to regret its principles.

Burlington Telegraphers Organizing

Representatives of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers are scattered all along the system in the interest of the order and their members report that all are meeting with very flattering success. The Burlington operators are the last of the western lines to organize successfully and it is claimed are now the only road west of the river not paying standard wages in this department. Demand will be made some time in the summer for a schedule and no trouble is anticipated.

Go to Church!

The pulpits of Alliance will resound Sunday next with oratorical efforts on the present municipal crisis. The history of Jews and gentiles will be ransacked for parallels and opportune parables. Among the old Jews there flourished some pretty tough old politicians so there will be no loss for opportunities to "point a moral and adorn a tale." The devil will have his gouty toe stamped on. If you don't know how to vote, go to church next Sunday morning.

Riggin-Boyd.

Henry Riggin was united in marriage to Miss Millie Boyd March 31, by County Judge Spacht.

PERMANENT STATE NORMAL

To be Established at Alliance, More Than a Possibility.

IN FACT PROSPECTS ARE VERY GOOD

And no Efforts Will be Spared by the Committee and Citizens to Secure This Excellent Institution.

Interest in the securing of a state normal for this section is by no means on the wane in Alliance. Since the passage of House Roll No. 100, locating at Alliance a junior normal, which will commence June 8, the securing of a permanent normal school has been among the subjects of first importance in the minds of the business men of the city.

A meeting was held Saturday evening at the courthouse to discuss what further work should be done toward getting the school located here if the senate should pass House Roll No. 1, the provisions of which have been previously outlined in these columns. It has passed the house and it seems probable that the bill will become a law. Its provision that the place at which the school shall be located must donate $10,000 is the one that most deeply concerns us at present. The gift of twenty acres of land will of course not stand in the way an instant and the $10,000 can, from present indications, be raised without difficulty. Quite a number of men present at the meeting stated their willingness to give $500 each toward the sum. The following committee of ten was selected to have the raising of this sum in charge: W. G. Simonson, president; J. W. Baumgardner, secretary; Geo. W. Clark, C. C. Smith, R. M. Hampton, A. S. Reed, W. H. Bartz, T. J. O'Keefe, C. A. Newberry, D. W. Butler, J. W. Baumgardner, G. W. Clark, R. M. Hampton and C. C. Smith were appointed as correspondence committee.

Prof. W. H. Bartz received a letter from State Superintendent Fowler offering him the position of principal of the junior normal and the probabilities are that he will accept it.

The benefits of the permanent school can be partially estimated when about three hundred teachers are expected to attend the junior normal during the summer. It would not only be a constant source of profit to all business men and those having rooms to rent or who furnish board, etc., but would advertise the city extensively and thus add to its business and importance. Pail for the permanent normal.

Pilkington Speaks the Finis.

ALLIANCE, Neb., March 31, 1903. Editor of THE ALLIANCE HERALD, Dear Sir: It would seem to a person of ordinary intelligence that a party, whether a political party or a party of preachers calling themselves christians, could do better than to engage a well, a mule's father to desecrate the Book of Books to throw mud and slang to beat their opponents. Probably they did not engage him, for he may be using his jawbone to gain cheap notoriety. Probably the longeared gentleman thinks that no one but himself knows that he is not competent to write Biblical parables, but must necessarily use a book that lots of people are familiar with besides himself. Last week he came out heading his harangue First Chapter of Chronicles. We all know that to use that term of itself is no harm; but when he writes up a chapter copied from the Bible, substituting names, thus trying to deceive people and trying to make them believe he is a writer of parables, then he shows himself to be wrong in his head. It seems that last week he must have taken a shorter chapter than he did the week before, for before he got through with his harangue, when left to his own leather headed resources he commences to flounder like a fish out of water. In his last week's epistle he would have us believe he was neutral for he casually mentioned Big Bill, thinking perhaps by so doing he could hold on to his job which ever gentlemen won. He thinks because he is a Maverick and unbranded that no one knows to which herd he belongs. But undeceive yourself. The herders saw you sneaking from Runningwater and when election is over and you come up for re-appointment you may be sorry you used your jawbone and will not know whether your name ought to be spelled with an F instead of a P. Yours, etc., JOHN PILKINGTON.

Where You'll Vote.

The polling place for the First ward in the election to be held Tuesday, April 7, is Bell's hall. Judges, B. F. Gilman, Charles Anderson and Frank Putman. Clerks, C. H. Connert and W. O. Barnes. For the Second ward, in the council chamber. Judges, G. Zurn, R. H. Watkins and A. F. Mollring. Clerks, C. W. Brennan and D. A. Foley.

Swanholm Co., occupy a half page ad this week. This new firm has enterprise and it is evident that they will do business.

Enoch Boyer called THE HERALD up today from his dairy farm east of town, having just been "connected" with the city. His phone is No. 262.

W. M. Whitfield's wife and children arrived here Tuesday from Peru. The family moved at once into the Kenley property which Mr. Whitfield recently purchased.

W. M. Copeland came up from Ashby Monday to make the acquaintance of his new son. Of course "Mac" thinks there is no other boy and has already named him "Ephram."

Mrs. B. Mewhirter went to Lead Tuesday to spend a few days there with her husband who is superintending the construction of an extension of the Burlington's electric line in that region.

The movement started some time ago for the closing of stores at 7 p. m. was adopted and took effect April 1. This order will, however, be suspended on pay days and the day following.

Mrs. H. S. George, Crewkerne, England, and Miss S. Hadland, St. Leonard's-on-the-Sea, England, are new cash subscribers this week. The ladies met Rev. Dr. Horn in Jerusalem, and desire to read his letters on Palestine.

Auctioneer A. D. New is a late subscriber and also inserted an ad in these columns. Mr. New has had sixteen years experience as an auctioneer and is highly spoken of by citizens of Sheridan county where he formerly lived.

Clark Olds, H. E. Goodenough and Frank Shimek were down from Hemingford Wednesday to attend the M. W. A. county convention for election of delegates to the state convention. W. O. Barnes was elected delegate and Mr. Olds alternate.

Funeral services for the six-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Reed of Pueblo, Colo., were held from the Culp home Tuesday forenoon, Rev. Jeffers conducting them. Mr. Reed is a brother to Mrs. Culp. The mother of the dead baby was ill and unable to accompany her husband.

On Thursday night, April 14, the Women's Guild of the Episcopal church will give a hop in Phelan opera house. Prof. Moore's full orchestra of five pieces will provide the music. In connection with the hop there will be a linen sale and handkerchief shower. Admission will be free. Tickets for dancing, seventy-five cents.

"Jehosaphat and Ahab" or "The Alliance Between the Christian and the Un-Christian" will be the subject of the morning sermon at the United Presbyterian church. W. M. Howie will present the condition at the coming election and the Christian's duty as made known by the text. All voters following Jehosaphat or Ahab are invited. Subject of evening sermon, "Satan's Power."

Zed Goodwin, Jr., came up from his ranch near Morrill yesterday. Mr. Goodwin reports a small loss of stock in that immediate vicinity. His loss out of a herd of 300 was only two head and he fed less than $200 worth of hay. Mr. Goodwin called to say that he had heard many favorable comments about THE HERALD and he wanted it for a year, paying the cash therefor.

Albert Nelson and John Eckman drove down from Danlap yesterday. Mr. Nelson sold his ranch eight miles northeast of Hemingford this week to W. A. Clark and after two months will dispose of his stock at public sale. Himself and wife will then go to Juneau, Wis., their former home to reside permanently. They decided upon this change during their visit there last winter. Mr. Nelson has been a resident of this county for eighteen years and was always known as one of our most upright citizens. He has worked hard and success has crowned his efforts with a competence.

Mrs. Thomas Regan held her millinery opening yesterday and in spite of the inclement weather many ladies were there to see the display of beautiful new millinery and tasteful decorations. The arrangement of the show window was indeed a work of art. Yellow roses were the flowers chiefly used, long festoons of them being gracefully draped from the front and sides to a point above. The central piece was a rose tree bearing the beautiful heavy Marechal Niel roses, as natural looking as if produced by nature and more beautiful than nature's best effort can produce in this climate. And then the hats. That they were all that could be desired in beauty, artistic combination and variety is the very least that could be said of them. While as in former seasons all colors are used in these creations, shades of yellow seem to be the reigning favorites and the hats are most of them made of lace though fancy braids are used to a considerable extent. The opening is to be continued tomorrow. Do not fail to visit the store then if you have not already done so.
