The threatened war between Russia and Turkey over the Manchurian situation still hangs fire—in the daily newspaper.

Among the candidates to be elected this fall is that of county judge and it will be well for the voters to place the most competent man in this important office. The readers of THE HERALD doubtless know the excellent record made by the fusion candidate, D. K. Spacht, who has served one term. His knowledge of law, his just decisions, and unquestioned integrity has made Judge Spacht a universal favorite with the people and we predict his re-election by a large majority.

Evidently there was "something doing" among some of the republicans of Alliance Wednesday and if a certain republican newspaper does not rally to the support of a certain candidate on the republican county ticket in the next few days there is liable to be "more doing."

The state bankers in session at Lincoln this week are seriously discussing the money question and all agree that the volume of money is not sufficient for the business world. But so far no remedy has been found. If the bankers in attendance at the convention would only call on Mr. Bryan he would point a way out of the difficulty.

The half-weekly evidently has it in for Ira Reed and would have its readers believe that Mr. Reed should not be elected for the second time because republicans helped to elect him the first time. Ira Reed needs no defense at our hands. The people of Box Butte county know Ira Reed. They know that the county has never had a better sheriff. His official record will always be a credit to Box Butte county. The people know that he is a conscientious man whose public and private record is above reproach and he has the respect of his fellow citizens regardless of politics. Of course we don't pretend to say that his record will compare with that of his accuser but Mr. Reed's friends are willing to let the public judge.

Elect the Best Man.

Judge Harrington, the fusion, candidate for judge in this district is a man THE HERALD takes particular pride in recommending to the voters of the Fifteenth Judicial district irrespective of party lines. In matters pertaining to this office every citizen desires that the interests of everyone be protected and the laws of the statute books should be enforced to the letter. We care not be the candidate fusion or otherwise if he possess the manhood to do his duty in this respect, he's the man we all want and should elect. We consider law and order and a good judge paramount to party victory every day in the week.

Judge James J. Harrington, the man we speak of, has been tried and not found wanting. His past record on the bench speaks for itself. It stands the closest scrutiny and reveals a history of impartial justice that has given to all their rights.

A Letter of Vindication.

The O'Neill Frontier, a republican paper published by Postmaster Cronin and edited by one R. R. Dickson, a bitter personal enemy of Judge Harrington, last week made a villainous and malicious assault upon the judge, in which it was sought by bare faced lies, misrepresentation and abuse to injure him. But the designing intention of these accusers was soon throttled and the lie thrust down the calumniators' throats. The charge made by the Frontier was to the effect that Judge Harrington had defrauded one Edward Tighe in a real estate transaction and in a manner that casts reflection upon his good character. Against this accusation Mr. Tighe makes a reply that clears away all doubt as to Judge Harrington's honor in this transaction. We publish Mr. Tighe's letter in full and rely upon the good judgment of THE HERALD readers to decide as to who dealt fairly in the matter in question. It reads as follows:

To the People of the Fifteenth Judicial District:
I have read in the O'Neill Frontier, an article charging in substance that Judge Harrington defrauded me in the sale of the ranch which he sold to me. I being the man who purchased it and paid the money ought to know best whether I was treated honestly or not; I desire to say to the people that Judge Harrington treated me honorably and upright in every particular and in closing the transaction did even more than he had ever agreed to do. I never dealt with a fairer or more upright man, the land referred to in the Frontier is simply range land and in my judgment it was the hay land and not the range land which gave the real value to the ranch, and there were over 2,000 very choice acres of hay land in a body, and now after owning the ranch for more than a year I am still of the opinion that I got a good bargain in the ranch, and I would not today sell the ranch for less than $10,000 more than I bought it for. I make this statement in justice to Judge Harrington and for the benefit of those who may not know him. In Holt county where he is known, and where R. R. Dickson, who wrote the article in the Frontier is known, no such statement is necessary; while I have never done business with a man who treated me better than Judge Harrington has done, I can say with equal candor that from the day I was born I never knew a man who had a worse reputation than R. R. Dickson. Dated Oct. 3, 1903. EDWARD TIGHE.

Prosperity among railroad men will not be at its best before many days if the reports sent out recently materialize. It is said that several of the leading railway systems will reduce the number of employees by large numbers.
