Notice.

Owing to the fact that the services of a United States Land Commissioner have been greatly in demand since the passage of the new homestead bill, I have decided to again attend to all kinds of business before the United States land office. Having had several years' experience in the work, all matters will receive proper and prompt attention. Homestead filings, final proofs, contests, etc., can be made before me at any place in the land districts in which the lands desired are located. I will also visit points between Broken Bow and Crawford upon request. Any violation of the land laws or irregularities of governmental acts will receive the proper attention when reported to me.

A Surprise.

The home of Mrs. G. W. Riddle was the scene of a surprise party given last Friday evening in honor of Miss Birdie Tiltonson, by a goodly number of friends belonging to the Queen Esther society and the Epworth League. Miss Tiltonson had informed her friends that she expected to depart for Mitchell for future residence, and on this account the gathering was planned to bid her farewell. The evening was one of much enjoyment, the time being spent in social games until a late hour when refreshments of fruit, etc., were served. Miss Tiltonson was one of the most efficient workers in both these societies and will be greatly missed by her young associates in church circles, but all bid her God-speed in her new field of labor.

Closing Out at Cost.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

General and Personal News of Alliance and Vicinity.

The infant child of Mrs. Ralls has been seriously ill during the past few days.

There will be no preaching services in the First Presbyterian church next Sunday. Sabbath school as usual.

Gregory Zuru is building a new auto house this week for Captain Corbin in which to stable his horseless carriage.

All who desire to take dancing lessons can meet with Miss Minnie Morris at the opera house tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. J. A. McDonald is in Kansas City this week as a delegate from this city to the National Woman's Foreign Missionary society.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kennedy has been quite sick for the past few days, but is regaining health and strength.

The office days of the County Superintendent will from now on be Friday and Saturday of each week, with county examinations the third Friday and Saturday of each month.

The weather during Monday was of most every sort that one could ask for or imagine—the day starting in clear and bright but before noon a blinding snow storm was swooping down upon us and ere the day closed it was again but cool.

Among those from the west part of the county who were in Alliance this week on land office business were Henry and Joe Winten, Henry Brus, Leo Brande, Frank and John Caha, Andrew Tschacher, James Kennedy, Louis Barta, John Moravek and John Cattan.

The city is without electric lights as a result of an accident the other day at the power house in which the machinery was disabled. It will be some time before the repairs are made and also new machinery installed. The company promises a greatly improved system when the new order of things are completed.

The first annual ball of Alliance castle No. 43, Royal Highlanders, took place at the Zbinden hall last Wednesday evening and while the number to participate was not as large as was anticipated, those present enjoyed a delightful time. Spacht's orchestra rendered delightful music and the program for the dances was well arranged. The castle have no reason to regret the manner in which they entertained their guests.

H. G. Hier of Henry county, Illinois, accompanied by his son August, grandson Herman, and neices the Misses Adie and Daisy Schumacker, have been enjoying a most pleasant visit with his son Henry Hier and daughter Mrs. Joe Bills. Mr. Hier though 83 years old is a well preserved man and bids fair to enjoy life for some years to come. His children are an honor and source of pleasure to him in his old age and their reunion out here in western Nebraska was a source of great pleasure to all.

Robert Graham left last Tuesday for a trip through the northern part of the district in the interest of his candidacy for the office of representative. Indications are very encouraging for Mr. Graham's success. The people know full well that he will do all in his power in the lower house to amend the overbearing tax laws that now exist and he is determined, if elected, to cast his vote not only for the welfare of the ranchmen of western Nebraska but all who are at present discriminated against by unfair legislation.

After an absence of about six months in Europe, Rev. Father Galvin returned home on No. 41 today and of course was greeted by many friends at the depot. There is few men who hold the esteem of an entire community as does Father Galvin and no one, not even a close relative, could receive a heartier welcome. While the permanent pastor was gone from Alliance, Rev. Father Barry has administered faithfully to the flock at Holy Rosary church and it is with regret that we saw him take his departure for Chadron today, where he will have permanent charge of the Catholic church.

Bogue is making a special sale on fine furs. Call and see them.

Miss Birdie Tiltonson, who has been connected with the Alliance telephone exchange since last February departed Monday for Mitchell where she will enter her father's mercantile as book-keeper.

Editor W. C. Deming of the Cheyenne Tribune, accompanied by Wm. Deneen, a prominent merchant of that place, took dinner at this city last Sunday between trains, on their way to Sheridan.

Miss Letha Watson will depart Monday morning for Kansas City where she will enter the Fisk training school for Deaconesses. Miss Watson will be missed by a large circle of young friends in Alliance.

John A. Wilson returned last Tuesday from a five weeks' trip in the south and at the World's fair. Mr. Wilson's health has not been the best of late and he went to the Arkansas hot springs for treatment. He is feeling much improved as a result and hopes to regain his usual good health as a result of the water applications.

Mrs. J. A. McDonald and Mrs. G. A. Hillebrand who were delegates to the state Young Women's Christian association held at Lincoln last week, were termed "the baby delegates" because of their representing the youngest circle in the state. Mrs. Hillebrand sang a solo which completely captured the convention.

Geo. Douglass, living a few miles east of town, is not only an expert in raising spuds, but he is also a good shot and as a result of his hunting expedition one day last week he came to town with a wagon load of game, which included ducks of all kinds and sizes, grouse, rabbits and other game, enough to supply everyone who fancies wild meat. The load was a fine sight from a hunter's point of view and Mr. Douglass' good luck was the envy of every sportsman that chanced to see it.

The serial story, "Darkest Russia," by the well known author, H. Gratten Donnelly, found its concluding chapter in last week's HERALD. We have had an opportunity during the course of its publication, to realize the worth of the story among our readers, who in several instances wrote to this office for copies which were either lost or mislaid, stating that they were anxious to get the whole story. Now we have secured another interesting serial, which begins in this issue, entitled, "Squire John." This is a tale of the Cuban war and like the story just finished treats of historical facts framed in the best literary style by the well known author, St. George Hathborne. Every subscriber of THE HERALD should read the new story.

The republican rally or rather speech making took place at the opera house last night and THE HERALD is willing to concede that the house was crowded. People came from near and far to hear the speakers propound the doctrine of Hamilton. But when the names of the present national standard bearers of that party were mentioned there was a noticeable lack of strenuous spontaneity of enthusiasm and the principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Horris Brown, candidate for attorney general, felt the disappointment keenly, for he hesitated long in order to allow the audience to give way to an outburst that never bursted. The speaker is an attorney and ducedly clever in proving the merit of his argument. Mr. Brown tried to explain away republican responsibility of the iniquitous revenue law by stating that the fusion legislature under Gov. Povnter failed to rectify the error while in control of the government. But the speaker failed to explain that it was impossible to repeal said law owing to the fact that the railroad lobby, through the republican members and two or three fusion representatives who had been "fixed," blocked all progress. This was the secret of the dilemma that was not explained. Mr. Brown also forgot to explain why the cost of running the state government the last four years was ONE MILLION SIX HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS more than during the previous four years under fusion management. Aside from the usual blessings—good crops and big potatoes grown in western Nebraska as a result of republican rule—there was little said, and Goy, Mickey with all his blemishes was left to fight his own battle in Box Butte.
