CANTON.

Being off our usual beat last week, no news was sent, for which we have had to take several severe scoldings.

There has been some very sharp trading going on this week in the way of horse swapping. Arthur Bass traded his fine saddle mare and colt to B. C. Curtis for a good driving horse.

Rev. Post is up from Carpenter again this week holding meetings for a few evenings.

Mrs. W. A. Randall was in Hemingford on a trading tour Friday.

G. H. Clayton was in Hemingford Friday for a load of salt for his ranch.

Otis Bass left this week with his household goods and kitchen furniture for the ranch he has leased on the Runningwater. His cattle were taken down the first of the week, R. L. Shetler assisting him.

Mrs. Jacob Shetler of Lawn precinct was the guest of Mrs. J. W. Brosnar Saturday and Sunday and attended religious services at the church on Sunday.

Mr. Tyler and family of Marsland were visitors at the home of Emmet Johnson Sunday.

We have the consent of our minds to believe that all of the good looking schoolma'ams who teach the school in district No. 31 have more narrow escapes than anybody's people. Last Sunday morning while Miss Mary Herneall was on her way home from church her horse lost control of himself and fell down, shaking Miss Mary up in good shape, but not disabling her, but what she was able to attend church Sunday night.

The young people have made an addition to the choir in the persons of Misses Cora Reese, Mary Herneall and Mary Moravsek.

FAIRVIEW.

Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. M. P. Nason May 13.

Fred Hadley is beautifying his home by setting out shade trees and shrubbery.

Sam Trenkle is farming with his uncle, Fred Bauer this season.

Grandma Bauer is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Jesse, for a few days.

Charlie Heath and Miss Lena Bauer spent Sunday afternoon with Joe and Geneva West.

Mrs. Sadler, formerly Mrs. Kroesing of this place, was calling on old neighbors last Saturday and Sunday.

Sunday school at Fairview is well attended and quite an interest is manifested. That is right. All turn out, put your shoulder to the wheel and keep it rolling and we will have a good school.

R. H. West, while in town Roosevelt day, had the misfortune to lose his pocketbook containing about $18.

Miss Della Strong, who is teaching in district No. 3, intends to go to Reno Saturday to visit her parents. Miss West will fill her position during her absence.

R. H. West, our assessor, is busy these days finding out what the taxpayers of Box Butte precinct are worth.

W. I. Lorraine has put up a new windmill.

The prediction we made a few weeks ago that something would occur in the near future worthy of mention has come to pass. Two of our well known young people, Charlie Trenkle and Patty Kohrman, united their fortunes for the life journey last Monday. The bridegroom is the son of Ferdinand Trenkle, one of the early settlers of this country and is one of our most industrious young men and is bound to succeed. The bride is the estimable daughter of John Kohrman, also one of the early settlers. In the evening a goodly number of their friends gathered at their home and after playing a few selections on tin horns and cow bells, the kind of instruments they are most familiar with, Charlie appeared upon the scene and passed around the cigars, after which the crowd dispersed, wondering where they would next enjoy similar privileges under like circumstances.

If you want something that is a good thing for cold weather and dust get Hill's patent automatic door strip, on exhibition at Newberry's Hardware. County agent, W. E. Gillett, phone 236. 12-12-11.
