FIVE YEARS AT HARD LABOR

Was the Sentence Imposed Upon Charles D. Patterson for Horse Stealing.

THREE DIVORCES GRANTED

And a Number of Decrees Entered in Equity Cases at a Special Term of District Court Held Wednesday. Judge Westover Gives Little Encouragement to Horse Thieves.

Judge Westover arrived in the city from Rushville Tuesday evening and convened a special term of court Wednesday. In less than an hour one criminal, three divorce and several equity cases were disposed of.

Charles D. Patterson was arraigned and pleaded guilty to stealing Zbinden and McFall's horses in this city a few weeks ago and afterward stealing a horse at Newcastle, Mo. Patterson also admitted that he had been under arrest in Kansas charged with burglarizing a bank but claimed that he proved himself innocent. The court was evidently of the opinion that Patterson had a record and after giving the young man some fatherly advice pronounced a sentence of five years at hard labor, Sunday excepted, in the penitentiary. After the sheriff had taken Patterson back to the jail he waxed warm, saying that an eighteen months' sentence would have been sufficient for stealing a couple of old horses and that the judge "didn't weigh half as much as he thought he did." Patterson is twenty-eight years of age and is able-bodied.

Katie Barkwell, Martha McReynolds and John Grim were released from the ties of matrimony and after entering decrees in the equity cases court was adjourned sine die.

A Fine New Church.

The new church edifice of the First Presbyterian congregation on Box Butte avenue will soon be under cover. The work is progressing rapidly and under the supervision of Contractor Dustman will be completed in first-class workmanlike manner. The building will be one of the finest houses of worship in the vicinity and no pains will be spared by the contractor in seeing that every part of the work is properly completed.

Mr. Dustman has been a very busy man this season. Besides other buildings he has erected this summer, he put up a fine two-story residence in the southeast part of town for Mrs. M. J. Richardson. With the assistance of competent workmen he succeeded in completing the building in two weeks' time, with the exception of the finishing after the plastering. This surely is going some and a great credit to Mr. Dustman and the other workmen engaged.

T. Rubottom was in town Tuesday and informs us that an estray black mare, about six or seven years old, no brands, came to his place, fourteen miles northwest, about October 1. Mr. Rubottom does not desire to take the animal up as an estray but would like to have the owner come and get her.

A couple of officers of the Tenth cavalry were here Sunday looking for deserters who made their get away between Alliance and Sidney. The officers got track of their game when they arrived here on 41 but too late to capture them for they had taken a freight east two hours before.

John Adams, who has been employed in THE HERALD office for the past two months, left Monday night for his home at Carroll, Iowa. The young man possesses extraordinary ability as a cartoonist and sketcher and we look for him to distinguish himself along these lines some day.

C. W. Brennan returned yesterday from a trip through the county. If Charley receives the support in the country that the fusion candidate for treasurer did two years ago—and there is every indication that he will—there is no doubt that he will be the next treasurer of Box Butte county.

Some time ago an item appeared in the newspapers of Nebraska to the effect that a settlement of Danes was to be established in the western part of this state, but a letter received from George D. Delightful Party.

Mesdames Norton and Hillier gave a delightful "At Home" party at the beautiful home of Mrs. Norton Thursday afternoon.

The house was tastefully decorated with carnations, ferns and smilax. At five o'clock a sumptuous dinner was given, the menu consisting of seven courses and was served by Misses Lulu Duncan, Fay and Bess VanBoskirk, Florence Rumer, Nellie Hillier and Leah Kraemer. While dinner was being served the guests enjoyed a guessing contest, the royal prize being awarded to Miss Pease and the second prize to Mrs. Highland. Mrs. F. J. Kraemer and Mrs. W. G. Simonson assisted in receiving and Miss Mae McDermott presided at the piano.

The following ladies were invited, most of whom were present:

- Mesdames, W. A. Hampton, Simonson, Fagley, Kraemer, Highland, Holloway, Frankle, T. Allen, Taylor, McDonald, Clark, E. D. Mollring, F. C. Mollring, Dewey, Buechsenstein, Noleman, Mallery, Andrews, Connett, Regan, Smith, Koons, Thorp, Spencer, Elmore, Bartz, Fletcher, Reed, McCracken, Regan, Newberry, Irish, Davidson, Gilman, Green, Cadwalader, Butler, Phelps, Triplett, Miller, Stoner, Hemingway, Bellwood, Lester, Jackson, Schawer, Stewart, Coutant, Hall, Rood, Broome, Mort Johnson, Young, Rumer, Dorrington, Quivey, Baldrige, Raymond, Kridelbaugh, Misses Pease, Souls, Green.

A band of wandering Gypsies were encamped west of the city Sunday and Monday. The women were dressed in colors that would arouse the envy of a Crow squaw. Begging and fortune telling occupied their time, while the masculine part of the wandering outfit enjoyed themselves beside the camp-fire smoking cigarettes. Even the shaggy-haired hounds seemed to possess the lazy natures of their masters as they lie curled up by the fires. Marshal Shay rounded up several of the Gypsies who attempted to become too familiar with other people's property and he kept close watch over the whole outfit until they left for other parts.

Trust Hits Stockmen Hard.

Lowers Price of Live Meat and Raises Charge for Finished Product.

The following we take from the Chicago Record-Herald of Oct. 14 inst:

Omaha, Oct. 13.—Market statistics taken on October 10 show that within a year the packing houses have raised the price of pork 15 per cent. The trust is paying 40 per cent less for pork than it did a year ago and getting sufficiently better prices to make 50 per cent larger profits. The same is practically true of beef, the increase in profits being 35 per cent. During the week ended Saturday live pork dropped $1 a hundred and the same day there was a raise of 1/2 cent a pound on the dressed product. It is now costing Omaha families alone $180,000 more for meat than it did last year, before the trust got under way, and Nebraska stockmen, according to the estimate of careful statisticians, have lost $74,000,000 this year through the manipulations of the trust.

Is it not an opportune time for live stock growers to build and operate their own packing plants and thus prevent this daylight robbery?

While the east is devastated by storms and heavy rains that have left countless numbers destitute, the west and particularly Nebraska is basking in the sunshine of a glorious autumn, with cattle on every hillside and enough spuds to feed the world.
