THE ENGINEERS' ENTERTAINMENT

Arrangements Progressing Finely for the Social Doings.

Every indication now points to a grand time next Wednesday night, when the entertainment and ball to be given by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers takes place. That the "boys" will have a large number of guests to look after is apparent at this time, but they're equal to the occasion, and there is no danger of slipping an eccentric before the event is over. The decorating committee has its work thoroughly outlined and will produce some beautiful effects. In fact all the committees are progressing equally as well.

The entertainment to take place at the Phelan opera house will consist of a musical program by Quick's orchestra of Lincoln and the presentation of a series of moving pictures giving thrilling views of railroad traffic, train robbery, etc. There will also be other scenes that will prove interesting. Rube and Mandy at Coney Island, Neptune's Wife, the Still Alarm, Magic Lantern.

Father Galvin has kindly consented to address the audience prior to the entertainment and his theme will, doubtless, be a source of mental value to his hearers. At the Zbinden-Miller hall, where the ball will take place, the program will be preceded by a cake walk participated in by two little girls—Alice Morris and Ruth Hagar.

Will Practice Medicine.

The many friends of Dr. L. W. Edwards will be pleased to learn that he has decided to take up the practice of medicine in this city, having secured comfortable office quarters over the postoffice in the rooms formerly occupied by W. G. Simonson and Judge Berry. Dr. Edwards has had years' experience in the practice of medicine. For two years he had charge of the medical department of the Nebraska state penitentiary and ten years' practice at Lincoln in his chosen profession gave him an excellent reputation. The genial doctor will make it a point to attend to all calls promptly and during office hours, unless attending to calls, he will be found prepared to wait upon those who call.

Seed Corn from the Sand Hills.

Box Butte farmers don't do any blowing, but they deliver the goods every time. For instance, F. McCoy, who lives seven miles southwest of town, has from his own raising a fine quantity of sweet corn. An extensive seed house at Independence, Iowa, in its efforts to secure the best seed corn, learned of Mr. McCoy's yield and secured 50 bushels from him at $2.50 per bushel at Alliance, the firm paying the freight. The corn was shipped last Tuesday.

Mr. Earnest Lembke.
