The Cheese and Cracker club was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Hillier.

Mrs. Mat Brennan was called to Tecumseh Sunday to see her brother, who is seriously ill.

The Northwest Nebraska Teachers' association will be held at Crawford November 27-28.

The residence of Joseph Yanders, in the northeast part of the city, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night.

Frank E. Olds, who is now engaged in the drug business at Chadron, is a new subscriber to the official paper.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church will have a Christmas sale and supper Friday evening, Dec. 18.

E. E. Ford of Lawn precinct came in from South Omaha Sunday morning, having marketed two cars of cattle.

The Ladies' Catholic society will meet the first Wednesday after Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. C. D. Hancock.

Miss Susie Hopkins, one of the efficient teachers in the Hemingford high school, visited friends in this city Saturday.

Tuesday was B. & M. pay day and it is said that more money was paid out to employees than on any previous month.

Attorney E. H. Boyd, who recently located in Alliance and has offices in the opera block, has a professional card in this issue.

Conductor Odie Schofield has resigned from the service and contemplates moving to California. His residence is offered for sale.

W. B. Tagg went to Spearfish, S. D., today to look after the interests of the McCloud-Love company. He will return Monday.

Col. F. O. Wisner, the veteran editor of the Bayard Transcript, was in the city Saturday night and left on the morning train for Sidney.

Dr. Lee Edwards has resigned the position of book-keeper for H. C. Armstrong and is succeeded by Frank Darrab, who comes from Denver.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held in the Baptist church Thanksgiving day at 11 o'clock. Rev. Jeffers will preach the annual sermon.

J. C. Birdsell, assistant superintendent of the B. & M. at Deadwood, came in from Chicago Wednesday and spent a day with friends in this city.

The Lotspeich brothers were up from their ranch near Bingham, Wednesday. They are now running about 2000 head of cattle and have a valuable ranch.

A special meeting of the Redfern Gold Mining & Milling company will be held at Deadwood on January 11. A number of Alliance citizens are stockholders in this company.

The Anona club has issued invitations for its dancing party on Thanksgiving eve. Spacht's full orchestra of ten pieces has been engaged, which insures excellent music for the occasion.

Messrs. W. L. Miner and C. O. Aspenwall, accompanied by their families, have arrived in the city and will make their homes here. These are the gentlemen who will manage the affairs of the International Harvester company at this place.

Clark Snedeker, an old time resident of this county, met with a serious accident in Colorado recently. While leading a horse the animal became unmanageable, throwing him down and stepping on him, breaking three ribs and otherwise bruising Mr. Snedeker badly.

F. S. Lamberson stopped in town Thursday morning on his return from Whitman. Mr. Lamberson is residing at Gordon again. He says that times are prosperous there this fall, made so partly by the large potato crop, about 130 cars being shipped from that point.

J. B. Miller has accepted a position with the Bankers' Life and henceforth will devote most of his time soliciting business for this well known insurance company. Jack possesses the requisites necessary for a successful insurance man. Mr. Miller will retain his interest in the postoffice news stand and has employed William Carey as clerk.

TOM HORN PAYS THE PENALTY.

The Law Takes Its Course and the Scaffold Ends His Life.

After every legal effort had been exhausted in an effort to save the life of Tom Horn, the accused murderer of the boy Willie Nickel, the death penalty was carried into execution this morning. A dispatch to THE HERALD from Cheyenne, at 1 o'clock this afternoon states that Tom Horn was hanged at 11 o'clock this (Friday) forenoon.

Reports were rife yesterday to the effect that the friends of Horn would attempt his rescue by violence before the hour for hanging arrived. Every precaution was taken to carry out the law, and from the brief report received at this office, no trouble was encountered.

NOVEMBER NUPTIALS.

Cupid's Darts Reach the Hearts of Several Victims.

John Caha and Miss Josie Pinnansky were united in marriage at the Charters hotel Tuesday afternoon. Both are well known young people of the western part of the county and have many friends who wish them well. They were accompanied to Alliance by Miss Caha and J. A. Herrick of Hemingford.

Carmel Chaney of Sioux county and Miss Clark of Dawes county were married at Hemingford last evening. Carmel is a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Chaney, who lived near Hemingford for many years.

The Crawford Tribune states that W. C. Caven and Mrs. Millie Haguewood were married at Rapid City, S. D., on Sunday, November 8. Mr. Cavin is the well known traveling agent for the McCormick company and his bride has resided at Crawford for several years.

THE HERALD desires to be numbered with the host of friends of the newly wedded couples in wishing them God's blessings and happiness through life.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST.

The people of Alliance will be treated to a declamatory contest between scholars of the city high school at the opera house next Saturday night, at 8 o'clock sharp. Of the fourteen contestants to participate, nine will be in the dramatic and five in the humorous classes. The judges to make the decision will be selected from out of town and merit will win in the contest. The winners in each class will go to Crawford Nov. 27, to enter a contest composed of representatives from six other schools of this district. The price of admission to Saturday night's contest will be 25 cents. As the citizens of Alliance take a deep interest in educational affairs, a large audience will no doubt be present on this occasion.

The boys have been having a great time the past few days feasting on the fat of the land. Abley & Wilson, the new proprietors of the Midway saloon, had a great spread last Saturday night, when roast pig figured prominently on the bill-of-fare. Other good things were served, and how the hungry appetites of Alliance did appease that long fast want created in anticipation of this royal feast. Tuesday night another treat was in store, when roast ox attracted a crowd at Coffee & Dowd's place. Other articles of diet, prepared in the best art of the caterer, made the boys feel that time had slipped a cog and Thanksgiving arrived a week sooner than scheduled.

Misses Agnes Morris, Anna Wills and Clara Harding entertained the Anona club last evening at the home of Miss Harding. The boys were invited for the first time and to the surprise of other members of the club. Flinch was played, refreshments served and dancing indulged in. Those present were George Darling, Ed Reardon, Bert Hauck, Albert Martinez, Gene Parks, Mr. McLennon, Frank Burris, Paul Harding, Hal and Herbert Pardee, John Wiker, Harry Thiele and Ray Lawler.

The novel entertainment known as the Advertisement sociable, given by the First Division of the Ladies' Union of the First Presbyterian church Friday proved an interesting and pleasant affair. Miss Anna Reck and Master Charles Tash proved their ability in successfully guessing every advertising proposition. The ladies who conducted the sociable, feel grateful for the assistance they received on this occasion.

The first cold wave of the season swept over the country Sunday, Monday and Tuesday and not only Nebraska but almost the entire country was affected by Jack Frost's unrelenting rampage. Monday night the mercury dropped to 5 degrees below zero. But Alliance citizens had no complaint to make when it was learned that up around Sheridan the thermometer registered 15 below.

"At Valley Forge" was played at Phelan's opera house Tuesday night. The weather being very cold only a fair sized audience was present. The cast is a good one and meets with popular favor with an audience.

E. T. Ienthon of Alliance was registered at the Victoria hotel, Chicago, last Saturday.

"Uncle Zeke" Mabin and B. E. Johnson returned Saturday from South Omaha, where they marketed cattle.

Mrs. Mike Elmore arrived from Missouri today and will remain with her daughter, Mrs. Reed, during her illness.

Henry Hier was up from Lakeside Wednesday. He ordered THE HERALD sent a year to his uncle, H. G. Hier, Bishop Hill, Ill.

Morning subject at the Methodist church next Sunday, "Burdens and Burden Bearers." Evening, "Difficulties in the Way of Becoming a Christian."

W. W. Norton has something to say in his advertisement on another page about Thanksgiving that will make every reader in Alliance and vicinity happy.

J. B. Koest of THE HERALD was made happy yesterday by the arrival of his family from Carroll, Iowa. They will reside in the Pearson residence opposite the school house.

Don't fail to read Lockwood & Co.'s new advertisement in this issue. This firm can supply you with anything you want from kitchen to parlor and at the right prices.

Editor E. E. Humphrey of Hay Springs was in town a while Monday forenoon on his return from Grand Island, where he visited his son, who is attending college. Bro. Humphrey made THE HERALD a fraternal call.

John Moravek, one of our stockmen friends from Liberty precinct, was in the city Wednesday. Mr. Moravek had cattle on the South Omaha market Wednesday. His steers sold for $3.70, which was as much or more than he expected.

The "New Dominion" will not be presented this month as a cast could not be secured. However, Mr. Martin contemplates putting on a costume production about Christmas and if this is done Alliance play-lovers will be given a rare treat.

George Grove visited his brother, Art, and old-time friends in Alliance Saturday. He resided in the county for several years during its early settlement and was much impressed with the progress made by Alliance. Mr. Grove is now traveling for a wholesale music house.

An incident blaze yesterday morning set the fire whistle going like a screech owl and brought out the department together with a crowd of half-dressed, shivering citizens to Joe Thornton's grocery store, where a defective flue was the cause of the trouble. However, no serious damage resulted and Joe's grocery store is as good as ever.

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room" was an attraction at the opera house last Friday night that drew a large audience, but pleased very few that attended. One of the observing young boys of the city noticed the bright bills announcing the show and on arriving home he told his mother of the "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" and insisted on being allowed to attend one night.

THE HERALD job department turned out a twenty-page brief this week for Attorney Wm. Mitchell in the case of Geo. C. Bell vs. Frank Wiltson involving some real estate matters. Mr. Mitchell has lost but one case in the supreme court this year. His reputation for having his cases carefully prepared is not only known to the district bench but to the supreme court as well.

Henry Wintzen, J. Kennedy, John Caha, Charles Moravek, L. Snow, Thomas Butler, Thomas Katen, Schill Bros., J. Sulzenberger, E. A. McFall, J. Connelly, T. J. O'Keefe and B. F. Gilman were among those who sold cattle at South Omaha this week. Cows brought $2 to $2.50 and feeders $3 to $3.75. The market was strongest Wednesday of any day during the week.

The Royal Highlanders met in secret session at the last regular with a fair attendance. After opening in regular form and attending to regular business the castle was informed that two refugees were in waiting to cross the drawbridge and become fair lady Highlanders. After castle closed the members enjoyed themselves playing high five. There was good playing at all tables but after the games were over Fair Lady Burris and Clansman Owens were declared winners.

Several new fonts of scripts have been added to THE HERALD job department for use in fine stationery and card printing. They are the latest designs in penmanship, being graceful and artistic, and just the thing for wedding stationery, invitations, calling cards, etc. We invite an inspection of the work produced by the new type, and desire to call the attention of our readers to a fine line of stationery just received. The rich quality of the goods and the new styles will be highly appreciated.
