

FAMOUS ATHLETES PAY GLOWING TRIBUTE TO PE-RU-NA

As a Spring Tonic to Get the System In Good Shape.

"I advise all athletes who are about to go in training to try a bottle of Pe-ru-na."
—J. W. Glenister.

John Glenister, Champion Swimmer and Only Athlete to Successfully Swim Through the Michigan Whirlpool Rapids.

PE-RU-NA

Renovates, Regulates, Restores a System Depleted by Catarrh.

John W. Glenister, of Providence, R. I., champion long distance swimmer of America, has performed notable feats in this country and England. He has used Peruna as a tonic and gives his opinion of it in the following letter:

New York.
The Peruna Medicine Company,
Columbus, Ohio:
Gentlemen—"This spring for the first time I have taken two bottles of Peruna, and as it has done me a great deal of good, I feel as if I ought to say a good word for its worth."

"During the springtime for the last few years, I have taken several kinds of spring tonics, and have never received any benefit whatever. This year, through the advice of a friend, I have tried Peruna and it has given satisfaction."

"I advise all athletes who are about to go in training to try a bottle, for it certainly gets the system in good shape." Yours truly,
JOHN W. GLENISTER.

ATHLETES realize the importance of keeping in good bodily trim.

The digestion must be good, the circulation perfect, sleep regular and enough of it.

If the slightest catarrhal condition of lungs or stomach is allowed to remain, neither digestion nor sleep will be strength-sustaining.

Those who lead very active lives, like athletes, with good muscular development, find the spring months especially trying.

Athletes everywhere praise Peruna because they, of all men, appreciate the value of a tonic that dispels physical depression.

The vacation of some men may allow them to endure the depressing feelings incident to spring weather, but the athlete must never allow himself to get "under the weather."

He must keep in the "pink of condition" all the time.

In order to do this he must avail himself of a spring tonic upon which he can rely.

Therefore athletes are especially friendly toward Peruna. Peruna never fails them.

MONEY IN BUNDLES

Nicaragua Currency Plentiful If Not Valuable.

Bills by the Handfuls Handed Out to Visitor in Chicago for a $20 Gold Piece—Prices to Stagger the Uninitiated.

The Very Rev. Dean Harris tells of the peculiar money scale of Nicaragua. When the civil war in the United States was drawing to an end, Confederate bills were worth from five to ten cents a dollar, he writes. It meant to the public that all hope for Southern currency ever being redeemed was practically dead. When I visited the large markets in this city the amount of money and the figures on the bank bills surprised me.

Bills of big denominations were passing from buyer to seller, from hand to hand, and no change asked or given. I began to inquire the prices ruling the stalls.

"Quinto vale"—how much, I said, pointing to the measure of potatoes. "Six dollars," the woman in the stall answered.

"For all?"

"O, no, señor, for a litro"—a quart. The price staggered me. Rice was $5 a pound, onions four, flour $6 a quart, and everything else in proportion. We pay our butchers a pretty stiff price for meat in Toronto, but compared with prices here, it is ridiculously cheap. A sirloin steak at the Leon market costs $19 per pound, and a turkey $160. But everyone carries piles of bills here; their pockets are bulging with them.

While in the market I frequently saw the vendors of fruit pull from their pockets rolls of bills as large and round as a stein, and begin to count off wads of twenties and fifties. I marvelled at their wealth. Among the farmers, it is said that money is so plentiful that it is kept in large boxes. Silver is rarely seen, and small coins are unknown.

The small farmers and peons of the surrounding country when they come here to buy carry their money in small bags or baskets. My bill at the restaurant for dinner was $200, and a Panama hat cost me $600. For a carriage for one hour I was asked, and paid, $30; and so for anything else in proportion.

I have not yet paid my hotel account, but I expect to be asked, and to pay, $3,000. All this would have been heart-breaking if I had not called at the bank on my arrival here. For a $20 gold piece I asked for change in the currency of the country. The teller looked at my gold coin, weighed it in his hand, put it to one side, and began carelessly counting bills with the rapidity for which these young men all over the world are famous.

I waited patiently, watching rolls pile up, and hoping when he was through he'd attend to me. You can't hurry cashiers, so I sat down until he got through. Now, I thought, he'll count me out change. Presently, he opened the hinged wicket, called me over, and said politely in Spanish: "Your change, señor!" "How much, sir?" I asked him. "Two thousand dollars, sir." I borrowed from him a newspaper, rolled up my money, and went to my hotel.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Cupid, Recruiting Sergeant.
"Cupid is one of the best recruiting officers that Uncle Sam has," confided one of the sergeants attached to recruiting headquarters to a reporter the other day.

"Back of nearly every enlistment there is a woman in the case. Lovers' quarrels chase a lot of fine lads into the service. Your romantic youth goes into the recruiting office after a serious break with his sweetheart as naturally as a duck takes to water."

"It seems to him the most fitting way in which to sacrifice himself when love's young dream is apparently dispelled. Way down in his heart he nurses the idea of making his erstwhile innamorata sad, and it's the army or navy, with the possibility of death in battle, for him."

"Again, other first-class material is recruited by the desire of young fellows to sport a uniform before their girls. In such cases Cupid does his recruiting through vanity. But in both ways he manages to fill up big gaps in the ranks of Uncle Sam's fighters."—Boston Post.

A Fine Variety.
"I was eating my supper the other evening in a little Kentucky hotel," said A. B. Conway, at the Willard hotel last night, "when a neatly dressed country girl, who was waiting on the table, came up and asked if I would have dessert. I inquired what kind of dessert she had, and she replied: "We have pie."
"You may bring me a piece of pie," I said, and she inquired:
"What kind do you want?"
"What kinds have you?"
"We have three kinds—open-top, cross-barred and kivered, but they are all apple," she said, apparently very proud of having so wide a variety for me to select from."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Lawyer's Ready Retort.
The successful lawyer is generally prompt with a retort. For instance, a multimillionaire in New York protested against a bill for $500,000 put in by his lawyer for services rendered, but the lawyer insisted that the bill was reasonable.
"Well, I suppose I will have to pay, but you'll never get any more of my work," said the angry client.
"I'll never need any more if you pay," was the reply.

Unflattering.

Down at the Dyker Meadow Golf club one day this week was told a story of an old time caddy. A certain member remarked to the carrier: "Sandy, I am playing against ———. How does he play?" "Canna play for aits," stolidly answered Sandy. "How many strokes can I give him?" cheerfully persisted the player. "Ye canna gie him ony!" was the laconic response.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Where Polly Drew the Line.

While out for a walk one bright summer morning a well-known Chicago divine passed a house where a parrot's cage was hanging in the sunshine. Noticing the bird, in his usual mild, even tones the minister said: "Good morning, Polly." To his amazement the parrot answered: "Well, good morning, but for heaven's sake don't ask me if I want a cracker!"

ECZEMA FOR TWO YEARS.

Little Girl's Awful Suffering With Terrible Skin Humor—Sleepless Nights for Mother—Speedy Cure by Cuticura.

"My little girl had been suffering for two years from eczema, and during that time I could not get a night's sleep, as her ailment was very severe. I had tried so many remedies, deriving no benefit, I had given up all hope. But as a last resort I was persuaded to try Cuticura, and one box of the Ointment and two bottles of the Resolvent, together with the Soap, effected a permanent cure.—Mrs. I. B. Jones, Addington, Ind. T."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

FOUL BREATH.

Foul breath is caused by foul stomach attended with torpid liver, bitter or bad taste, furrowed tongue, loss of, or irregular appetite, heavy or full bloated feeling in stomach, "water brash," or sour eructations of gas, sick or bilious headaches, disposition to drowsiness, or "the blues," irritable temper or peevishness and kindred symptoms. Not all of these symptoms are present in every case.

To tone up and invigorate both stomach and liver and start the digestive processes into healthy action, there is, to say the least, no superior agent to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is prepared without the use of a particle of alcohol, from the active medicinal principles extracted from the roots of native American plants, and is an honestly made, safe medicine that any one may take without fear of forming an appetite for stimulants. Its benefits and cures are lasting and not simply the temporary exhilaration sometimes experienced from strong alcoholic preparations.

No man is stronger than his stomach, therefore, when the stomach is weak it should be promptly toned up and put in order to the end that it may properly digest and prepare for proper assimilation the food which otherwise can not strengthen the body. You cannot find a medicine that will do this more promptly and permanently than "Golden Medical Discovery." A whole train of bodily ailments result when the stomach becomes weak, torpid and weak, and, naturally enough, when the stomach trouble is cured they, being dependent thereon, disappear; hence it is that rheumatism, blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous sores, kidney affections and various and diverse appearing maladies yield to the potent tonic and alterative properties of the "Golden Medical Discovery." Bear in mind that the "Discovery" is an active, potent medicine and not a beverage to be taken for its exhilarating effects. It is made to cure disease, not to appease a craving for stimulants.

Do not be wheedled or over-persuaded into taking something else which may be said to be "just as good." Take only "Golden Medical Discovery" which has more than a third of a century's record embracing many thousands of well-attested cures. As it has cured thousands

It is likely to cure you, if you give it fair trial for any of the maladies for which we recommend it.

After Physicians Fail "Discovery" Cures.

Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—About two years ago I had an attack of grippe which left me in a very weakened condition. My stomach was in bad shape; could not eat a meal without being greatly distressed, and the taking of food was frequently followed by vomiting or looseness of bowels. Had headache and catarrhal troubles. Had a physician but he did not help me. After I had been suffering like this for some time, a man who had used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, told me about the medicine and I procured a bottle of it. I felt a slight improvement by the time I had used the first bottle, so continued the use of the "Discovery" for several weeks until I was myself again. It is an excellent preparation and I am glad to tell how good it is. THOMAS W. SPILLERMAN, 511-513 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y. (Manager of the Enterprise Millinery.)

Malaria and Liver Trouble Cured.

Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I was a victim of malaria so common in the South and also had liver trouble. Doctored for some time but my condition continued to grow worse and I began to despair of recovery. Finally Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended and I am happy to say that a course of treatment with this remedy was most effectual. I soon began to improve, appetite returned, my complexion became clear and bright. I regained my good spirits and was soon restored to health. I cannot say enough in favor of your medicine. Yours truly, MISS LUCILLE DEVAL, 2025 St. Charles Ave., New Orleans, La.
