$100 for a Name.

LOCKWOOD & CO., ALLIANCE, NEB., DEAR SIR:

We want a good name for our high class brass and iron beds.

We will pay $100 to the retail furniture dealer sending us the best name for this line. Contestants must fill out the enclosed blank and send it to us by October 25, 1903. The name selected from those submitted will be inserted in our December advertisements appearing in all the leading magazines.

Our beds are beautiful in style and design, splendidly constructed and finished with great skill and artistic taste. The name should embody the all-round excellence of our productions. It should also be short and easily remembered.

Beginning now we intend to spend thousands of dollars annually advertising our beds in high grade publications. Naturally, we want the name to be one that will stick like a barr.

We hope that you will enter the contest and win.

Remember, this blank must be signed and in our hands by October 25, 1903. Very truly yours,

MARION IRON & BRASS BED CO. The above will be turned over to our patrons who will be given the opportunity to secure the prize offered. For particulars, call at store.

B. F. LOCKWOOD & Co. Harold B. Miller, M. D., physician and surgeon, office and residence 321 south Seventh street, Lincoln, Neb.

Now is the time to prepare for winter. Cold weather is on the way. Don't wait until stocks are broken before buying your Underwear. Let us call your attention to an especially fine ribbed-fleeced garment at 35c. Its a leader. If you want better we have all grades.

The Soldiers Were Here.

Eight troops of the tenth cavalry arrived in Alliance Tuesday and camped that night in and about the race track. The day was cold and a disagreeable wind made the overland trip from Ft. Robinson anything but pleasant. The cavalry is on its way to Sidney where the soldier boys will go by rail to Ft. Riley, Kans. to spend two or three weeks for maneuvers to instruct the national guard. There will be 12,000 troops there and Major-General Bates of Chicago will be in command.

While here the troops were shown every possible courtesy by Mayor Buechsenstein. The pleasant visit of the Ft. Robinson officers and cavalry the Fourth of July was remembered by every public-spirited citizen and no pains were spared to make the visitors at home.

One of the pleasant features of the occasion was a concert Tuesday evening by the Tenth Cavalry band under the direction of Prof. Kelley, chief musician, who has been in the service of the army since 1876. The concert took place at the opera house and was followed by a dance in which many of our citizens and army officers participated with enjoyment to all.

The concert program included classic and other selections and the large audience did not hesitate to express its appreciation with vociferous applause. The officer in command instructed the band to give a concert to Alliance citizens, leaving the time and place for the mayor to decide. Mayor Buechsenstein thereupon appointed F. M. Broome, Dr. Knight and T. J. O'Keefe as a committee on arrangements and entertainment, whom he assisted during the entire evening.

At the conclusion of the concert, Mr. Broome, on behalf of the mayor and citizens of Alliance, thanked the officers for their kindness in giving the entertainment and dance and hoped the friendly relations between the Tenth cavalry and this city would continue in the same spirit that has existed in the past.

Wednesday morning the soldier boys were up bright and early and it wasn't long before the tented city at the race track was a thing of the past and a cloud of dust to the southwest indicated which way the Tenth cavalry was going.

Drama and Music.

"At the Old Cross Roads," a dramatical cast well written and of great interest was produced at the Phelan opera house Saturday night by the Arthur G. Aiston company in a manner pleasing to the large audience in attendance. The drama deals with southern life and customs, wherein the entangling snares of vice are interwoven with woman's honor and man's duplicity. The heroine, though a white woman of rare beauty, is branded an octoroon and slave. A clandestine marriage brings forth a daughter who is not allowed to be recognized by her mother. In due time she has a lover who asks her hand in marriage. The father consents in the presence of a social gathering but not with any love for mother or daughter and he openly declares the child's relationship to his octoroon mistress. The hate of the man toward his mistress is the cause of many abuses on his part. In a rage of passion he strikes her across the face with a whip, laying open the flesh. In self defense the woman shoots her oppressor dead. A coroner's jury acquits the defenseless woman, a character appears upon the scene who proves the woman to be of excellent birth but through some entangling family affair was lost in childhood. Troubles finally gives way to peaceful conditions and the play concludes with everything lovely and everybody happy.

The musical and reading entertainment given by Miss Ola Bidwell at the opera house Wednesday evening was well attended and highly appreciated. Perhaps the actress' rendition of "The Holy City" brought her more laurels than any other number on the program, but Ola had won the admiration of her audience from the first and every number was followed by spirited applause. There is no doubt the lady's strongest effort lies in her musical ability.

Two Strong Corporations.

Articles of incorporation of the Star Ranch and Combination Cattle companies are published in this issue and define the rules and by-laws that will govern the newly organized corporations. The headquarters of these companies is at Alliance and the stockholders and officers connected therewith are among our most trustworthy and substantial citizens. The purpose of these new corporations is to carry on a general real estate business and the buying and selling of cattle and other live stock. There is no doubt that these new business procedures will prove successful institutions.

Horse Thief Captured.

Charles D. Patterson who was arrested in Alliance Wednesday night has confessed to being one of the parties who stole the Zbinden and McFall horses a few weeks ago. Sheriff Reed now has Patterson in charge and he will be given a hearing this afternoon before County Judge Spacht.

C. M. Lotspeich is threatened with appendicitis.

Miss Lida Bell is making some good improvements on her residence.

E. S. Wildy drove down from Hemingford Sunday afternoon returning Monday.

Mrs. H. J. Steen's condition is reported better but she is still unable to leave her room.

Miss Francis Hill was a passenger for Sheridan Monday to visit her sister a couple of weeks.

A. H. Grove spent the most of the week at Hemingford buying potatoes for Raymond & Quivey.

The Crawford Bowlers will contest for honors with the Alliance team at Ridgell's alleys next Friday.

Dr. Smith and wife arrived Wednesday from University Place for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. L. B. Stoner.

Frank Peck of Rushville visited the family of A. D. New Wednesday and Thursday on his return from a trip to Denver.

W. E. Ashbaugh purchased the blacksmith shop of A. L. Charles Monday and will conduct the business henceforth.

F. A. Thiele, the genial fellow who sold apples here last fall, is in the city to buy potatoes, the crop that Box Butte county excels in.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sheldon were down from Box Butte Monday. This was Mrs. Sheldon's first visit to Alliance for eight months.

Miss Elsie Preston returned Thursday morning to her home at Woodward, Iowa, after a three months' visit with relatives in this city.

F. B. O. Fosket, one of our stockmen friends of Sioux county, was in the city Saturday and called to push up his subscription a notch.

T. G. Burk, solicitor for the Flato Commission Co., came in from South Omaha Wednesday having gone there with a train of fifteen cars for his firm.

James Hollinrake was down from Hemingford Monday on business. Mr. Hollinrake was awarded the contract for constructing the new bridge across Sand canon.

Mrs. Sexton returned with the Reardon funeral party from Creston, Iowa, Monday and is spending the week with Alliance friends. She will return to her home at Cheyenne next week.

James Barry, president of the First State bank at Hemingford, was a business visitor in the city Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Barry says that there are large quantities of potatoes being marketed at Hemingford every day and business is flourishing.

Dr. Moore returned yesterday from his hunting trip in the Big Horn mountains. There were nine in the party and they secured nine elk and two deer. A trip was also made to the Yellowstone Park. The doctor reports a most pleasant time, the party being a jolly one, and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the trip.

Let Contract for School Building.

At the meeting of the school board last night the contract for building the new school house awarded S. C. Reck for $9,800 and the work of excavating was let to P. R. Workman for 18 cents per cubic ft. Both were the lowest bidders. J. H. Dustman will have charge of the carpenter work and H. T. Carey was selected for superintendent. The excavation work will commence next Monday and the brick work will begin about Nov. 1.

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to our friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and death of our beloved father and husband. Mrs. S. Mastrade and children.

Bernard Fitz from the north part of the county came in from Omaha this morning having marketed a car of cattle. His steers sold for $3.60 and cows, $2.20. Mr. Fitz made THE HERALD a call and extended his subscription a year.

A party of southern Wyoming newspaper men, 31 in number, passed through this city last Tuesday on their way to Sheridan to attend the industrial convention. The "boys" were riding in a varnished car which they leased from the railroad company in some manner unaccountable and they all appeared well fed and happy. Among the visitors were Editor Geo. W. Perry of Rawlins, and Editor J. F. Crawford of Saratoga, both of whom made THE HERALD office a pleasant call.

School Report.

To the board of education and patrons of Alliance city schools: Find herewith appended the report of the city schools for the month ending October 7, 1903:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Value. Number of pupils enrolled to date - 727; Number of boys enrolled - 337; Number of girls enrolled - 390; Average daily attendance - 653.31; Average number belonging - 688.57; Per cent of daily attendance - 94.25; Number of cases of tardiness - 22; Per cent of punctuality - 99.91; Neither absent nor tardy for month - 395; Number of minutes lost by tardiness - 150; Number present every day - 457; Number of visitors - 31.

The fifth grade holds the flag next month on account of best record in punctuality and attendance.

The following rooms were perfect in punctuality: Third primary, second grade, fourth grade, fifth grade.

The fourth primary had the highest per cent of attendance, 97.38, and the sixth grade was second with 97.19 per cent.

Following is the enrollment by rooms: High school, 92; eighth grade, 49; seventh, 39; sixth, 50; fifth, 56; fourth, 46; lower fourth, 48; third, 51; second, 54; fourth primary, 51; third primary, 55; second primary, 63; first primary, 73.

It will be noticed that some of the rooms are too crowded to do efficient work and the new building can be completed none too soon.

While the per cent of attendance is reasonably good yet there is room for considerable improvement and parents should lead every assistance in seeing that pupils are in school regularly. Respectfully submitted, W. H. BARTZ, Supt.

The Reardon Funeral.

We glean the following from the Creston Daily Advertiser of Oct. 5, regarding the funeral of the late John P. Reardon:

The funeral of the late John Reardon, who died at Alliance, Neb., a few days ago, took place this morning from St. Malachy's church and Father Bede conducted high mass as a mark of honor to the memory of the dead. The employees of the Creston machine shops, many of whom were old friends of the deceased, attended the funeral in a body and marched from the shops to the house and to the church. Music was given by the choir of St. Malachy's church and was exceptionally fine. The sermon of Father Bede was most appropriate to the occasion, and was a beautiful tribute to the generous and whole-souled characteristics of the man who was the friend of all while alive and whose acquaintances showed their love for his memory by a large attendance at the last sad rites. The floral offerings were many and handsome and the bier was hidden by the wealth of flowers which were the tribute of friends. The interment was at Calvary cemetery, and the remains of John Reardon were laid in the tomb with the tears of many friends of land standing.

Those who attended the funeral from abroad were the following: Mrs. Joel West of Burlington, Fred Rugh, fuel inspector for the B. & M., and wife, Lincoln; F. A. Torrey, assistant superintendent of motive power of the Burlington; Chicago; Master Mechanic George Beckwith and D. A. Kelley, foreman of shops, Pacific Junction; W. J. Hewitt, agent at Pacific Junction and wife; F. H. Clark, general superintendent of motive power of the Burlington, Chicago; General Supply Agent Young of the Burlington, Chicago.

The following resolutions of respect by citizens of Creston prove the high esteem in which Mr. Reardon was held by his old-time friends in Iowa.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS, The all wise Creator and Ruler of the Universe, has called from us our beloved friend, J. P. Reardon, and

WHEREAS, We deeply feel the loss of him, who was a true friend, and in every respect worthy of our highest regards and esteem, and

WHEREAS, His widow has lost a true and affectionate husband, his children a faithful and considerate protector and father, and his aged father a loyal and loving son.

WHEREAS, Be it resolved that while we deeply feel his loss as a true and worthy friend, we humbly bow in submission to the will of Him, who doeth all things well.

RESOLVED, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy and condole with his grief stricken widow and family in this sad hour of their bereavement and would like them to the comforting thought of a well regulated and noble life, in which was exemplified noble manhood, strict and unbroken integrity of character, true and loyal citizenship. A life worthy of emulation, and that the world was made better by his having lived in it, and while we mourn his loss, we would not call him back, for we realize in this dispensation of Divine providence our loss is his gain.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be given his widow.

ANDREW EMERSON, FRANK MILLER, WM. NOONAN, WM. CONNORS, BERRY PORTER.

First Presbyterian church, Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, president, H. R. Carson; secretary, Florence Rigdon. Prayer meeting 6:45 p. m., Sunday, Bell's hall.
