A letter from J. B. Gray, who with Sam Albro, the candy man, is up at Sheridan selling goods, states that while they in company with another traveling man were driving over to Buffalo one of the neckyoke straps broke and the team ran away. Gray hung on to the lines for almost two miles when one of them broke. His companions had deserted him at the onset of the runaway and Jim concluded it was time to desert the ship. This he did not do much too soon for the buggy struck a rut and turned completely over smashing things generally. As it was, Mr. Gray was somewhat stove up, but his injuries are slight.

A Brilliant Reception.
 Married—Wednesday, Nov. 9, 1904, at Sweetwater, Neb., Mr. Eldee J. Swanson and Miss Helen Newberg. At home in Alliance after December 1.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hill was beautifully lighted Tuesday evening where a reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Swanson. One corner of the parlor was richly draped with lace curtains underneath which, assisted by Rev. and Mrs. Rav, the newly married couple received the large number of friends present. Ice cream and cake were served in the dining room by Miss Marian Lotspeich and Mrs. L. E. Marks. Mr. and Mrs. Swanson were the recipients of a large framed picture from Geo. Darling, a large picture from the Epworth League, a beautiful rocker from the B. & M. men and a berry set from Mrs. E. J. Hicks and daughters.

Royal Highlanders.
 Mr. W. S. Wollard of York, is in the city to solicit members for Alliance castle of Royal Highlanders. The charter is now open at half rate. There are now 136 members here in good standing, and it is desired to increase the number to 200, and to arrange for the holding weekly meetings, with a "social hour" after each meeting. Both ladies and gentlemen are admitted upon equal terms. The Highlanders now have about one half million dollars deposited with the state of Nebraska to secure its contracts. The rates are fixed and certain and its policies provide protection in case of disability or attaining old age, as well as death, so its members do not "have to die to win." It is a Nebraska organization in which all Nebraskans may well take pride as it already ranks first of all American fraternal societies in amount per capita of reserve funds, as compared with liability, as shown by the report of the Fraternal congress recently held at St. Louis.

That Roosevelt Party was a Grand Success.

Dr. Knight's Roosevelt party, which took place at the opera house Wednesday night in honor of the Business men's club and also to celebrate the recent sweeping political victory, was, as some of the boys who participated, expressed it, "a cracker jack." It was just as sweeping in pleasure as the election was republican. Of the 130 guests present the doctor saw to it that every one enjoyed the occasion. The only thing that bothers us is how Dr. Knight can be a republican when in other respects he is one of the kindest and most genial hearted men we ever met. If he was only a democrat he would be perfect. In fact a model man in every respect. But as to the party he tendered the boys: It was held in the Phelan opera house. The amusement was dancing and cards, with two kinds of punches and light refreshments served in a pleasing manner. The guests irrespective of party lines or political prejudice voted their host a pleasing entertainer. Spacht's orchestra enlivened the occasion with sweet music.

Fifteenth Anniversary.
 Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Moffatt commemorated the fifteenth anniversary of their married life last Tuesday evening by inviting one hundred of their friends to join them in celebrating the event. The social gathering took place at Zbinden's hall and was indeed an affair worthy the honor of these good people. Dancing and cards occupied the pleasant moments of the guests, and delicious refreshments added to the pleasure of the occasion. A number of beautiful presents were presented to the happy couple to commemorate the occasion of their married life with hearty wishes that they may live to enjoy many more anniversaries. Among the presents were a cut-glass water set from the G. R. A., cut-glass berry set from the B. of L. E., cut-glass vase from the Jolly 16 club. The out-of-town guests present were Mrs. W. R. Hitchens, Galesburg, Ill., Miss Carter, Portland, Oregon.

Pleasant Recital and Songs.
 Last Tuesday evening the Ladies' Guild gave a dramatic reading in the spacious parlors of Mrs. Geo. W. Clark's residence, in which Miss Mabel Loukton Carter gave demonstrations of her talent in oratory and expression. She was favored with a large audience and one that expressed its thorough appreciation of her skill as a reader coupled with her rare attainments and charming personality. Miss Carter's selections were from the later poets of the century and her interpretation and rendition admirable. The program was opened with a solo by Mrs. Hillbrand, which was greatly appreciated by all. Miss Carter was introduced to the audience in "Travers' First Hunt," by Richard Harding Davis. His literature is familiar, but those present Tuesday evening were free to admit that they had not known his humor or pungent style until studied through one who has lived in the Davia atmosphere. When she came to Eugene Field in "Good Bye—God Bless You," and "The Night Wind," wider scope for her effort was given. J. Whitcomb Riley's "The Happy Little Cripple" and "She Displeas It," were accurately delivered with reference to the touch of pathos Riley weaves everywhere. "If I Should Die Tonight," by Ben King, was one of those intensely close readings that reach every heart. There were many other selections in which the audience was responsive and the reader strongly applauded. Miss Wilhemine Bohn sang two pleasing vocal solos that were highly appreciated.

Coffee and wafers were served at the close of the program.

Refuse to Pay Their Taxes.
 The much boasted increase in railway taxation, which the republican press pointed to with pride before the election as one of its great acts, has taken a sudden change, now that the election is over. All the roads in the state have announced their intention to refuse to pay the increased taxation in every county in the state and as a result the much boasted increased valuation will not be collected without litigation. In Box Butte county this is no exception. Last Saturday a representative of the B. & M. called on County Treasurer Brennan and presented a check for $7,000 as payment on the assessed taxation of that road for $10,485.25, the balance due amounting to $3,485.25, to be contested in the supreme court. Of course the only alternate for Mr. Brennan was to refuse the proposition. So there you are. The voters can draw their own conclusion as to which party told the truth in the recent campaign. Now what will the outcome be? The republican party has full control of the state government with a governor to back up its proceedings. Will they make the corporations stand by the laws of the state or not? Time will tell. Of course it is now too late to cry over spilt milk, but we'll venture the assertion that more than one voter who cast his ballot for the element that was victorious at the last election will regret it. If the railways succeed in dodging this obligation, it will mean a loss of many thousand dollars in the state treasury. How many individuals could do the like?

Go to the Alliance National Bank to deposit your money. Oct. 7-11.
