A driver for a Red Cloud livery barn was set upon and badly beaten in the northern part of Smith county a few days ago while returning from a funeral. His team ran away, throwing him out of the buggy, and he lay in the road all night. He was found by a searching party the next day, almost dead.

A State Song for Nebraska.

At the convocation hour at the state university at Lincoln Tuesday morning there was rendered for the first time in public the new state song, "Nebraska." This song was written by Will M. Maupin and the music composed by Will O'Shea. It is as follows:

"NEBRASKA."
Nebraska! We stand while we sing to thee!
Thy star on the flag we cheer,
No star on the blue shines brighter than thou,
None other to heart so dear.
Whatever be the hearts swell with pride
At mention of your great name,
And joyfully sing as the echoes ring
Of our Nebraska's fame.

Refrain—
We're singing thy praise through the sunlit day,
Undimmed shall thy glory stand,
Nebraska! Nebraska! The queen of the west!
Our own Nebraska land.

We hail with acclaim thy glorious name;
We love ev'ry inch of thy sod,
The sheen of thy bright goldenrod,
We sing in our pride of your rivers wide,
Thy soundless resources proclaim,
And cheer when we hear the echoes clear
Of our Nebraska's fame.

The storehouse of earth in thy bounds we build,
And point all the world to thee,
The nations we've filled from thy fields well
tilled,
And ranges so broad and free,
From valley and plain pours the golden grain
In fulness that men acclaim;
And loudly we sing till the echoes ring
Of our Nebraska's fame.

ANOTHER INSTANCE

Which shows the value of THE HERALD as an Advertising Medium.

An Alliance merchant—one who is up-to-date, carries an immense stock of goods, does an enormous business, and spends a large amount each month in printer's ink says:

"MORE OF MY PATRONS SAY THEY READ MY ADVERTISEMENT IN THE ALLIANCE HERALD THAN IN BOTH THE OTHER ALLIANCE PAPERS COMBINED."

While we are pleased to know that this merchant is getting value received for his money yet we were not surprised when he made the above statement this week. It is reasonable to suppose that a paper having nearly twice the circulation of another paper is read by more people.

THE HERALD'S circulation in Alliance is much larger than any other paper and its circulation in the county outside of Alliance is ten times as much as any other paper. THE HERALD'S subscription books are open for inspection to anyone interested.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

L. Sumpy of Nonpareil was in the city last week, having brought down several hundred pounds of bromos grass seed for parties in this vicinity. A. S. Reed took 200 pounds. Mr. Sumpy realized between $200 and $300 from seed off of eight acres this season. He sowed eight acres to bromos grass six years ago and it has thrived every year. Last spring he seeded forty acres and intends to sow twenty acres each year until he has a quarter section seeded down. He considers bromos grass preferable to timothy and as dry weather does not injure it there is no question but what it is a splendid forage for this country. Those who sow bromos will enhance the value of their land.

THE HERALD is in receipt of a copy of "Cowboy Life on the Sidetrack," a humorous and sarcastic story of the trials and tribulations endured by a party of stockmen making a shipment of cattle and sheep from Utah to the South Omaha market. The author is Frank Benton of Cheyenne, and the book is full of life and wit from start to finish and at the same time gives an interesting account of western life and the livestock industry. We are indebted to George Benton of Lakeside for a copy of the new publication.

The fifteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burright, who reside in East Alliance, died last Sunday forenoon after a lingering illness with pneumonia. The little one was interred in Greenwood cemetery Wednesday morning, Rev. G. C. Jeffers of the Baptist church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Burright of Wichita, Kans., were present at the funeral of their grandson.

My Xmas goods are here and I will sell you pictures and picture frames from 25 to 50 per cent less than ever before offered in Alliance. Humphrey, the undertaker. 49

A new time-card, to take effect next Sunday, makes a few changes. The Guernsey stock train is discontinued and a few minor alterations occur on the Black Hills lines, while No. 42 is allowed 10 minutes longer in the run to Revenna, leaving Alliance at the usual hour.

"The Abode of Departed Souls Before the Judgment," a lecture by Rev. C. W. Ray of the M. E. church, has attracted much comment and proved intensely interesting. Mr. Ray has delivered this well-studied lecture at several places and by request went to Bayard Monday for the same purpose.

A meeting of the Kensington ladies of the Degree of Honor was held at the home of Mrs. F. D. Reynolds last Friday afternoon. After the preliminary affairs of the society had been concluded, a supper was served by Mrs. Reynolds, assisted by Mrs. A. T. Lunn, which was an elaborate affair. The husbands of the members were invited to the feast and of course enjoyed it to such an extent that a reporter of THE HERALD found little trouble in "pumping" them for information of this social event.

James Dougherty was up from the ranch Wednesday. The prairie last Friday came close to his range before it was extinguished. The fire burned over fifteen miles and mostly all was winter range. Willis Beck lost 300 tons of hay, Mr. Peterson—200 tons and M. C. Hubbell about 150 tons.

Charles Bruckner, the merchant tailor, has a holiday proposition in the way of clothing in this issue of THE HERALD that is of interest to every man and boy in Alliance.

The Alliance Art Studio is making a special holiday offer and will make it an object for patrons to secure photographs during the season. Read the offer published in this issue of THE HERALD.

A most disastrous fire occurred at Omaha Thanksgiving day, the warehouses of Allen Bros., wholesale grocers, being entirely destroyed. Four firemen were buried beneath tons of burning debris and the property loss is estimated at $500,000.

Evangelist Graham of Denver, who has been conducting successful services at the Baptist church the past three weeks, returned to his home last Monday. It is such work as Mr. Graham does that spreads the cause of religion and makes humanity better christians.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cavin and daughter spent Thanksgiving in this city.

The report of the condition of the First National bank of Alliance appears in today's issue of THE HERALD. A careful perusal of the same is sufficient to recommend that institution to all conservative business men.

The declamatory contest in the opera house last Saturday evening was well attended and proved of much interest. In the dramatic contest, Miss Irene Elliott was awarded first place, while honors for second were divided between Irene Roupe and Ada Simpson. In the humorous, Byron Uford was judge and Earl Mallory second. The judges were H. H. Funk of Hemmingford, R. C. Noleman and W. G. Simonson, with A. F. Baldrige as referee.

THANKSGIVING IN ALLIANCE.

A Pleasant Day with Many Family Gatherings.

Thanksgiving in Alliance was one ever to be remembered in every household where the fruits of the field and the fat of the land supplied ample for the inner man. The day was unusually fine, not a cloud floated through the sky and Old Sol with his rays of warmth made the day seem more like mid-summer than the threshold of winter. Outdoor pleasures and promenades filled the thoroughfares with people even till late in the evening when the sun disappeared and the chilly breath of night changed the atmosphere, so that overcoats and light furs were comfortable.

O, but didn't Henry Armstrong look swell yesterday?

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Stoner spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Stoner's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Smith, at University Place.

Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Reeves entertained a party of friends and relatives at their pleasant home yesterday. A bountiful repast was served and the day closed with every anticipation of a joyous Thanksgiving fully realized.

Through the kindness of the "boss" THE HERALD employees feasted on turkey Thanksgiving and a long-felt want was thereby abundantly supplied. Of course this recognition of the proprietor's kindness is stealthily inserted without his knowledge.

W. W. Norton and his employees spent Thanksgiving together at the Norton home, enjoying the day in social pastimes and of course including a royal dinner, where the delicious turkey graced the well-loaded table as a center piece. It was indeed a happy event not soon to be forgotten.

A Thanksgiving feast came in ahead of the official date at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Simonson last Monday evening when the committee having charge of the year book of the P. O. E. society chapter A. H. met and in place of other matters enjoyed a feast that was indeed worthy the name, Thanksgiving banquet. The bill-of-fare included everything that one could wish for and the event will long be remembered as an unusual pleasantry.
