The Largest Ballroom. The biggest ballroom in the world is not at any European court, but at Government house, Melbourne. At the time it was designed the architect consulted the governor of the period as to its size. "Do you know any thing about ballrooms in other parts of the world?" asked the governor. Disappearing Glaciers. Last week the federal government of Switzerland made known the result of a year's observations on a matter of great interest to tourists—the slow but steady wearing away of the glaclers. Special attention was directed to the giaciers of Valais, and here it has been ascertained that twelve have decreased by three to sixteen meters, the latter figure having reference to Findelem, in Zermatt. On the other hand, a glacier in the Simplon has grown in size, while another at Zanfieuron has increased by twenty-four meters.

Good Cheer and Good Food Go Together.

Improper feeding is the source of most human alls. Sick people don't laugh much. It is the healthy and strong who see the sunny side of everything. Pure, scientific food will correct most ailments and bring laughter and good cheer in place of sickness and gloom. The wife of a physician of Dayton, O., says: "Before I had finished the first package of Grape-Nuts, which I got at the urgent request of a friend of mine several months ago, I was astonished to find I was less pervous over small matters and worried less over large ones, laughed more readily and was at all times more calm and contented than I had ever been in my life. I found also that the hollow places in my neck and shoulders were filling out and that astonished me as I had always been very thin, as women with starved nerves are apt

"After a time I discontinued the use of Grape-Nuts for two months and found the old symptoms return at once. I went back to the use of the food again and feel well and strong I can increase my weight at will from five to ten pounds a month by using more or less of the food. Before I was married I was for five years a trained nurse and I have never in all my experience seen anything to act as quickly and favorably as this scientific food," Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

WORK DISSOLVED. JUDGE DECIDES FOR UNIONS

Railway Contention of Conspiracy by Officials is Declared Unfounded-Too Early Yet to Determine in Regard to Appealing the Case.

ST. LOUIS-In the United States district court Wednesday Judge Folmer B. Adams handed down a decision dissolving the injunction granted March 3 restraining officials of the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Firemen and Railroad Trainmen and other labor leaders from influencing in any way or ordering the men employed on the Wabash system to strike.

The temporary injunction had been granted by Judge Adams on allegations made by officials of the Wabash system that the defendants were conspiring to interfere with interstate traffic and the transmission of United States mails.

L. N. Judson of St. Louis, special counsel for the brotherhoods, stated to the Associated Press that he and Colonel Wells H. Blodgett, general solicitor of the Wabash Railroad company, were making efforts to bring all the parties in interset together and that in his opinion an amicable agreement would be arrived at and that there would be no strike. Colonel Blodgett, when seen after court, was apparently depressed by the decision. When asked if an appeal would be taken, he said: "It is too early to say now whether or not we will appeal."

In his decision Judge Adams first analyzes the bill of complaint upon which the provisional restraining or der was issued, showing that the serious part of the charge was that the defendants had entered into an unlawful and malicious conspiracy to secure recognition of their brother hoods by falsely representing that the employes of the railroad are dissatisfied with their wages and conditions of service, when they were in fact entirely satisfied and contented with the same; that the defendants were about to exercise their powers as supreme and controlling officers of the brotherhoods of fremen and trainmen to force an underired strike upon the men who were members of their organizations; that the defendants threatened and were about to further enforce their demands to execute their conspiracy by preventing the railroad from performing its duties as carrier of interstate commerce and the mails their members who were working for the connecting lines from interchanging traffic of the road and thus preventing the connecting lines from interchanging traffic with and affording the Wabash the facilities therefor required by the interstate act.

The gist of the conspiracy coming within the jurisdiction of the federal courts, as charge in the bill, was to precipitate a strike undesired by the men, and thereby, and by other means specifically charged in the bill, to interfere with interstate commerce and the mail service of the United States.

Upon the showing made that the first step of the conspiracy, namely. the ordering of such a strike, was immediately contemplated by the defendants, and that irreparable damage would necessarily befall the railroad unless a restraining order was forthwith issued, the same was done for the purpose of holding the property and the parties in statu quo until both sides could be fully heard on the motion to set aside or modify the order. Leave was given to file such a motion at any time within fifteen days.

THE IMPRESSIONS OF A WOMAN.

What a Woman Says About Western Canada.

Although many men have written to this paper regarding the prospects of Western Canada and its great possibilities, it may not be uninteresting to give the experience of a woman settler, written to Mr. M. V. McInnes, the agent of the government at Detroit, Mich. If the reader wishes to get further information regarding Western Canada it may be obtained by writing any of the agents of the Government whose name is attached to the advertisement appearing elsewhere in this paper.

The following is the letter referred to:

Hilldown, Alberta, Feb. 5, '03. Dear Sir-I have been here now nearly five years, and thought I, would write you a woman's impression of Western Canada-in Alberta. There are several ranchers in this district who, in addition to taking care of their cattle, carry on farming as well; their herds of cattle number from 100 to 200 or 300 head, and live out all winter without any shelter than the poplar bluffs, and they come in in the spring in good order. Most of the ranchers feed their cattle part of the time, about this time of the year, but I have seen the finest fat cattle I ever saw that never got a peck of grainonly fattened on the grass. You see I have learned to talk farm since I came here-farming is the great business here. I know several in this district who never worked a day on the farm till they came here, and have done well and are getting well

I think this will be the garden of the Northwest some day, and that day not very far distant. There has been a great change since we came here, and there will be a greater change in the next five years. The winters are all anyone could wish for. We have very little snow, and the climate is fine and healthy. Last summer was wet, but not to an extent to damage crops, which were a large average yield and the hay was immense-and farmers wore a broad smile accord-We have good schools, the government pays 70 per cent of the expense of education, which is a great boon in a new country. Of course churches of different denominations follow the settlements. Summer picnics and winter concerts are all well attended, and as much, or more, enjoyed as in the Easi. Who would not prefer the pure air of this climate with its broad acres of fine farms, its rippling streams, its beautiful lakes, its millions of wild flowers, its groves of wild fruit of exquisite flavor, its streams and lakes teeming with fish and its prairies and bluffs with game, to the crowded and stiff state of society in the East. I would like to go home for a visit some time, but not to go there to live, even if presented with the best farm in Michigan. Beautiful Alberta, I will never leave it. And my verdict is only a repetition of all who have settled in his country This year I believe will add many thousands to our population. And if the young men, and old men also, knew how easy they could make a home free of all incumbrance in this country, thousands more would have settled here. I would sooner have 160 acres here than any farm where I came from in Michigan, but the people in the East are coming to a knowledge of this country, and as they do, they will come West in thousands. All winter people have been arriving in Alberta, and I suppose in other parts as well, which is unusual, so we expect a great rush when the weather gets warmer. We have no coal famine here. Coal can be bought in the towns for $2 to $3. according to distance from the mines, and many haul their own coal from the mines, getting it there for 50 cents to a dollar a ton. Very truly yours, (Signed) Mrs. John McLachlan.
