Suffered for 10 Years with Backache and Kidney Trouble

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 4, 1903.

Dr. M. M. Fenner, Fredonia, N. Y.

Dear Doctor:—I have suffered for the past ten years with backache and kidney trouble, and have tried a great many of the most prominent physicians in Boston and Omaha and all the patent medicines I heard of in hope of receiving relief.

Finally seeing your ad. I purchased a bottle of your Kidney and Backache Cure

I wish to thank you for the benefit received for after using only two bottles I am entirely cured, having no pain or ache of any kind. Sincerely Yours,

Miss Alice McDonald.

C. A. NEWBERRY.

An Appetizing Dish That is a Favorite in Japan.

Not so well known among the occidentals as soy sauce, but of equal merit as an appetizer, is wasabi. Its use is universal in Japan. It serves the same purpose that horseradish does on occidental tables, but is less acrid.

My own introduction to wasabi was unique. I count among my most pleasing experiences in this sunrise land, my meeting with Tamiyo Yano, novelist and diplomat. And not the least item in my debt of gratitude to him is that he taught me to appreciate my raw fish and wasabi. Mr. Yano has been the mikado's ambassador to China and other lands. One night at the Nippon club he led up to a delicate subject on the menu with much diplomacy. He finally got my assent to the statement that a cosmopolitan appetite is one of the distinguishing marks of cultivated travel. Then he passed me raw fish!

I confessed that I was willing to be a stick in the mud or any other variety of sturion rather than take place with the international elect by eating such a dish. My host, however, was painfully insistent, finally adding that with raw fish they, of course, ate wasabi. Now, I did not have even a vague notion of what this might be, but with that raw proposition before me it was comforting to know that at least it was to be diluted with something. I conjured up an experience in taking castor oil ambushed under sherry and sarsaparilla, which, while not a beverage one would grow to crave, might have been worse. I figured out also that with my gauderies with chopsticks I might manage without exciting suspicion to drop the fish before the fatal moment, and eat only the mysterious wasabi. But whether through cowardice or courage I cannot say, fish and relish made quick and simultaneous journey to my reluctant palate, and in the never to be forgotten instant there flashed into my consciousness the undeniable truth that in all my occidental years I had been denied one of the most savory dishes in the world. Charles Lamb's Chinaman had jubilant delight over his first taste of roast pig, but that is a degraded passion compared with an Anglo-Saxon's initial ecstasy over an oriental morsel of raw nansu garnished with the appetizing roots of Eutrema wasabi. All honor to triumphant agricultural Japan, and may this far eastern member of the mustard family take deep root and spread and flourish in my native land!—Harold Boice in Booklovers' Magazine.

Field Arrived.

After Eugene Field's return from his first trip to Europe, where he "spent his patrimony like a prince," and before he went to Denver, he had a little close personal experience with hard times. One day he walked into a leading St. Louis hotel and, squaring himself before the register, inscribed his name in his well known copperplate chirography. The clerk had never heard of him, but he read the name with a quick glance and said: "Do you wish a room, Mr. Field?" "No," was the answer. "Dinner?" "No." "Then may I ask what you do want?" continued the clerk. "I just wanted to arrive," replied Field solemnly. "I had not arrived at a good hotel for many months. I feel better. Thank you," and he stalked out with long, heavy strides.

Flamingoes.

A writer on flamingoes, which he has studied in their haunts in the Bahamas, says of them: "They are probably as near to the geese as to any other order of birds, having a similar structure of bill and feet and somewhat similar feather character. They are unique, however, in their curiously bent bill, which, though goose-like in general economy, is constructed in every detail upside down, as the bird in feeding reaches down to the bottom and places the top of the bill down. The tongue is also constructed in the same inverted way. The webbed feet are for sustaining the birds in the soft ooze they love to feed in, acting like snow shoes."

Wanted New Habits.

Sad Looking Man—I see you have a sign out, "Maker of Women's Habits." Do you mean it? Ladies' Tailor—Certainly I do. Sad Looking Man—Well, since my wife's been going to the club she's lost all the good ones she had, and I wish you'd make her a complete new set regardless of expense. And please include the habit of staying at home once in awhile and mending my clothes.

Practical Financiering.

Raynor—There's a dangerous new counterfeit five dollar bill announced. Better look through your roll and see if you have one of 'em. Shaper—Not much! I'll look at every five dollar bill I take in, though, you can bet Chicago Tribune.

School Report.

To the Board of Education and patrons of the Alliance City schools:

Find herewith appended a partial list for the month ending November 25, 1904. Total number of pupils enrolled this month 741. Number of boys 387. Number of girls 354. Total enrolled to date 736. Average daily attendance 672.52. Average number belonging 596.15. Per cent. of daily attendance 92.65. Number of tardies 23. Per cent. of punctuality 99.09. Neither absent nor tardy for the month 425. Neither absent nor tardy to date 213. Number present every day 310. Number of visitors 49. Minutes lost by tardies 96. Teachers tardy at school 1. Teachers absent at Teacher's Meeting 2. Teachers absent with substitute half days 20. Teachers absent from teachers' meetings 1. Teachers' visits to patrons 16.

The second room in the Emerson building secured the flag this month. The following rooms were perfect in punctuality: In the Emerson, room two; in the central, second primary, third primary, third grade, fourth grade fifth grade, sixth grade, eighth grade, and high school. The total enrollment to date is just one greater than it was for corresponding time last year, and the per cent. of attendance is one better than that of last year.

It is the intention of the schools to have a public exhibit of the work of the different rooms about the last of February or the fore part of March.

Respectfully submitted, W. H. BARTZ, Superintendent.

Use New York Drafts

To Send Money Anywhere.

They are cheaper, as safe, and better than any other method of sending money. Mail order houses always want NEW YORK drafts. They are better than money to them as their banks will issue them drafts free to an amount equal to the New York drafts they deposit.

The reason some houses do not want drafts is that many banks write them a draft on some other city than New York and it costs them to collect it. There is no charge anywhere on a New York draft and we always issue them when the money is to go out of the state.

They are cheaper than any other way of sending money. They cost:

Under $5.00, 3c. Under $15.00, 5c. Under $100.00, 10c. Over $100.00, 10c. per $100.00.

We also send small sums to any country in Europe direct and issue drafts in large amounts.

We sell traveler's checks good anywhere without identification.
