C. D. Romero at Bridgeport, all gold, the Alliance National Bank sold a draft for $250 to a stranger, who paid for it in gold. The Alliance National notified their eastern correspondent to wire them as soon as the draft was paid. It showed up at Buffalo, N. Y., April 15 and Clyde Spanogle, of the Bridgeport bank was sent there at once and in a few days had identified the forger and had him arrested. Lee will return with his man this week and he will be prosecuted for forgery.

Father Galvin's Departure.

A large delegation of Father Galvin's parishioners called upon him at his parish home last Monday evening to bid him God speed as he was about ready to leave for his new mission at Spaulding.
In behalf of those who wished to show their hearty appreciation of the worthy pastor, Mr. F. M. Broome in a terse speech, presented Father Galvin with a purse containing the sum of $100. In responding to Mr.
Broome's words of appreciation, the recipient, in words which plainly betrayed the emotion of his heart, thanked not only those present but the entire flock over whom he presided the past five years, stating that while he must obey the dictates of his superior in this change of location he could say that the years spent in Alliance were the happiest of those experienced since his residence in America. THE HER-ALD wishes to join with the good people of Father Galvin's acquaintance in this community in wishing him every blessing in his new home, for which he departed Tuesday night.

ELKS AND KNIGHTS

Organize with Grand Display and Interesting Social Function—Two Great Days in Alliance.

Every incoming train, Saturday, brought delegations of Elks to attend the installation of the new Alliance lodge of Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, until some 40 visitors were present. From Omaha came District Deputy W. Beech Taylor, through whom the dispensation for a charter was secured, with him came Frank A.
Furay, secretary, of the Omaha order.
From Grand Island came a delegation of ten, who conducted the initiation.
Forty-seven of Alliance's best citizens formed the charter list and all were inducted into the mysteries of the order.
The handsome quarters of the club, the entire second floor of the Zbinden block had been fitted up for the occasion. Furniture, elaborate chandeliers and handsome and commodious quarters, all added to the pleasure of the occasion, and the new Elks have reason to feel proud of their quarters and the auspicious opening of their new home.

The town was gaily attired in handsome decorations, all purple and white, in honor of the order, and the visitors vied with each other in paying complement to the handsome decorations.

The officers elect are:
Wm. Mitchell.....Exalted Ruler
Dr. J. E. Moore.....Leading Knight
Dr. H. H. Bellwood.....Loyal Knight
Samuel M. Smyser.....Lecturing Knight
Thomas J. O'Keefe.....Secretary
Nelson Fletcher.....Treasurer
Dr. T. Allen.....Trustee Marcus Frankle.....Trustee Joe Vaughn.....Trustee
H. K. Schaars.....Tiler
W. O. Barnes.....Esquire

After the initiatory service they repaired to the Charters hotel where an elegant luncheon had been prepared under the direction of Caterer Fred Nyé. The dining room was handsomely decorated in honor of the occasion and one hundred guests never sat down to a more satisfactory banquet. Exalted Ruler Mitchell presided as toast master and toasts were responded to by District Deputy Taylor, Frank Furay, of Omaha, W. H. Harrison, of Grand Island, R. J. Barr, Exalted Ruler, of Grand Island, Ed Brown Dr.
Riley, Mayor Buechsenstein, S. M.
Smyser, W. S. Raker Nelson Fletcher and Gene Parks.

It was an occasion long to be remembered. The Grand Island and Omaha visitors returned on 42 Sunday morning, all voting Alliance the best town on the map.

Knights Here in Force.

The organization of a council of the Knights of Columbus last Sunday, at the Elks' hall, proved to be one of the most interesting fraternal doings ever held in the city. Preparation for this event have been pursued for several weeks and the representation from all parts of the surrounding country indicated conclusively that a deep interest was taken. The new council is known as Alliance council, No. 975 Knights of Columbus. The work consisted of three degrees, the first two of which were put on by the O'Neill team and the third by the Omaha delegation.
About fifty candidates were initiated.
By members of the order who have attended other affairs of this kind it was said that the initiation Sunday was the best they had ever witnessed.
The work was executed without a hitch and the secret rites were most effective.
There was surely something decidedly interesting and enlivening to the whole affair, judging from the happy faces after the work was completed. The candidates gather in little knots here and there and almost go into spasms laughing about something no one knows but themselves.

The first order of the day's doings was in the forming of a line of march Sunday morning at 9:30, at the Elks' hall, by the Knights and candidates and marching to the Holy Rosary church, where they attended solemn high mass offered up by Rev. Father Cassidy, of O'Neill. After the mass, Rev. Father Galvin addressed the assembly and dwelt most earnestly on the occasion and the obligations which the new members were about to assume. He reminded them that the one great feature of the order was charity and that if there was one among them that could not forgive his brother or forgive his neighbor, that man had better withdraw from admission to the order at once. This is an order founded upon charity and brotherly love only.

After the initiatory work was completed, which, by the way, took from 2 in the afternoon till 10 at night, the members repaired to the opera house, where the ladies of the Holy Rosary church had prepared a fine banquet for the Knights. The interior of the hall was handsomely decorated with the colors of the order—purple and white—and the tables were adorned with elangant ware and beautiful flowers. As the great crowd of manly Knights filed into the room and took their seats, the scene was one we believe rarely equalled in Alliance. Neat menu cards were placed at each plate, and it was not long before the hungry guests, who had fasted so long, were actively engaged in satisfying the inner man. An orchestra on the stage added to the enchantment of the occasion and the musical renditions were indeed pleasing. After the banquet had been given due consideration, cigars were passed, and the evening's pleasure was concluded by listening to toasts from the various speakers. J. B. Kennedy acted as toastmaster and the following gentlemen responded:

"The Knights of Columbus"— C. J. Smyth, Omaha, Neb.
"American Citizenship and Catholicity"—A. F. Mullen, O'Neill, Neb.
"What shall we do for the young men?"—Rev. Father Daley, Merna,
