RUMER

INVITES YOU

To inspect the largest line of merchandise to be shown in Alliance this season.

Regardless of the fact that money is scarce and merchants are buying very light, we have purchased the largest line of Dry Goods, Clothing and Shoes it has ever been our pleasure to show in Alliance. We have remodeled making it the largest, and the interior the finest in all western Nebraska. We invite you to call and guarantee to show you the largest line of merchandise to be shown in Alliance this season. Watch for prices in next week's issue of this paper.

W. D. RUMER, ALLIANCE, NEB.

OUR Sack Suits, designed according to advanced fashion's predictions for Fall and Winter, are here. The accompanying drawing is a faithful illustration of three styles of particular cut and elegance made by Crouse & Brandegee. Notice the length of coat—the distinctive cut of the three-button Newport—also in our Normandle the same regard to detail of style and finish. We

Keep in mind the fact that a tall man cannot wear a suit that a short man should wear. This is the satisfactory feature on both the Newport and Normandle. They are absolutely correct in every and all requirements. But the man who is not over six feet tall is not overlooked; the same careful attention has been given him. The result is our Arvon, which also has much elegance of make and gives the short-man extra inches in appearance. We have these styles in the NEW BROWNS—in beautiful and choice materials, those new patterns of slight over-plaids almost indistinct. These cost what you would expect, $10.00 to $35.00.

Hon. E. J. Burkett opened the republican campaign in Box Butte county at the opera house last Saturday night. Congressman Burkett has appeared in Alliance before and hence was not an entire stranger on this occasion. He was somewhat disappointed at the small attendance and expressed himself with the statement that if he knew there would not be a larger crowd than that present he would have cancelled his date in this city. However, those present enjoyed the speech and while the distinguished politician may not have increased the vote of the party he afforded a good deal of pleasure for those who came out to hear him.

It is said that the grave of Tom Horn, at Boulder, Colo., is being despoiled by people breaking pieces off the tombstone, taking away rocks and even handfuls of dirt as souvenirs.

Nearly all the ailments of the human race in these days are caused by the Blood. Stomach and Kidneys being out of order. There is not a case on record that Co-Lan-Co hasn't cured. Ask your druggist.

The special sale at the Horace Bogue store tomorrow will be on heavy cotton suitings and the low prices on the goods will be an inducement for all to take advantage of the extraordinary bargains.

Thos. Powers of Vaughn, Wyo., is in the city today and spoke encouragingly of the government work in the Platte Valley, where Uncle Sam has bought the Whalen canal and will extend the big ditch so that practically all of the land adjoining the river will be irrigated. Mr. Powers has been connected with irrigation work for many years and in authority on the subject. He has a sub-contract under the government.

Episcopal church services Oct. 2: 10 a. m., Sunday school; 11 a. m. service and sermon; 8 p. m. At the evening sermon Archdeacon Cope will preach a special sermon on woman's part and responsibility in the regeneration of social life. All are cordially invited to the services.

The Dillon brothers who reside 10 miles north of this city, came onto and killed a genuine porcupine last Saturday. This the first animal of this specie that has been seen in this part of the country and the rarity of the little stranger has caused many to speculate from whence it came.

A street fight between a colored gentleman and a white man who had been imbibing too freely of the O, he joyful, was the cause of a crowd gathering on lower Box Butte avenue Wednesday forenoon. The son of Ham had the best of the fracas and it was not till the police swooped down on the pair that the white man tried to make his escape, but too late for he was soon in the city cooler.

Jules Zbinden has decided to take a little recreation and vacation from business and will leave Saturday night for Lincoln, where he will be joined by his brothers and the party will go to Omaha to visit the Ak-Sar-Ben for a few days when they will continue their pleasure trip to St. Louis at the fair and also at other points. They expect to be gone about three weeks.

The fall hunting season is on, and among the nimrods to take advantage of the sport were Editor Ellis of the Times and W. O. Barnes who hid themselves to Bridgeport last Sunday for a day's hunt. As a rule, we are proud to report the success of Alliance hunters, who are known to be among the best shots in the west, but in this instance we would not dare to state how many birds are in cold storage as a result of this expedition against the feathered tribe.

The drawing for the free trip to the World's Fair took place today at W. W. Norton's store and the person holding the lucky number, 8536, will be entitled to the same providing it is brought in to Norton's within ten days, otherwise the next number drawn, 3511, will be given the prize. Considerable interest was manifested in this affair and the lucky winner will no doubt be considered the possessor of a rabbit's foot of more than usual magnetism.

J. A. O. Thomas returned from Alliance Saturday, where he accompanied his mother who will make her home with another son for the present. While in Alliance, Mr. Thomas was so well pleased with the country that he purchased a quarter section near that city. Although situated in that part of Nebraska which has always been considered by many as an undesirable section of the state for farming purposes, Alliance has continued to grow until it now contains a population of 4000. For the past three years good crops have been raised, and to convince his friends that he was wise in the investment he made, Mr. Thomas brought back with him samples of corn grown in ninety days, wheat with well filled and plump heads of grain, broom corn, millet and potatoes that compare favorably with any grown in Nance county.—Genoa Times.

Miss Inice McCorkle entertained the lady teachers of the city schools at a reception given at her home last Tuesday evening. Miss McCorkle, who is a charming young hostess was assisted in entertaining by Miss Gertrude Warren. Elegant refreshments were served at 10 o'clock, the dining room being beautifully decorated in crimson, broad ribbons running from the center to the corners of the table, which was lighted with candelabra the dainty shades being of the prevailing color. The evening was spent socially interspersed with selections of music. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of this lovely home were: Misses Frazier, Warren, Duffield, Alexander, Huff, Horton, Elwood, Griffith, Van Buskirk, Reed, Carrin, Wodum, Thomas, Laravae and Supt. Rustin.

A Milliners Opening. Pattern and Dress Hats. Street and Tailored Hats. Largest and most elegant line ever brought to Alliance now on display at REGAN'S.

A DYNAMITE DISASTER

Mike Elmore's Contract Locality in Maryland the Scene of a Serious Accident.

The following associated press dispatch from Cumberland, Md., dated Sept. 23, tells of the explosion of 750 pounds of dynamite and the killing and injuring of several people. The accident is of especial interest to the people of Alliance because of the fact that Mr. Elmore was involved in the affair, which resulted as follows:

"The village of North Branch, four miles east of Cumberland, was wrecked by dynamite this afternoon, the explosion having been caused by a Baltimore & Ohio eastbound fast freight running into a wagon loaded with dynamite at a crossing. C. Walter Whitehair, a brakeman of Brunswick, and Nelson Pike, engine driver, of Martinsburg, were killed. A. R. Sanders, fireman, North Mountain; Charles Hamilton, of Little Orleans, Md.; James A. Ashkettle, of Little Orleans; Mary Twigg, of Old Town; Raymond, the 3 year old son of Charles Hamilton; Maude Seibert James Laing, driver of the dynamite wagon, were the most severely injured. The Baltimore & Ohio tower was wrecked, as were the residences of Adam Seibert, Charles Hamilton, Dharles Bloss, J. Lewis Seibert, Stephen A. Bloss and John Coleman, and the commissary of Michael Elmore, a Washash sub-contractor, all of office, stable and hospital buildings. Windows of the school houses and of the residence of G. A. Rimmerly and others on the mountain, half a mile away, were broken out and school children were thrown into a panic. The dynamite was being hauled for Mr. Elmore, for construction work in progress nearby. There were 15 cases on the wagon aggregating 750 pounds. Laing was crossing the track with the load when he saw the train coming. He became panic stricken and stopped on the track, according to eye witnesses, and then deserted the team and ran. He escaped with ruptured ear drums. The train struck the rear of the wagon, which lacked only three feet of clearing the track, but the engine ran on 50 feet before the terrific explosion occurred. The horses were unhurt though over a fence. Grant Hamilton and James Ashkettle were in the tower with the former's brother and realized what was coming. They dropped down and the tower toppled in on them. They were covered with cuts from glass and splinters."

Your Last Chance.

Every desirable piece of land under the survey of the government irrigation canal will be taken inside of the next week. Everything desirable within eight miles of town is now taken. I received today numbers of three choice quarters subject to entry.

T. J. O'KEEFE. Uncle Zed Goodwin shipped two cars of steers and one car of cows to South Omaha Tuesday night and today received notice that the three loads were quarantined and the steers will be held till October 6, to be dipped again before they can be sold. These cattle were dipped here once before being shipped. After this stock is fed on stock yards hay for a week they will lose Uncle Zed a lot of money unless the market improves. There has been a heavy run this week and the market at present is rotten.

In speaking of the Rev. Ray-Watson nuptial, which took place recently in Lincoln, the Nebraska State Journal of the 15th inst. says:

"The marriage of Miss Clara Bell Watson to the Rev. Charles Wayne Ray occurred yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hanna, 2449 Y street, in East Lincoln. The house was beautifully decorated with white roses and carnations and amais. The wedding party entered the room, the bride dressed in white, carrying white roses, while Miss Lillian May Beach played the march. The impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. A. Scamhorn, a presiding elder of the northwest Nebraska conference. There were only a few guests present, among them being several members of the Wesleyan university faculty. The bride was a student in the elocution department of the Wesleyan last year and was popular at University Place. She has occupied prominent business positions, being a bank clerk at Valentine before coming to University Place. The groom is pastor of the Methodist church at Alliance and one of the trustees of the Wesleyan university. Those in attendance say it was one of the prettiest weddings they had ever attended. The happy pair started at 5 o'clock last night upon their wedding tour to Denver and other points of interest after which they will be at home to their friends in Alliance."

L. O. T. M.—Meets every first and third Friday at Eagle Hall. Visiting Masons cordially invited. Mrs. E. J. BEYBOLD, L. C. Mrs. ANSIE YOUNG, R. K.
