To Build Hospital.

At a public meeting held at the Commercial Club rooms last night, the subject of a new city hospital was discussed very thoroughly. The final result arrived at was that a building costing not less than $8,000.00 should be built. The election by ballot of a committee of nine representative citizens who will have charge of the collecting of funds, securing a site, the building and furnishing a building and to provide for its maintenance, resulted in the election of the following: C. A. Newberry, W. S. Raker, Dr. H. H. Bellwood, Dr. B. W. Bowman, W. W. Norton, S. K. Warrick, Geo. W. Clark, B. F. Galvin and Prof. W. H. Bartz. The committee elected Dr. Bellwood as president and Prof. Bartz secretary. Newberry and Clark were appointed to secure a suitable location. The next meeting of the hospital association will be held next Wednesday evening at the commercial club rooms.

The funds for the hospital will be secured by public subscription and already one man has agreed to give $500, and furnish a room, another man agreed to give a sum equal to his taxes last year. It was found that his taxes last year were more than $600. The county will doubtless help with a handsome donation and so would the city, and with the contribution of a few more public spirited citizens like those already mentioned, the thing is done.

If the committee don't see you go and see them and tell them how much you will give to help this worthy enterprise along.

Enroute to the Inauguration.

A contingent of cow boys and old-time frontiersmen passed through the city Monday night on their way to Washington, where they will take part in the inaugural doings of President Roosevelt, which will be of unusual splendor. The unique feature of the display will be the presence of some of the most noted characters of the west, including well-known cowboys, Indians, scouts and characters that assisted in making the west notorious in American history. Seth Bullock, the personal friend of Theodore Roosevelt, has charge of this party and will see to it that the wild west part of the program is conducted in a most interesting manner. He is already in Washington and his special features are fast arriving. Among the Bullock bunch are such well known frontier characters as Frank Smith an old government Indian scout and Captain Willard, another old-time scout and Indian fighter. This troop numbers fifty men, all cowboys and western men and in the parade will ride their own border horses, and will wear "chaps" blue shirts and sombreros, in addition to their ropes, six shooters and slickers. The appearance of a battalion of cowboys will be an innovation at an inaugural parade and add not a little to its interesting and picturesque character.

James C. Dahlman, cowboy, former sheriff of Dawes county, Nebraska, democratic national committeeman from this state and chief flegleman for William Jennings Bryan, has gone to Washington and will ride in the Roosevelt parade.

Mr. Dahlman will be part of the cowboys' outfit provided by the president's personal friend, Seth Bullock of South Dakota. To Mr. Dahlman was entrusted the securing of the finest horses in the trans-Missouri country to carry thirty representative cowboys, who will act as a personal escort to the president, and "Jim" Dahlman, philosopher, friend and guide of Mr. Bryan, will be in the vanguard of the procession.

Will Give An Exhibit.

The Alliance public school scholars have arranged to give an exhibition of their studies at the city hall tomorrow and Saturday afternoon and evening. Each scholar will contribute one page or lesson of each of their studies, and the collection of all the work so exhibited will be put in book form and preserved. As this exhibition is of interest to all, it is expected that all who can will call and inspect the work. No admission will be asked, and the effort of the teachers and their pupils is wholly in the interest of education. A musical program will be another pleasing feature of the occasion. The music will be furnished by the high school orchestra.

Gleason's Place Robbed.

Friday night or early Saturday morning Gleason's confectionery store was broken into, the back door was pried open and the lock on the middle door was broken. The work shows the car marks of a professional. The slot machine was broken open and the contents, about $50, in nickles was taken out. The cigar case was rifled of about $10, worth of cigars and about the same value in pipes was taken. No clue to the perpetrators has as yet been found.

Another Coon Caught.

Nigger Payne was captured by Policeman Cardwell Friday night and landed in the "jug" to keep company with Sanford Smith for the Beckwith store robbery last week. Payne was wearing more new clothes than Cardwell thought he owned and pinched him. Payne confessed to having helped do the job at "The Right" store, and told where the balance of the plunder was, which Cardwell found. This makes a clean case and Payne will probably change his residence as soon as Judge Westover arrives. This makes five candidates for the pen that have fallen into the meshes of Detective Cardwell's drag net, and four of them are "coons." As a remover of obnoxious characters he beats Mayor Bowman. Let the good work go on.

A Tale of the Flue.

A promising young writer in an adjoining state, who at one time made Alliance his home, recently indulged in the following poetical effusion anent the mountain range:

POOR STOVE.
May seem strange,
But it's very true,
A mountain range
Hasn't any flue.

Now this young poet, with ambition bent,
One day to the mountains flew,
He dreamed of wealth in development
And swore he'd never feel blue.
But soon his nerve melted away like glue,
Sweet songs he no longer could sing,
His throat was choked like a chimney flue,
And he cried for his granddaddy's apron-string.

F. L. Crone, the popular Burlington cattle inspector, passed through the city on 41 last Monday and we are informed he will soon take up his residence in Alliance, as representative of the company here.

Teachers' Meeting Saturday.

Last Saturday the teachers of Alliance and the county met in the High school building for a union meeting, which was very interesting not only to the teachers but to the many visitors present. The program was of exceptional merit, all whose names appeared being present and ready to take part. The musical numbers were greatly enjoyed, the High School orchestra furnished three pieces, rendered with splendid expression and finish. The song by C. A. Wood was given in his usual pleasing manner making an encore necessary. A number of little boys from the third primary sang a dutch song that brought forth merited applause, and the violin solo by Miss Bartz was a treat to all lovers of music. The papers were excellent. A. J. Macy, L. S. Baker and Miss Alexander treating the different subjects to which they were assigned in a comprehensive manner, the same being ably discussed by G. M. Burns, Miss Van-Boskirk, Miss Warren and several others in general discussion.

These meetings are of great value to the teachers and the interest taken is a good indication of up-to-date, earnest workers.

Her Reason Dethroned.

Mrs. Tom Buttler, whose husband is associated with the D. J. Burke grading outfit of the Burlington, began to show symptoms of mental troubles last week, which grew worse and Monday it was found necessary to take her to the hospital for the insane at Lincoln. Sheriff Reed took the unfortunate woman there Tuesday morning. The circumstances surrounding Mrs. Buttler's condition are pathetic. Only a short time since she gave birth to a baby and since then her mental condition has been very frail. She appeared to realize that her mind was affected, but tried to ward off anything of so serious a nature as finally resulted. There is no doubt, with the special treatment she will receive at the hospital, Mrs. Butler will soon be restored to health.

The infant of the unfortunate woman is being taken care of by Mrs. Tom Lunn, who has shown every kindness during the serious trials of Mr. and Mrs. Butler.

Inaugural Reception.

A most unique and pleasant inaugural reception was given by Miss Van-Boskirk and Catherine Duffell last night for the lady teachers. Gentlemen were barred, doubtless for the reason that the affair was a full dress character function. Miss VanBoskirk represented Teddy, breeches, eye glasses, teeth and all, while Miss Bohn represented Fairbanks in one of Ed Reardon's uniforms, where she got the chin whiskers was not revealed. County superintendent Leora Rustin wore the ermine of the chief justice and administered the oath of office. The only thing to mar the pleasure of the solemn occasion was when the telephone rang in the midst of the ceremony and Reardon wanted his clothes that Miss Bohn had stolen and was wearing. Ed had a hurry order to go to Newcastle and had telephoned his mother to pack that particular suit. He went without as the ceremony could not stop at that stage.

Runaway Boys Located.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wehn have been scouring the country the past week to get trace of their runaway son aged fifteen who skipped out with a lad named Zediker about his own age. The lads had about three dollars when they left and Mrs. Wehn has been almost frantic until the lads were located in Rawlins yesterday. No reason was assigned for their leaving except a boyish escapade.

If you miss the Isham horse sale Saturday you lose a chance to buy one of the best draft horses ever brought to Alliance.

IRRIGATED FARMS

We have for sale some very fine irrigated lands in the Big Horn Valley of Wyoming, along the line of the Burlington Railroad. Irrigated farming is as sure and the returns are as regular as the interest on Government bonds—only several times as large. These lands are sure to double in value inside of two years. The Big Horn Valley has no cyclones nor floods; alfalfa hay averages five to seven tons per acre; wheat from thirty to sixty bushels; oats, sixty to ninety; potatoes, three hundred to seven hundred; corn, thirty to sixty bushels.

Good Crops Every Year Without Exception

We want to get you interested in irrigated farming and we would like to take you to look at this land. Don't let this grand opportunity to acquire a choice irrigated farm pass by without taking advantage of it. The price of this land will undoubtedly advance within a few months, and the terms now are but 1-3 down, the balance in small yearly payments. Water rights perpetual. Our foulder describing the locality, its climate, its soil, its grand water courses and its immense irrigation enterprises is free for the asking. It will pay you to look into this.
