Much dissatisfaction is being expressed by farmers hauling potatoes and other crops to town on account of the crossings being held for a considerable length of time by trains, in several cases the time being over one hour. An ordinance should be passed regulating the matter and the trainmen compelled to pay a little attention to the needs of the people who use the public highways. Some conductors are very accommodating and watch whether there is any one desirous of passing. Others are not of this class and should be brought to time. The company does not uphold them in this sort of laziness and they would be reprimanded from headquarters if reported. The less friction between people in different classes of employment the better but the conditions here are beginning to be insufferable, especially as winter is coming on and many ladies drive to town and children drive to school.

His team ran away throwing him to the ground and the vehicle containing about 400 pounds passed over his shoulder. Mr. Kaper will spend the time of his convalescence visiting at Bayard, Collins and Guernsey visiting friends and relatives.

A double surprise dinner party was given at the lodge rooms last Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lockwood and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Leidy, it being their thirtieth and twenty-fifth wedding anniversaries, by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. The "confidence" game was perpetrated on the innocent victims in a manner most complete and the social gathering will be a pleasant instance in their memory. As a material memento of the occasion, the parties were presented with handsome berry spoons neatly engraved.

The production of "Thelma" by the Della Pringle company last Tuesday evening was witnessed by a crowded house of spectators and the company sustained its good reputation among the theater-going citizens of Alliance. While the romance and love lore of "Thelma" is interesting and well written, there is too much of the overdrawn in the entire cast and the rendition is not only tiresome to an audience but decidedly wearing on the actors. The songs and specialties given between acts brought down the house and seemed to be appreciated fully as much as the play proper.

At the Old Cross Roads.
This beautiful play by Arthur C. Aiston's best company will be presented in Alliance for the first time tomorrow Saturday night, Oct. 3. There are twenty-one performers with the company, headed by Estha Williams and James M. Brophy, two of the most famous performers now starring in the west. The play had a continuous run of six weeks in the Studebaker theatre at Chicago during July and August and the same company playing it there will appear in Alliance tomorrow night. The play is a highly interesting romance taken from life on a southern plantation and the characters are all true to life. The famous "American Four Quartet" is with this company and will render selections during the acts. Owing to towns throughout this section being so far apart it is no easy matter to persuade so shrewd a manager as Mr. Aiston to send out one of his high-class companies and only upon an assurance that Alliance playgoers will always patronize liberally any high-class performance would he consent to send out this company and it is hoped that he will not be disappointed tomorrow night. Reserved seats now on sale at Holsten's. Prices: reserved seats, 75 and 50 cents; gallery, 50 cents; children, 35 cents.

Members of the A. O. U. W. played a little ruse on the unsuspecting A. T. Lunn and his good wife by planning a surprise in their honor because of their fourth wedding anniversary, which event took place yesterday. Last night about twenty couples assembled at Bell's hall, the unsuspecting couple were ushered into their midst and to put it mildly, the surprise was complete. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present. Music and oratory together with other interesting features made up the program. A delicious repast was not the least of the occasion.

FROM ONE SACK of flour we make many varieties of BREAD. Each kind is different in shape, different in method of making and different in flavor. Hardly necessary to say that all are excellent. We make nothing that we cannot recommend.
